Drought broken

There were jubilant scenes at Nangwarry Football Club when the Saints claimed a 10-point win over Tantanoola to end a winless drought which extended back to July 2014.

Benjamin Deamer is pictured in an embrace by Trent Badman amidst the chaos of the celebrations which occurred just moments after the final siren went.

The Saints' faithful stormed the field to join in the celebrations with the players on the field where emotions ran high.

Penola Pennant journalist and photographer, Lachlan Onions, was on the scene for the game which will go down in South Australian footballing history.

Rail trail cost up

The 30km Penola/Coonawarra Rail Trail may have to be shortened with the $2m project facing unexpected cost pressures.

Predominately funded by the Federal Government, the project is being undertaken by the Wattle Range Council and is about 60 per cent complete after construction began last year.

A report compiled by council officers, tabled at council's monthly meeting last week, outlined more than $140,000 in invoices for unplanned required works, and more invoices were expected but had not been received and therefore were not detailed in the report.

At the council meeting, Cr Dale Price, in addressing the council report, noted that there were a number of issues and additional costs associated with the rail trail.

"Can we shorten it to keep it in budget?" he asked of council officers.

Council's Director of Engineering Services, Peter Halton replied to Cr Price saying that officers were reviewing project costings and would provide a report on available options to council's July meeting.

"That [shortening the rail trail] may be a possibility," he said in reply to Cr Price.

The report to council last week said officers were concerned about a number of necessary variations impacting on the rail trail's budget.

"These variations are civil works that were unknown during the concept design phase and have become known and were necessary to be implemented during the construction phase of the project," read the report.

The report provided several examples of unplanned costs.

"The gravel truck drivers were finding it challenging to drive their trucks in reverse direction for long distances on the railway tracks; there were instances of trucks sliding on embankments along the railway corridor," said the report.

"To alleviate this safety risk, a decision was made to build access ramps at strategic locations along the railway tracks.

"The benefit of retaining these access ramps without demolishing them on completion of the project is that they can be used by council to move maintenance machineries on the rail trail when it is in operation."

Upgrade for town toilets

By Kathy Fennell

The toilet block in the Penola Park could be upgraded with Wattle Range Council committing funds for the project in its draft budget for next financial year.

Released for public comment recently, the draft budget includes $150,000 towards the upgrade which will include a full interior refurbishment of the the male and female toilets.

The old plumbing in the toilets will also be completely replaced.

Council's Director of Engineering Services, Peter Halton said: "The male toilets are in desperate need of an upgrade and the urinals that currently exist will be replaced with cubicles.

"The toilet block upgrade will be made more appealing for families with a different access being made available.

"Urinals are extremely difficult to manage and very hard to clean and in this day and age with different genders cubicles must be included in the toilet," he said.

Visiting Penola from Robe, the Longbottom family said: "We always use the toilets in the park and they are always very clean and tidy and with a wider self locking door now installed it has stopped all the leaves from blowing in.

"We travel quite a bit and they are far superior to others we use and look forward to seeing what the upgrade will entail," they said.

Also in the draft budget, a total of $50,000 has been allocated to upgrade the water sprinklers in the Penola War Memorial Park.

The pop up sprinklers will be changed to a sub surface irrigation system.

The water supply has been moved from a pump/bore at the Penola swimming pool due to not being suitable for the system.

A new bore was put down in the park, however the water quality has been a problem with damage being done to the War Memorial and a wall of the existing toilets caused by the spraying sprinklers.

Mr Halton said: "This system will alleviate this problem as there won't be any spraying sprinklers."

Public comment on the draft budget is open until early July.

Written submissions close on July 1, and a public meeting, where verbal submissions on the draft budget can be made, is expected to be held at Millicent's Civic and Arts Centre on July 5.

Maaoupe phone tower

Member for MacKillop, Nick McBride has welcomed a financial commitment from Wattle Range Council towards the proposed provision of a usable mobile phone tower at Maaoupe near Penola.

In its 2022/23 draft budget which is expected to be adopted next month, council has committed $55,000 towards a new phone tower at Maaoupe and the funds have the potential to provide leverage towards efforts to secure further funding from telcos and other levels of government for the project estimated to cost $600,000.

The Penola Pennant reported on this matter last week and sought comment from telcos and Mr McBride on the issue.

Statements from Mr McBride and Optus were provided after the newspaper's print deadline had passed so are instead included here.

In his statement, Mr McBride praised the community and council for their efforts towards the project so far.

"The community of Maaoupe are to be congratulated for their proactive and constructive approach to seek better mobile phone coverage for their area," Mr McBride said.

"I was pleased to meet with a concerned group of locals from this area last year who have been lobbying for investment in better mobile service.

"There is no doubt that the lack of mobile

Maaoupe Phone Tower Committee members Christie Gapp and Ian Mulligan at the disused police phone tower on V&A Lane.

phone coverage across this area is impeding business and is a safety risk.

"To address mobile black spots in this area, advice from Telstra has been that multiple towers are needed in the area between Maaoupe to Mount Burr, including the Furner area and across to Kangaroo Inn.

"The commitment from the Wattle Range Council is a testament to their commitment to assist their rate payers to access mobile phone services that are taken for granted by many.

"The traditional funding model for mobile black spot funding is shifting, with all levels of Government and stakeholder investment coming forward in an effort to tackle this significant issue for our communities," Mr McBride said.

"I will continue to advocate for investment in the Maaoupe area and more broadly in priority areas across the electorate."

A statement from Optus said the company had no current plans for another tower in the area. "Optus is constantly improving our network, and continue to offer our customers competition and choice across Australia," said the statement from an Optus spokesperson.

"Maaoupe is supported by the Optus' network.

"Optus has no current plans to construct another tower in the area, but we look forward to participating in the governments' future black spot funding rounds."

The commitment from council in its draft budget for next year follows a deputation made to council by the Maaoupe Phone Tower Committee earlier this year.

The committee have identified a phone tower, built by SA Police at Maaoupe after Ash Wednesday in 1983 but never used, may be part of the project to provide mobile phone coverage to the area and stated last week that the next step was to approach state and federal government and Optus.

Town Square sculpture fund near halfway

By Kathy Fennell

Pledging of donations for the 'Generosity of Spirit' sculpture in Penola Town Square has reached the half way mark of the full amount required of $39,375.

The planned sculpture will be a tribute to women who have shaped the Penola and Coonawarra community through their generosity of spirit and supported the generations of women who have followed them.

The proposed sculpture depicts a woman standing strong and proud in her work boots holding a young girl high in the air.

Penola Town Square committee person, Anne Johnson said: "We are overwhelmed with the amount of money that has been donated in the first two months however it is an early road yet."

So far there are 11 individuals and groups which have donated $1,000 each, in addition to two major benefactors.

People who choose to donate between $2,000 and $5,000 will be acknowledged as a major benefactor with their name or organisation's name inscribed on a plaque near the sculpture.

Alternatively you can pay tribute with a donation of $1,000 or more.

The sculptor commissioned to make the sculpture is Adelaide based Gerry McMahon who has created major commissioned sculptures in public spaces throughout South

Sculptor Gerry McMahon with one of his Corten Steel sculptures. He will be creating the 'Generosity of Spirit' sculpture for Penola Town Square when the funding target is reached.

Australia and beyond.

His specialty is creating sculptures from Corten steel, the same material that has been used for the entrance panels to the town square.

The town square committee has partnered with the Stand Like Stone Foundation and all donations are tax deductible.

Once the total funds have been raised it will take between six to 12 months for the sculpture to be made.

Further information is available from Penola Town Square committee president, Catherine Robertson 0413 548 281, Anne Johnson 0419 770 522 or Doug Balnaves 0428 849 679.

Rail project reviewed to meet costs

The report said that, after a number of residents along the railway land on Clarke Street in Penola expressed concerns regarding their privacy and security due to the construction of rail trail adjacent to their property, council officers developed options including building diversions from the rail tracks and planting trees and shrubs.

Other challenges evolved due to the twisted and uneven level of the railway lines on which the trail is being constructed requiring extra materials and work.

"By covering the rail tracks, a number of safety and quality concerns the community had raised with the council have been alleviated," read the report.

"Although these variations provide a better outcome for the users of the rail trail, there is a trade-off between the costs and benefits."

Fundraising fun: Event organisers Marnie Jolly and Kate Nowak with volunteer Heidi Ellis.

Taking the plunge: Deon Chester dons opposition colours to take the plunge in front of a large crowd.

Freezing for good cause

By Caroline Hammat

Sporting opponents, Hatherleigh and Mount Burr, came together on Saturday to raise over $23,000 for Motor Neurone Disease (MND) for Fight MND during their annual Big Freeze campaign.

For at least five years Kate Nowak has been raising funds for MND research but this year was the first time with support from the Hatherleigh Football Netball Club (HFNC) they secured a dunking tank and 11 willing participants to take the plunge.

Ms Nowak and Marnie Jolly were the drivers behind the event and spoke highly of the participants who did not hesitate to get involved when asked with Mount Burr supplying three victims to dunk into the icy water.

With Ms Nowak's father, Reg Hamilton, living with MND she explained "I raise money because dad's got slow MND; I think that raising money makes us feel like we can do something for research and basically trying to find a cure.

"We have been selling beanies for MND and this year we decided to do the dunk tank."

Although the dunking tank was generously loaned for the event, HFNC is planning to get one made for the annual fundraiser.

Mr Hamilton was tasked with the job of pulling the dunking button on the dunkees whose costumes were organised for them with most not knowing what they would be wearing before taking the plunge.

One by one the participants climbed on to the dunking seat, waited for the countdown by an enthusiastic crowd and plunged into the iced water.

James Thorn, Maurie Puiatti, Fiona Telfer, Lynne Lambert, Adam Gardiner, Sarah McGrath, Lucy Chant, Stewart and Geoff Wells, Craig Skeer and Deon Chester were each supplied a tin to raise a minimum of $500 for the privilege of facing the dunking tank.

With over $15,000 raised from the tins alone their goal was well and truly surpassed with Ms Nowak grateful to all who contributed to the success.

"Honestly the small communities we have got here are absolutely amazing, we are very lucky," she said.

The committee is hopeful that whatever team they come up against during MND Big Freeze round that they will be as supportive as Mount Burr have been this year.

This is the eighth year the Big Freeze has been held and the fundraising will go toward the national target of $750,000.

Tender let to fix saleyards

Work on fixing some aspects at Millicent's Saleyards will be undertaken by a Robe based business following Wattle Range Council awarding a contract last week.

After a confidential section of council's monthly meeting, the minutes of the matter were released publicly which authorised the council's chief executive officer to award the contract to Hamlyn Wilson Pty Ltd to undertake compliance works at Millicent Saleyards, subject to satisfactory negotiations.

Council's Director of Engineering Services, Peter Halton told The South Eastern Times this week that the work to be undertaken will involve the washdown bay and ramps at the saleyards.

He said Hamlyn Wilson, based in Robe, will be the principle contractor which will be using various subcontractors to complete the job.

The local subcontractors are expected to include Haynes Engineering steel fabrication, of Naracoorte, Osscon contracting of Mount Gambier, Struktura Structural Engineering of Adelaide and Agnew Bros electrical of Robe.

The double height loading ramp will be completed by two suppliers from outside the region.

Mr Halton said there is a 14 month lead time on fabrication for the double height ramp while work on the fixed ramps and washdown bay are expected to be completed over 10 weeks on site.

These are part of the works that were identified during a WorkSafeSA audit of the facility last year.

The intended works will be discussed with the council's saleyards advisory committee prior to work beginning.

Mr Halton said the works will be staged to minimise any impact on sale days.

Other works to rectify issues with the facility's weigh bridge and office building will be dealt with under other separate contracts.

A contract to undertake some work on ramps and the washdown bay at Millicent Saleyards has been let to Robe based business, Hamlyn Wilson.

Penola Rodeo Committee President Scott Hetherington and organiser Brian Nilsson welcome the return of the Penola Rodeo planned for January next year.

Rodeo back after break

By Kathy Fennell

After three long years the Penola Rodeo will return next year.

Due to Covid the rodeo had to be put on hold however next year there will no restrictions with riders and supporters to come from all over Australia.

President of the committee, Scott Hetherington said: "Everyone is extremely excited to know that there will be a rodeo next year."

January 21 is the chosen date and it will be held at McCorquindale Park.

"We had our first committee meeting last week and along with our regular members we also have a couple of young blokes that have joined the committee," Mr Hetherington said.

"We would also welcome anyone else that would like to come on board."

Organiser, Brian Nilsson said: "There is lots to organise but plans are well in hand.

"We will get our stock from Woodall's in Victoria who are specialist rodeo stock providers with both horses and bulls."

The rodeo committee has donated many thousands of dollars to local groups over the years including $40,000 to the Penola Hospital along with local schools, scouts, ambulance, and others.

"We involve our locals in catering so that they have an opportunity to do some fund-raising," Mr Nilsson said.

Mr Hetherington said: "Sponsorship is a huge part of running a rodeo and there are several packages available.

"We would also welcome anyone at all that would like to donate to or sponsor the event."

It will be a jam packed program and there will be full catering, bar facilities, live music and a bucking bull.

Inaugural disc golf game held in Millicent's park

A small group of Disc Golf enthusiasts took up the challenge to trial the first sanctioned tournament in Millicent last weekend.

Held at Millicent's Rotary Park, the course was described by organiser Ryan Nicholson: "It's a nice short course with a lot of tight wooded holes through the trees and technical lines, so no real big long holes but a good balance for beginners and experienced players."

Among the players was two from Adelaide and included professional disc golfer Matt Noblett.

"For Matt it is a very casual tournament but the goal is to create exposure in towns like Millicent that don't have courses and help councils become more aware of the sport," said Mr Nicholson.

Mr Nicholson runs Launch Disc Golf in Mount Gambier which has one of the best permanent courses in Australia.

"Unfortunately, since the fire on the mountain in January, the majority of the course is closed due to the high risk situation from damaged trees and damage to the face of the crater wall," he said.

This closure has meant the Mount Gambier disc golfing community is limited to playing at pop up events with temporary baskets once or twice a month rather than the unlimited access available previously.

"Having these little events means being accessible to these players when they don't have access to their home course, it's a bit of an opportunity to help them out as well."

Spinning discs: Ayla Nicholson shows that Disc Golf is a sport for all ages.

Penola nurse Mary-Jane Robertson retires

By Kathy Fennell

Penola Hospital nurse, Mary-Jane Robertson has retired after 37 years of service.

More than 40 work colleagues and friends gathered at the Prince of Wales Hotel last week to celebrate her retirement.

Mrs Robertson began her nursing career in 1972 when she did her training at Calvary Hospital in Adelaide.

In 1985 she moved to Penola, her home town, and was employed as an enrolled nurse at the local hospital.

In her first 12 years Mrs Robertson spent six years on night duty then ventured on to District Nursing for 15 years.

"I loved district nursing, taking meals to clients in the town and out on farms in Penola, Nangwarry and Kalangadoo," Mrs Robertson said.

"I used to tend to wound care, split their firewood and light their gas heaters and they were always up for a good chat.

"I had several funny experiences including being attacked at a 'McDonalds farm'.

"I had to use my stethoscope to ward away the roosters and actually had a nip on the shoulder by a donkey," she said.

Mrs Robertson said: "There has been many happy and sad moments in my career and it was not all smooth sailing."

Back in the early days, Penola had a thriving hospital and included surgical theatres, x-ray, accident and emergency, nursery, labour ward and childrens ward.

"I had lots of fun back in those days and it was a great place to work," she said.

Later in her career Mrs Robertson moved into aged and palliative care.

"I was privileged to be able to nurse both my mother and father, Jack and Eileen Mulligan, in their older years," she said.

"I have made so many wonderful lifetime friends throughout my career and was overwhelmed with how many people came along to help me celebrate my retirement."

In 2004 Mrs Robertson started up tai-chi classes at the hospital where clients had a lot of laughs and fun.

Mrs Mary-Jane Robertson with husband Bruce at her retirement evening after 37 years as a nurse at Penola Hospital.

The classes still continue each Tuesday at 1.30pm at the Penola Bowling Club.

In her retirement Mrs Robertson will still have plenty to do including some volunteer work.

"I am Chairperson of the Tandara Lodge

Board, and have joined a few fitness groups and local organisations.

"I will enjoy the freedom of retirement and look forward to travelling and spending time with family," she said.

A learning place for all

By Caroline Hammat

An ambitious dream by two Newbery Park Primary School educators was realised recently with the official opening of the school's new Indigenous learning space, Budinya Mraatu, which means learning on country in the local Boandik language.

Aboriginal Communication Education Officer Donna Baker and Eco learning officer Angela Jones planted the seed for the project almost two years ago and with widespread community and school support have created an impressive learning space for years to come.

The area at the back of the school once housed two long unused tennis courts and has now been transformed into a representation of Craitbul, a local Boandik creation story about the landscape.

Three mounds have been created with traditional Boandik names, Beleter, Parreen and Berrin, representing local landmarks Mount Burr, Mount Schanck and Mount Gambier, and an area toward the back is lowered to mimic the swamplands originally at the site.

The opening included a Welcome to Country by Boandik elder and author Aunty Michelle Jacquelin-Furr and a smoking ceremony performed by Aboriginal cultural heritage advisor Uncle Doug Nicholls who invited everyone in attendance to walk through the site during the ceremony.

Local musician Jason Baker led the students in a John Williamson song, Raining on the rock, and Room 6 students told and performed the story of Craitbul.

The opening was attended by representatives of several local groups, family members, old scholars and students from Newbery Park, Millicent High School and McArthur Park Kindergarten with students involved in cultural activities and native flora planting following the official opening.

Students were kept busy with more than 2200 local native plants prepared for planting throughout the space with Ms Jones saying: "I love plants and I love finding out what the Indigenous people used to do with our native plants and to bring that into the school and teach the children is fantastic."

"The connection with the animals and plants and Indigenous people is what it's all about."

"I like to take the kids out on country and today we are bringing that here."

The students learnt weaving technique from Aunty Michelle and Uncle Doug explained the Boandik seasons calendar as well as sharing artefacts and tools he has collected or made over the years, with a chance to try boomerang throwing a favourite for many.

A 75 metre long mural is planned for a fence with assistance from former Newbery Park student and Indigenous artist Tiffany Clare with Ms Baker explaining the project.

"The design will be on there (the fence) and it will be up to the kids to colour and fill it in," she said.

"It will be in the next 6-12 months the mural will kick off because we have a lot planned for the end of this term, we will keep it gradually ticking along."

Learning bush skills: Uncle Doug Nicholls demonstrates to McArthur Park kindergarten and Newbery Park students how to throw a boomerang.

Old scholars: Millicent High School's Aboriginal education worker and previous South School student, Jenny Bishop, with one of her childhood teachers Deirdre Tiddy.

Smoking ceremony: As part of the opening attendees walked through the space during the smoking ceremony.

Ms Baker explained to the South Eastern Times the importance of representing the local landscape with Wylie swamp, only seven kilometres from Newbery Park, being the site where Australia's oldest boomerang and other artefacts were discovered in 1973.

Welcome to country: Aunty Michelle praised the new Indigenous learning space.

Planting time: Angela Jones oversees the start of planting thousands of native plants for the new space.

Budinya Mraatu: A colourful new sign welcomes people to the space.

has made them paddocks with drains.

"They are quite interested in learning about the history of the place which is great."

The project is ongoing with more planting and further development around the fire pit area in the immediate future.

New hall shed planned

By Kathy Fennell

Members of the Penola Show Society and the Penola Players group are extremely happy to be advised that the Wattle Range Council has pledged $132,000 for a new storage shed.

The pledge has been made for next financial year in council's draft budget which was released for public comment recently and is expected to be adopted next month.

Show President, Kinta Wilson said: "Currently the show society has to use the shed that is situated on the high school grounds for storage and it is inconvenient come show time to haul trestles and other equipment to Rymill Hall for the show.

"This will be a wonderful asset to us and also to the Penola Players who will also use the new shed for storage.

"It is fantastic that we can work in with the Penola Players with the use of the shed," Mrs Wilson said.

"This is what small communities are about."

Penola Players spokesperson Annie Kilsby said: "We are very happy to be able to have somewhere to store our equipment in a safe place.

"Things like costumes, paint equipment, stage sets and equipment can all be stored in the shed."

The new ramp will be a huge asset as it will be used to get heavy equipment on to the stage.

It will also be of great benefit to travelling

The shed will be situated at the western end of Rymill Hall and a new ramp will be also be included in the additions.

The current ramp on the northern side of the hall has been deemed structurally unsafe and will be removed.

The derelict old toilet block on the south western corner of the hall will also be demolished.

Council's Director of Engineering Services, Peter Halton said: "Unfortunately we don't have a time frame on the completion of the shed.

"Once the revised plans are approved the building of the shed will go out to tender, and with the shortage and rising costs of materials it may take longer than originally expected."

Noorla Yo-Long on the international stage

By Caroline Hammat

Noorla Yo-Long blue light adventure facility near Rendelsham will soon be on the international stage when it hosts between 15 to 20 young people for the Lions International Youth Exchange next January.

Last weekend, 24 Lions members including multi-districts members from Queensland, New South Wales, Victoria and Tasmania joined local members in touring the site and learning about the programming opportunities available in the region for the youth participants.

Millicent Lions Club member Leon Miels explained that Lions is an international organisation with a youth focus.

"We have a youth exchange each year and this involves having young people between the ages of 15 and 21 coming from overseas," he said.

"Next year in January they will be coming to Noorla Yo-Long for a week and while they are here they will be doing various activities, part of it will be recreational, part educational and a part will be providing leadership type activities.

"It's a real feather in the cap for Noorla Yo-Long."

Noorla Yo-Long facilitator Senior Constable First Class Geoff Yates agreed.

"It's really exciting; it puts us on an international stage with youth coming in from all over the world involved in the Lions programs," he said.

"They are looking to make this a three year project to start with so this could well be a very good long term involvement for us with Lions.

"Bearing in mind we have people like Leon Miels on our committee and with the local Millicent Lions people we've got this local community working relationship with SAPOL and Blue Light."

Noorla Yo-Long facilitator Senior Constable First Class Geoff Yates, Chair of the Lions Youth Exchange Suzanne Newton and Millicent Lions Club member Leon Miels joined with other Lions members to explore programming opportunities for an international youth exchange to be held in January at the adventure camp facility.

Kalangadoo Lions annual change-over dinner

By Kathy Fennell

The Kalangadoo Lions Club held its change-over dinner at the Kalangadoo Hotel last week.

Guests included Mayor Des Noll and his wife Shari, along with Penola Lions Club member Ann Davis. During the evening, Allan and Ann Moore, along with Susan Hickey, were inducted as new members, bringing the total membership to 14 people. Steve Moore will take the reins as President for the next three years, taking over from his brother Greg who held the role for the past three years.

"We would welcome new members at any time," Greg Moore said.

The club meets on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month at the Kalangadoo Institute Hall. The club runs weekly raffles at the Kalangadoo Hotel each Friday night with all proceeds going to community groups in the Kalangadoo area.

Award for police service

A former Millicent police officer was recently included in the Queen's Birthday honours list as one of three South Australian police officers to receive an Australian Police Medal.

Superintendent Paul Roberts joined South Australia Police in 1980 and served in Millicent as a Constable from 1988 to 1990.

He also served in Whyalla, Penong, Ceduna and Coober Pedy before becoming the Aboriginal Aide Supervisor at Amata Police Station on the Anangu Pitjantjatjara Yankunytjatjara (APY) Lands from 1994 to 1997.

He then served in leadership roles in Port Augusta, Peterborough and West Coast operations before moving to Adelaide where he served in various roles including State Duty Officer, Northern Operations Executive, Special Tasks and Rescue Group (Combined Operations Section) and Manager, Employee Assistance Section.

Promoted to Superintendent and Officer in Charge, Far North Local Service Area in 2016, he was instrumental in leading the development of SAPOL's inaugural cultural awareness training program.

He has also worked closely with police officers from the Northern Territory and Western Australia to develop cross border legislation which is now integral to justice initiatives being implemented across the APY Lands.

Superintendent Roberts played a key leadership role in establishing the 'Remote & Vulnerable Communities – Zone Emergency Management Group' to assist in keeping local communities safe from Covid-19.

Throughout the pandemic he engaged with Aboriginal communities, speaking at numerous community meetings and interacting with elders individually or in small groups.

As State Aboriginal Communities Coordinator from 2008 to 2010 he coordinated and implemented the SAPOL response to recommendations to government inquiries focused on child abuse intervention and social justice.

A constable in Millicent from 1988 to 1990, Superintendent Paul Roberts received a Queens Birthday Australian Police Medal this month.

His work was instrumental in establishing three new police stations, and the recruitment of 25 staff including specialist child abuse and domestic violence investigators for the APY Lands. A statement from SAPOL said he was held in high esteem by Aboriginal communities across South Australia and continues to be a trusted advisor on Aboriginal culture and relationships.

Passion for working dogs

By Trevor Jackson

The annual Australian Kelpie Muster at Casterton is clearly focused on the one particular breed of working dog.

The time-honoured event attracts huge crowds each year and a fair amount of kelpies.

Some accompany their owners simply for the day out, while others take part in the various events over the course of the weekend.

But there is one particular dog that has possibly broken any previous records for times at the muster.

Dusty is a 15-year-old kelpie that first attended the muster in 2007.

She turns 16 in December and was at the muster yet again on the weekend, along with her working buddy Jock.

The dogs' owner, Shane Beaglehall is rightly proud of his two workers, with a special spot for Dusty, although his love for "Jocko" is just as deep.

"Dusty has been coming to Casterton since she was six months old, back in 2007," he said.

"She has been here every year except for the Covid years.

"Up to 2019 she still competed in the hill climb - she did the hill climb as a six-month-old pup and still got to the top in 2019."

Mr Beaglehall said he bought Dusty as a three-month-old pup, then Jock in 2009.

The dogs do not work full time, as Mr Beaglehall only works stock part time.

However, there has been no shortage of time to assess the abilities of Dusty.

"She was a good working dog," Mr Beaglehall said.

"She was more suited to paddock work and was always better on a bigger mob.

"You put her on a mob of a few hundred and it suited her better than a mob of 10.

"She really read the sheep well."

Of course now it more about time to rest for the old worker, with her favourite spot either on the bed or the couch, although Mr Beaglehall said he worked her over Easter for a bit of fun.

He said at this stage of her life she is content to sleep, rather than work as hard as she has done.

But the Kelpie Muster is one event she possibly has missed.

"She used to love this event," Mr Beaglehall said.

"You do the sprint race then the high jump, then her and Jock knew the hill climb was next and they would drag us across the bridge."

The best effort at the event from Dusty was a second in the triathlon and the hill climb in the same year.

Mr Beaglehall said the style of event suited her passion for not just working, but also for her owner.

"The good thing about the hill climb and all these events is she couldn't stand to be away from me," he said.

"She just had to get to me, so she ran up the hill as fast as she could to get to me, she jumped the high jump to get to me.

Long Serving: Shane Beaglehall with his old dogs Dusty and Jock at the Australian Kelpie Muster in Casterton.

"She just wanted to get to me."

The connection between the man and his dogs is clear.

Mr Beaglehall said his dogs would do anything for him, which made it extra special considering he trained them himself, with Dusty the first kelpie he had trained to work sheep.

"Dusty would protect me if someone came along, for sure," he said.

"Jock would do anything for me too.

"When we were working he would just go in and whatever needed to be done, he would do it.

"He would get knocked around by the sheep but just do it to please me."

Mr Beaglehall lives in Melbourne but has travelled around the country to other events.

"Originally I bought Dusty as a pet," he said.

"She started working sheep one day on my mate's farm, then I started doing dog trials.

"I have travelled around Australia with her doing sheep dog trials, to Queensland, Western Australia, Tasmania and all over the place."

While Mr Beaglehall said Dusty was out of her depth in some of the top-level categories, where the owners worked the dogs full time with plenty of time to train them, in the lower-level competitions she did well.

"She does alright," he said.

"She won a few firsts and seconds in the lower-level competition."

Although he lives in the city, Mr Beaglehall said the passion for his working dogs came from his youth on the family property.

"My mum came from a farm in South Australia and they had merinos and crops," he said.

"I used to go out with my grandfather as a kid - he had kelpies - and we'd jump in the ute and go out and muster the sheep.

"I just loved watching the kelpies work, even when I was knee high to a grasshopper.

"The dogs would jump in the ute and were proud of themselves finishing the job.

"They are always so happy.

"They live to work."

As for the Kelpie Muster in Casterton, it is an event Mr Beaglehall will always hold dear.

"Dusty is probably the longest-serving dog to come to Casterton," he said.

"She really enjoys coming here.

"She loves the events and all my dogs are very social with other dogs.

"They get on the oval and run around with another 40 dogs and just love it."

Mr Beaglehall had another two young dogs in tow, with a second place in the hill climb on the weekend with Boof, along with a fourth place in the triathlon.

It is fair to say Mr Beaglehall's time competing at Casterton is sure to continue well into the future.

Lifetime passion for sport

By Jeff Huddleston

Next year will mark a 40 year milestone of involvement in education and sport for Tony O’Connell.

It all started in 1983 at Murray Bridge, when the cricket coach and teacher became involved with the South Australian Primary School Amateur Sport Association (SAPSASA).

When Mr O’Connell transferred to Penola in 1988, he was quickly snapped up by the local branch.

After fulfilling various roles over the intervening years, in 2000 Tony became the convenor of the Lower South East.

Since 2007 he has added the Mid South East to his responsibilities.

These days, the 110 year old organisation SAPSASA is under the auspices of School Sport SA which administers sports catered for on a term by term basis.

Sports include swimming, softball, football, netball, hockey and soccer.

There’s also basketball, athletics, track and field, cricket and tennis.

Mr O’Connell, the family man, currently has a leadership role in numeracy and sport at the Penola Primary School and is a life member of the association.

Over the years, he has taught, coached and mentored many thousands of students who have been involved with school sport and is affectionately known as Mr SAPSASA.

The association’s motto, developed by Penola primary students, is ‘learn to play, play to learn’.

“To me, sport is part of the curriculum and it’s a great learning experience for all kids in many facets of life,” Mr O’Connell said.

He believed the emerging involvement of girls and women in sports, such as football and cricket, is accepted in today’s society.

He cited the girls football carnival in Adelaide last year.

“There’s a number of girls out there interested in having a go,” he said.

Tony O’Connell, right, with some of the Penola students who have had SAPSASA experience.

“In their carnivals the boys and girls run side by side.”

Mr O’Connell mentioned that boys softball was traditionally a girls sport.

“I get questions about when will the boys get a turn at netball, but nothing coming on that line yet,” he said.

Mr O’Connell’s two passions are teaching and sport.

He praised the huge family commitment to training and travel for their children to compete in local, district and state carnivals.

“I’ve got a lot of enjoyment out of working with so many talented kids over the years,” he said.

“Also, there are a lot of great parents.

“Their support for SAPSASA is just incredible.”

He gave a big shout-out to all the grandparents, aunties and uncles, who are heavily involved as well.

SAPSASA has been the training ground for participants who have moved on to bigger and better things.

One of those is Adelaide Football Club Crows player Jordan Dawson, from Robe.

He is also a talented cricketer and golfer.

“He is just the most humble and pleasant kid to go with it.”

Mr O’Connell had a big wrap for Mount Gambier athlete, Leila Croker.

“She’s possibly the best all round athlete I’ve come across in all my years at SAPSASA,” he said.

“A brilliant sprinter, long distance and cross country runner, swimmer and netballer, now focusing on heptathlon.

“She’s going to go places for sure,” Mr O’Connell said.

He said Covid-19 has impacted association activities over the last two years, when they improved with virtual sports.

“Instead of state cross country carnivals, schools ran their own,” he said.

“We kept the kids involved as much as possible,” Mr O’Connell said.

He has a coaching philosophy.

“As a coach and convenor, I try not to have the focus on winning and losing, but you do it in the right way,” he said.

“You talk positively to team members and the opposition, at the end of the game you have a smile on your face, shake hands and say well done,” he said.

Mr O’Connell likes to see children enjoying themselves, being active and growing in confidence.

He was asked what he likes most about the association.

“Just the positive interaction with the kids. That’s what I like best about SAPSASA,” Mr O’Connell said.

Electric bikes hit the road for the public to enjoy

By Kathy Fennell

If you want to go on a tour around Penola or to Coonawarra then an e-Bike is the way to go.

The bikes are available for hire from the Penola Tourist Information Centre and at the Coonawarra Bush Holiday Park.

Owner of the e-Bikes, Steve Moinyard said: “The bikes have been so popular that we are going to invest in another five in the coming months.

“They are fantastic if you want to go on a wine tour and use the rail trail as you can easily fit boxes of wine in them.”

The bikes are pedal assisted and have gears.

You do not require a licence to operate the bikes however all road and safety rules do apply.

“They are a great assistance for walkers and bicycle riders who are not so fit and they are fully weather protective,” Mr Moinyard said.

Bookings can be made online or at the Penola Tourist Information Centre and the Coonawarra Bush Holiday Park.

Hirers must watch a safety video prior to setting off on their ride.

Reminiscing the SE Times

By Russ Stiggants

Russ Stiggants, a former journalist at The South Eastern Times from 1967 to early 1972, reflects on his time at the paper and his career that followed.

For Mr Stiggants, now 71 and living in the Barossa, The South Eastern Times was a launch pad for his career. Here is his story.

Like many visitors to the South East over the recent holiday weekend, my skin froze the closer I came to Mount Gambier – but conversely my heart warmed more and more as I came closer to my ‘second home’ which I have not been able to visit recently due to the uncertainty of the era in which we now live.

While I was not born in the South East, my career certainly was.

My dreams as a child and teenager of becoming a journalist came true when the late and great South Eastern Times Editor, Bob Chewings, took a chance and hired me as a cadet journalist.

It helped that I had been ‘Possum’ for a while as a copy-boy at the Sunday Mail/The News – but Rupert Murdoch and I didn’t get on.

Until Bob showed faith in me, I tried accountancy and law (and a number of other boring career options) and in retrospect, I should have pursued those opportunities as now, some half a century later, I would have been a lot richer.

But because of those beginnings and guidance provided by Bob, my life has been made remarkable by circumstances that few other professionals will experience – a life which has not been fettered by the mundane, the tedious or the pedantic.

For the most part, it has been spontaneous.

A life where every day has been different with wildly different imperatives and outcomes – a life, which, for the most part has been an adventure.

Only others in this quirky craft of journalism and creators of photographic and video imagery will have an understanding of the wild ride this life has taken.

Along the way, I have chronicled the life and times of Australia and South Australia, including being privileged to have interviewed and discussed ‘matters of State’ with Prime Ministers from Billy (‘big ears’) McMahon to Former South Eastern Times journalist Russ Stiggants reacquainted himself with a more recent edition of the newspaper while visiting The Border Watch last week.

John Howard - and from Premiers Tom Playford to Mike Rann.

Those political adventures started in Millicent with a friendship with (the then) Local MP, Des Corcoran.

Yes, The Times was ‘Right leaning’ back then, with Liberal doyen Ren DeGaris a frequent visitor - but both Des and Ren always took the time to talk to me.

(Later I was to work as a Press Secretary to Geoff Virgo in the Dunstan Cabinet where Des and I renewed our friendship. I was privileged to be the ‘MC’ at Des’s 60th birthday celebrations in the Parliamentary Dining Room in Parliament House - a rare honour in front of many of SA’s political, business and community elite at the time.)

Despite its editorial leanings, the Times faithfully reported local issues - the fishing boats missing at sea from Beachport, local business and community matters (including the story of a couple from Rendelsham who had the Bejesus frightened out of them by a visiting UFO (true!), the sport often covered by club ‘contributors’ which Bob would viciously attack with his red pen (the same pen used to whip my ‘copy’ into line!) and the meanderings of local councils - Bob would cover the Millicent Council, while I was dispatched to cover the Beachport and Tantanoola Councils.

On July 16, 1969, I was dispatched to the window of the electrical shop in the main street to watch Neil Armstrong land on the Moon (no new-fangled television at The Times back then!). I reported on the landing and the comments from those who joined me outside the shop. To Bob, it was just another story....

I left the Times in 1971 (Ed note: Mr Stiggants resigned in late 1971 but stayed on until early 1972 to allow time for a replacement to be found) and went on to work in all media genres (including working in London for United Press International Television News) - all thanks to the skills I trace back to that wonderful opportunity afforded me at The Times.

Those adventures included spending a great deal of time in South Australia’s great Outback filming and reporting on the development of Olympic Dam and Roxby Downs, videoing many areas strapped to and hanging out of light-aircraft and helicopters with their doors removed, and deep underground filming the powder-monkeys and underground drillers as they opened new ‘drives’ into the world’s richest copper and uranium mine.

Along the way, I graduated from lobster boats to warships (once being ‘jack-stayed’ in a bosun’s chair from ship to ship in the Gulf), spent a little cruise offshore in one of Australia’s Oberon-class submarines – and flew in RAAF-PC3 Orions filming the search for missing boats....a long way from climbing to the crows-nest in a cray-boat looking for missing sailors off Beachport!

I was sent to Malmo in Sweden to film Koc-kum submarines which were the genesis of our Collins-class subs...the first of many overseas sojourns which took me to northern and southern Europe – and behind the Iron Curtain to the Kremlin, travelling the Midnight Express train from Moscow to Leningrad.

(I could tell you why I was there but I’d have to shoot you all and eat you afterwards....!)

Along the way I have closely followed the closing and re-openings of The Times as its fortunes have wavered - and am pleased the paper is now again being published in newspaper format, thanks to the efforts of Peter and Kathy Gandolfi, from their office at the Border Watch.

Imagine my delight as I physically warmed up on a brisk walk along Commercial Street on Tuesday after the holiday that I came across the door to the new offices of the Watch above Bank SA.

I couldn’t help myself and climbed the stairs to meet and congratulate the Gandolfis on their efforts.

We had a great time reminiscing – a discussion which led them to ask me to write something about my years at The Times and the adventures it resulted in for me.

I can only thank them again for breathing new life into The South Eastern Times – and I implore all South Easterners to support their local newspapers.

They not only report on stories in their regions – but can also lead to adventures than many of us can only dream about.

Long live our great rural press.

Petticoat Lane herb garden

By Kathy Fennell

The Petticoat Lane herb garden, run by the Penola Branch of the National Trust of South Australia, is a popular place to visit for locals and tourists.

The garden, which was established by Susan Giles in the late 1990’s, is situated at the rear of Sharam Cottage.

Mrs Giles decided to grow potted herbs and they were sold on a commission basis by Janet Dempsey, who leased the cottage and made terracotta sculptures that were fired by Rosemary Adam.

In 2002, Jenny Hinze leased the area for the next three years and set out the garden as it is today, apart from the medicinal herb wheel, which was later initiated by Barb Smith.

Kate Spencer has managed the herb garden since 2005, however due to ill health is unable to continue.

She advised on the use of herbs to sell to restaurants and to the public who mostly choose from the produce available.

In 2008 the ‘Coonawarra Chefs’ donated $1000 towards the development of the garden.

The garden is a valuable source of income for the Trust and to honour the dedication of Kate Spencer over such a long period of time the branch has chosen to dedicate a bench seat in her honour.

Without Mrs Spencer and her group of volunteers, in particular Lynne Karl, who as garden caretaker has taken over much of the workload since 2019, the venture would not be so successful.

“We have a good variety of culinary herbs including parsley, rocket, sage, thyme, mint, kale, dill and lots more,” Mrs Karl said.

“We also have in season vegetables and fruit including lemons, broad beans and strawberries,” she said.

The group is also grateful to people who donate produce.

“There is a donation box at the garden and people can place whatever amount of money in it when they pick some herbs or produce.

“I really enjoy maintaining the garden and I like to love and care for it,” Mrs Karl said.

Users of the garden, Scott and Marni Degenhardt, who live across the road, love getting their herbs and produce from the garden.

Ms Degenhardt said: “The garden has been a big part of my life.

“When Kate Spencer was there I would always go over and help her, and our three cats also became members of the volunteers.

“The volunteers loved having them roam around and they would talk to them and feed them.

“It is wonderful to be able to walk across the road and just pick some fresh herbs in just the quantity you want and place a donation in the money box,” she said.

If anyone would like to help in the garden in any way they can contact the National Trust.

Group meet at the Grand

By Caroline Hammat

The Grand Hotel welcomed the Millicent (and surrounds) New Residents and Friends group last Friday night with those who attended getting an introduction to the Friday night draw run by the hotel's social club.

Secretary of the social club Sonya Chant and treasurer Kylie Hann took the time to explain to the group how to become a member if they wish or how to purchase tickets in the draw for the night.

Although the social club attracted a few new members from the group unfortunately there were no winners from their table on the night.

Mark Gronn and Emma Clay moved to Millicent 18 months ago.

Social Club members running the Friday night draw were Sonya Chant and Kylie Hann.

Hatherleigh's big freeze

By Caroline Hammat

Eleven volunteers bravely took the plunge in a dunking tank of ice cold water for Motor Neurone Disease research on Saturday at the Hatherleigh sports oval.

Dressed in costume, the good sports from both Hatherleigh and Mount Burr Football and Netball Clubs precariously perched on a plastic seat and anticipated the cold water before Reg Hamilton flipped the lever to dunk them.

The group were tasked with filling personalised tins with at least $500 in donations before the day and all exceeded this amount raising $15,281.10 from the tins alone.

Kate Nowak and Marnie Jolly were the main drivers behind the fundraising event and at time of print the total had reached $23,210.60 with more donations expected over the following days.

Dressed for the plunge are Lucy Chant, Lyn Lambert and Fiona Telfer.

YOUR WEEKLY TV GUIDE

COURTNEY ACT'S ONE PLUS ONE ABC TV, Thursday, 9.35pm

Author, singer and drag artist Courtney Act struck a chord with her first season as host of this enlightening long-form interview series. She's back with this second helping, delving into the concept of fame. Tonight, the former Dancing with the Stars and RuPaul's Drag Race contestant sits down for an incredibly insightful chat with trailblazing actor Georgie Stone (pictured). The 22-year-old Neighbours star, who has spent almost half her life in the spotlight, is a long-time advocate for better understanding of young trans people. As the iconic soap and her role on it draw to an end, Georgie talks about what's next.

THE GOOD KARMA HOSPITAL ABC TV, Saturday, 7.30pm

There are countless medical dramas set in the vanguard of TV action – the US. Perhaps that's why this feel-good British series, set in South India (well, it's actually filmed in Sri Lanka), stands out from the well-worn pack. Its exotic feel is a salve for all the clinical, studio-set productions out there. Its stars, Amanda Redman as Dr Lydia Fonseca and Amrita Acharia (pictured) as Dr Ruby Walker, are spot-on too. Tonight, Lydia discovers there's only one solution to Greg's (Neil Morrissey, Men Behaving Badly) visa problem.

MASTERCHEF AUSTRALIA 10, Wednesday, 7.30pm

Tonight the battle for MasterChef victory takes a twist into a world of secrets. The final six arrive in the kitchen to find a renovation: a wall divides the kitchen. In three teams of two, each team member must stealthily select two ingredients without their teammate's knowledge and then whip up a winning dish with the collective four ingredients. The best dish from each pair, as judged by Andy Allen, Jock Zonfrillo and Melissa Leong (pictured, from left), earns its maker a place in Thursday's immunity challenge.

PICK OF THE WEEK

AUSTRALIAN NINJA WARRIOR Nine, Monday, 7.30pm

As season six of this exhilaratingly fast-paced and difficult competition kicks off tonight, millions of us will be sitting at home on the couch. We'll be marvelling at the agility and athleticism of the athletes, possibly contemplating a trip to the gym or perhaps another go at learning how to jump onto an enormous rope, swing through the air and somersault onto a landing pad. We can all dream, can't we? Guiding us through the feats of strength and dexterity are new hosts, tennis legend and skilled chitchatter Jim Courier and reporter Leila McKinnon (both pictured). After five seasons, only two competitors have famously conquered Mt Midoriyama – will anyone claim victory this time?

Mount Burr 44 d Hatherleigh 32

Mount Burr used a fast start against hatherleigh to claim set up a victory in Round 10 of Mid South East netball on Saturday.

The Mozzies won the toss and took the centre pass which saw them first on the scoreboard.

They applied pressure early which forced the home side to fumble and create errors.

By the first break Mount Burr had created a six-goal lead to set the foundations of victory.

Hatherleigh came out with a lot of fight and intensity in the second term, in what panned out as a more even quarter.

Ebony Clark found plenty of space in the goal circle for the Mozzies, which saw her convert easily to keep the scoreboard ticking over, while the mid-court match-up between Erin Watson and Laura Schultz proved to be a great tussle.

Hatherleigh stepped up its defensive pressure, which saw them gain the ball and convert but Mount Burr remained in control.

The link between Clark, Schultz and Madi Haggett proved to be dangerous and unstoppable and the Mozzies went to the main break up by seven goals.

The Eagles made multiple changes at the break which seemed to work.

Demi Vanderhorst and Abby Wight started combining well in the goal circle and were able to find better space and convert as the Eagles began to chip away at the deficit.

A few defensive pickups for the home side and some great touches from Chelsea Galpin helped change the momentum but Mount Burr went to the last break leading by eight.

Hatherleigh continued to apply full-court pressure in the final term but Mount Burr played with control and smarts.

Clark had a huge last term with 14 goals, which saw her outscore the home side, who managed to add 12 goals to the board.

In the end the Mozzies were too strong and claimed a comfortable victory.

Schultz and Clark were named best for the victors, while Vanderhorst and Galpin were best for Hatherleigh.

Murphies on attack

Glencoe 60 d Kalangadoo 50

Kalangadoo made the trip to Glencoe for Round 10 of Mid South East netball, in what was set to be the match of the round - and it did not disappoint.

The Murphies took the first centre pass, with a stepping call resulting in the Magpies scoring the first two goals of the game.

Glencoe's Donna Jaeschke and Ashlea Edwards then took control of the attacking end, working the ball patiently onto the circle edge to allow their goalies to settle into the game.

A collision between Glencoe's Sarah Edwards and Kalangadoo's Kori Collins rattled the youngster goalie and put the onus on Abbey Duncan to continue to tick over the scoreboard for the Magpies.

In a tight opening term, Glencoe went into the first break with a 16-14 lead.

In the second term the Murphies goalie combination of Jenna Paproth and Malinda Markiewicz came out with confidence and found the post with ease, fed accurately by Ashlea Edwards.

Kalangadoo's Kirsty Egan was able to link well with Duncan to transition ball into attack, despite high hands over pressure from the Murphies' Chloe Pfitzner.

The defensive pressure from Sarah Edwards and Chantelle Cocks lifted in the Murphies defensive circle to create plenty of turnover ball.

Despite the efforts of Lauren Kain and Renna Wetherall to get hand to ball, the Murphies extended their lead by a further six goals heading to half time.

The Magpies came out firing after the break, upping their defensive pressure through their full-court structure.

Wetherall stepped up in the defensive circle and began to get hand to the high balls destined for Markiewicz.

The tussle between Jayde Peacock and Jaeschke intensified and Duncan found another gear, using her speed to create plenty of space under the post.

The Murphies were able to gain back some momentum toward the back end of the quarter to halt the run on from the Magpies.

The quarter continued goal-for-goal, with the deficit for Kalangadoo only four goals at the final break.

The effort from Glencoe lifted in the final term, working hard to maintain possession against the body on defence from the Magpies.

Full court defensive pressure from the Murphies enabled Sarah Edwards to go hunting for the intercept, resulting in a heavy momentum swing for the Glencoe side.

Despite bodies beginning to tire all over the court, the pressure remained from both sides.

However, the Murphies goalies finished strong, both shooting at 100 per cent accuracy in the final quarter, with Markiewicz converting 11 of the 17 goals.

At the end of the day the Murphies claimed a 10-goal victory over the Magpies for the second time this season.

Best player for the victors were Paproth and Ashlea Edwards, while Wetherall and Duncan were best for Kalangadoo.

School students rule lanes

The Millicent Bowls Club was awash with Millicent High School students recently after the club was chosen by the school to pass on some knowledge of lawn bowling to 14, Year 10 students.

The group is managed by teacher Samantha Freeman, who is responsible for sporting activities at the school.

In Sport and Recreation, students are exposed to a range of sport and recreational activities they may not necessarily have tried or thought of trying.

This semester, students have participated in lawn bowls, ultimate frisbee, golf, table tennis and archery. The students enjoyed tuition from the Millicent Bowls Club members, who taught them how to play and facilitate a round robin tournament.

Of course competition was also on the agenda, with the winners' names engraved on a shield created and donated by long-time Millicent bowler Rod Gibbs and engraved by Peter Seeböhm.

Lilly Ryan and Kasey Peak came out victorious in the round robin competition, followed closely by Chris Verrall and Sam Simmons.

Top form shown on the mats

The Millicent Gymnastics Club competed at the Port Lincoln Invitational event recently.

Fiona McDonald had a busy tournament, contesting the Level 8 competition, while also judging several events.

She finished the opening day placing second on bars and sixth on the beam.

McDonald also judged the Men's Artistic Gymnastics (MAG) Level 1-5 gymnasts on vault, floor and parallel bars.

Day two had her judge the Women's Artistic Gymnastics (WAG) Level 1 vault and Level 2 bars, while she was second judge for Level 3 bars. Isobel Thompson competed in Level 4 for the first time and her efforts had her receive the upgrading score to move on to Level 5.

Her highest score was an 8.775 in floor, where she placed 12th, while her highest placing was 10th from 25 competitors in bars.

Millicent gymnasts will now prepare for the Country Championships in Adelaide on July 9 and 10.

The club will send 22 WAG and two MAG gymnasts in a strong representation after only 11 WAG athletes attended last year's event.

Millicent will have Levels 1-5 and 8 contest the event. While there they will compete against other country clubs from Whyalla, Broken Hill, Port Lincoln, Port Pirie, Kadina, Cummins and the Riverland.

Bowlers embrace new format

A field of 28 dedicated bowlers converged on the Millicent greens last week to defy the cold weather for a 2-4-2 game with a bit of a twist.

For the first time in the history of the game at the Millicent Bowls Club, a power play was introduced, where both teams had the opportunity to nominate one end per game as a power play end.

Success on the nominated end would double the score to give the side a big advantage.

Making the most of the day were Arthur O'Connell and Kym Stewart, who claimed the win with a score of 36+13.

David Botting and Robert Radley finished runners-up with a score of 33+16.

Other winning teams for the day: Ross Warren/Carl Schapel 33+15; Steve Skeer/Rod Gibbs 33+9; Graham Love-day/Peter Scanlon 31+10; Derrick Lindh/Peter Varcoe 31+6; Carrol Gibbs/Derek Bowering 28+9.

Kent wins sporting clays Highgun in annual shoot-off

There were over 100 sporting clay shooters who nominated for the 2022 Limestone Coast Sporting 150 which was held at the South East Field and Game and Lake Bonney Sporting Clays over the weekend.

The event was sponsored by Outdoor Trading Co. OSA Australia, Torresan Estate, Blackbird Industries and Roundwood Solutions.

At the completion of Day 1 at Burrungule Park, Jeremy Kent found himself in an unusual position of being three targets behind young Adelaide shooter, Danile Falco, after the former Australian Junior Team shooter shot 72/75.

Day 2 at Lake Bonney saw Kent claim the highest score for the day on 67/75 and clawed back the three-target deficit to tie with Falco on 136/150.

This meant a shoot-off was required to determine a winner.

Jamie Dunn was unfortunate to miss out on the shoot off by one target with a final score of 135/150.

Kent's experience in shoot-offs served him well when the pressure was on to clean both pads in cool and calm manner.

Falco fell just short in the shoot-off to give Kent the Highgun win.

The shoot-off capped off an excellent weekend for the two clubs.

Falco claimed the AA Grade win, ahead of Dunn and Gavin Dyson.

Darren Hannah claimed the A Grade victory with a score of 125/150.

Tim Widdison and Anthony Sellars rounded out the top three.

B Grade was won by Craig Hendreck, who shot 118/150, ahead of Angus Maddern and Nick Glen.

Matt Burton won C Grade, ahead of Mark Holbrook and Scott Hall.

Shakielle Von Stanke won the Sub-Junior competition with a final score of 108/150.

Sebastian Angus shot 106 targets to claim second, ahead of Jimmy Papaioannou.

Leigh Dunn won the Senior competition with a final score of 124/150.

Michael McKinnon was runner-up and Jeffrey Raper rounded out the top three.

Ron Rhook put in a strong performance to win the Veteran's category, ahead of Neville Kent and Ernie Scheidl.

Tasha Bellinger won the Women's competition with a score of 109/150.

Jeanette Densley claimed second, ahead of Meagan Whitehead.

The Junior category was won by Nicholas Bologiannis with a score of 121/150.

Ben Hastings was runner-up and Zakary Button claimed third place.

Demons hold edge

By Trevor Jackson

Port MacDonnell 11.12 (78)
d Kongorong 11.3 (69)

Port MacDonnell held off a fast-finishing Kongorong to claim victory in Round 10 of Mid South East football on Saturday.

The hosts managed to secure the victory but not without a scare, after controlling the contest for three quarters.

A 41-12 lead at the first break suggested the Demons were on for a big win and they out-scored the Hawks up to the final break.

From there it appeared the damage had been done, as the Demons held a 37-point advantage and looked to be in control.

However, the Hawks were certainly not done and made a big run in the final stanza, as they banged on five major scores while holding the Demons goal-less.

But it was too little, too late as the Demons had done enough to hold on in an entertaining final quarter of football.

Tim Sullivan was again a strong focal point for the Demons up forward with four majors, while Kev Thomson chipped in with three.

Will MacDonald was at his best, controlling the ruck contest throughout the day as Sullivan focused more up forward in the absence of Jake Turner.

Coach Simon Merrett was pleased with the outcome and felt a fast start was the difference in the end.

“They were up and about and probably our start really saved us in the end,” he said.

“We got away to five goals in the first quarter and that was the difference for most of the game.

“They came back hard in the last quarter to kick four goals in about six or seven minutes.

“They attacked us pretty hard and we struggled to defend it.”

After the Round 1 clash where the Hawks pushed the Demons to the final siren, Merrett said he expected them to be a top-four side.

He expected a big challenge in Round 9 and was pleased with his side's use of the ball.

“We thought if we could get on top early they would struggle to claw the lead back,” he said.

“We were pretty happy with the way the game was played on our terms but a bit disappointed with the last 10 minutes.

“We just failed to do what we have been doing for two years and went away from our structures.

“But it was a good wake-up call for us.

“It exposed a few things we need to work on.”

Merrett was pleased with the effort of MacDonald around the ground.

Will MacDonald was in impressive form on Saturday as the Demons claimed a hard-fought victory over Kongorong. Picture: FILE IMAGE

He gave the big ruckman a huge workload and MacDonald responded with one of his best games of the season.

“It was the Will MacDonald of six or seven years ago,” Merrett said.

“He got on top, controlled the air all around the ground, got the ball going our way and got it to our on-ballers where they like it.”

As the clock wound down the scoreboard tightened up and the Hawks threatened to run over the weary Demons.

Merrett said it provided plenty to work on in the coming weeks.

“It was not so much they got so close to us but we went away from what we like to do in those situations,” he said.

“We will have a look at that in the next few weeks.”

The Demons sit out this weekend with a bye, before facing the powerhouse Kalangadoo in Round 12.

Merrett suggested the Magpies are a class above the rest of the sides and is keen to test his players against the benchmark of the competition.

“We are ticking along all right but have a lot of improvement to work on,” he said.

“We have time up our sleeves so we are looking forward to getting into that at training and see how we stack up against Kalangadoo.

“Hopefully in another few weeks we will be playing our best footy and winning games.”

Tigers break away early in classy display

Tantanoola 57 d Nangwarry 35

Tantanoola claimed a strong win over Nangwarry in Round 10 of Mid South East netball, built on a strong start and precision passing.

Casey Walker was in fine form around the circle, while accurate shooting from Jami Walker saw the Tigers score the first three goals.

However, the Saints did not let the slow start bother them, with some strong intercepts from Shannon Higgins and Hayley Burner, complemented by accurate shooting from Ange Pratt and Tahlia Wilson to tie the scores up.

Both teams capitalised on their centre passes and by the first break the Tigers were ahead by just one goal.

Tantanoola came out firing in the second quarter with great defence from Tayla Rowe and Kate Bromley.

Many balls were turned over and the Tigers were able to get a jump on the Saints.

Ebony Lawson was embroiled in a strong battle with Casey Walker as she attempted to stop her drive onto the circle.

At the other end Kylie Heaver worked tirelessly to utilise every possession Nangwarry had while having a tough job on Kristy Varcoe.

Bella Poulish stepped up and worked well with Jami Walker to score every turnover opportunity and by the main break the Tigers had extended their lead to 10 goals.

Nangwarry lifted early in the third quarter, turning over Tantanoola's first two centre passes.

Heaver and Pratt stepped it up a notch and moved the ball well down the court, with accurate shooting to make a strong start.

Defensive efforts from Rowe, Bromley and Varcoe capitalised on any errors Nangwarry made and Casey Walker again proved why she is a player to watch out for.

Her drive into the circle is hard to stop and the passes between her and sister Jami made it a tough day for the Nangwarry defence.

Higgins and Hayley Vanderhorst worked hard in defence for the Saints and with a few intercepts around the circle from Burner, Nangwarry's confidence lifted.

Heading into the last quarter Tantanoola came out firing and with a few intercepts from Varcoe and Bromley, was able to get a run on.

Higgins and Vanderhorst continued to work hard in defence and were well supported by Ebony Lawson.

The Saints were able to turn a few balls over and with the smart moving of Heaver and Pratt finished off.

The final term was an even contest but the damage was already done and the Tigers walked away with the win.

Best players for the victors were Casey Walker and Poulish, with Higgins and Burner best for the Saints.

Demons fired up

Port MacDonnell 59 d Kongorong 44

Port MacDonnell used its home-court advantage to good effect against Kongorong in Round 10 of Mid South East netball on Saturday.

Port MacDonnell was well rested following a loss to Glencoe last round but it was the young Kongorong side which came out strong, playing a fast game.

Tilah Buckingham used her height well and was on the receiving end of many long bombs across the court.

However, the Demons worked hard at the defensive end to gain turnovers.

Port MacDonnell's Kirby Carrison left the court for the blood rule towards the end of the first quarter, which allowed youngster Lara Wilson to hit the court.

By the first break the Demons held a tentative three-goal advantage.

Kongorong again hit the court running in the second term and looked to gain the lead.

Kongorong's Riley Buckingham worked hard to keep experienced goalie Toni Gilmore under control but Gilmore was shooting with impeccable accuracy.

Demons' gun Alana Winter played on young Evie Sealey and used her height well to gain many turnovers.

Despite Kongorong's best efforts, the Demons went to the main break up by six goals.

The Demons brought on the fresh legs of Jess Lynch after the break to replace Narelle Lewis.

Emily Lightbody worked hard to contain Lynch and limit her opportunities but the home side transitioned the ball with ease down the court.

Tilah Buckingham took on the majority of the shooting for the Hawks as Winter had Sealey under control.

Despite a big effort from Demons defender Belinda O'Dine, Tilah Buckingham's height made it easy for her to gain possession.

At the other end, Sarah Lucas was playing a strong game and made it tough for Carrison to score.

Although Riley Buckingham's agility allowed her to cover Gilmore down the court, the Demon was unstoppable in the ring and Port MacDonnell extended its lead to eight goals at the final break.

In the final term Tilah Buckingham struggled to score, as the Demons took advantage of any rebounding opportunities. Winter stepped up and took many intercepts, while Williams played a consistent game, working well with Lynch to feed into the circle.

Kongorong's Kate Wright struggled against Liza Mutch who defended well and limited opportunities for Wright to gain the ball.

Despite the best efforts of Kongorong, Port MacDonnell was simply too strong on the day and claimed a hard-fought victory.

Best players for the victors were Williams and Winter, while Riley Buckingham and Sarah Lucas were best for Kongorong.

Alana Winter continued to have an impact on the Port MacDonnell side on Saturday, named in the best players as the Demons recorded a win over Kongorong. Picture: FILE IMAGE

Mozzies slide into top four

By Trevor Jackson

Mount Burr 11.10 (76) d Hatherleigh 8.7 (55)
Mount Burr pushed up into the top four on the Mid South East ladder after a rousing win over Hatherleigh on Saturday.

The Round 10 clash saw a gallant Mount Burr claim an impressive victory, even more so considering it was on the Eagles' home deck.

The Mozzies were out of the blocks fast against the powerhouse Eagles, with a one-goal lead at the first break.

In a tough contest, Mount Burr methodically added to the scoreboard, while the Eagles were forced to play catch-up football.

The visitors still held a handy 13-point lead at half time but the Eagles were closing in and threatened to come from behind after a solid third term closed the margin to just 10 points at the final break.

However, the Mozzies could smell victory and pushed hard in the final stanza, keen to claim a big scalp.

They made the most of it as the clock wound down for an impressive 21-point victory.

Nathan Muhovics and Dylan Ridley kicked three majors each for the victors, while Jack Gregory and Hamish Smith added two each.

Coach Reece Duncan was rightly pleased with the result, considering Hatherleigh was close to full strength on their own deck.

"It was very pleasing to beat Hatherleigh at Hatherleigh," he said.

"They came off the back of a good win against Kalangadoo and we were able to get the win.

"It was an important win for us and sets up the back end of the year."

Heading into the game Duncan said he expected a big challenge but said his side does enjoy to play on the bigger venue.

"We knew it would be a challenge and knew we had to bring our best," he said.

"We knew if we could bring that pressure on the defensive side and make it tough for them, it would go a long way to help us succeed.

"We were able to bring that pressure from the get-go and set up the game."

All seemed on track at the main break but the Eagles found something extra in the third term and threatened to take the game away.

However, Duncan said his players lifted and averted any threat.

"The boys were playing well - we had to make some adjustments as you do in football - we made them, adjusted quickly and rolled with it," he said.

"In the third quarter Joe Ferguson-Lane popped up and kicked a couple of goals and got them rolling but we were able to weather it, get the ball back on our terms and score again."

The problem Duncan had was the lack of a bench in the final term.

With only a 10-point lead, it looked a tough prospect to hold off the Eagles.

"I said to the boys at three-quarter time, we have given the effort for three quarters, I just want one more run," Duncan said.

"I told them we don't stop until that final siren and if we do everything right, we will get the result.

"Going into the last quarter down to no bench, for the boys to run the game out and play the way we did was even more pleasing."

Duncan said it was one of the best four-quarter performances from his side this season, after previously dropping the intensity after strong starts.

He said he was pleased with how his players stuck to the game plan, took risks and carry it right through the game.

He said one pleasing factor was the willingness for his players to work hard for each other, which ultimately resulted in a victory over a serious premiership contender.

"It was one of our better sides on paper," Duncan said.

"The question was how good is our best side?

"Is it good enough to be within five goals of Hatherleigh, or three, or how good?

"To get that return was a good way to start the second half of the year."

Magpies back on track after 'stinging' win on the road

By Trevor Jackson

Kalangadoo 20.16 (136) d Glencoe 4.4 (28)
Kalangadoo bounced back from a Round 9 loss to Hatherleigh with a stinging victory over Glencoe in Round 10 of Mid South East football on Saturday.

The Magpies hit the road to take on the Murphies and were never troubled throughout the day.

From the outset it was apparent the Magpies had come to play, with a 24-2 opening term, which could have been far worse for the Murphies, was it not for the six behinds kicked by Kalangadoo.

That continued on into the second stanza and by the long break the Murphies had only managed to kick one major score and two behinds.

In contrast, the Magpies had banged on 10.8 for a commanding lead.

The lead expanded as the game continued and a final-quarter six-goal burst rounded out a dominant day for Kalangadoo.

There were no huge bags of goals, but rather a long list of single-figure scorers, topped off by a five-goal haul to Michael Krieger.

Ben Mules added four, while Patrick Davies and Ben Gregory chipped in with two each.

For coach Kevin Stark it was an impressive return to the winner's list after an extra week off to reflect.

"It was good after a loss, then the bye to get back out and work on a few things," he said.

The running game of Kalangadoo was on display in Round 10 of Mid South East football, with Andrew Stone pictured handballing to Mitch Lowe as the Magpies push forward.
Picture: TREVOR JACKSON

"I think the boys were keen and having the week off gives you time to think about the last game.

"I thought the boys bounced back well and put on a good display."

The opening term was a tough slog, as Glencoe looked to take the game up to their more-fancied rival.

The quarter-time score did not reflect the intensity of the contest but the magpies were able to make the most of their possession up forward and built an early lead as a result.

"In the first quarter it was an arm wrestle but we managed to get into our work after that and settle things down," Stark said.

"I thought Glencoe started really well but we managed to put a couple of the board.

"But it wasn't until that second quarter where we managed to convert a little bit."

Again the Magpies ran the game out hard, despite holding a big lead at the final break.

Stark said that has been a focus for him this season which was clearly paying dividends.

"It doesn't matter what the score is, we keep trying to do the right things for four quarters," he said.

"That is important to us and we have a really good group where everyone seems to enjoy themselves and are willing to work hard for the four quarters."

The Magpies finished the day with 11 individual goal scorers, which Stark said was pleasing.

"We would take that every day rather than one bloke kicking 10," he said.

"We don't want one bloke having to carry the workload and being our one avenue to goal.

"We are happy with the many threats up forward."

While many supporters believe the 2022 season is a foregone conclusion, with Kalangadoo touted as the premiership victors, the same could have been said last year.

It did not pan out that way in 2021 and 2022 is certainly still up in the air, especially after the Round 10 results.

The ladder has now tightened up at the pointy end and Stark could not be more pleased.

"I think it is great for the competition," he said.

"Anyone can win on any given day.

"You have to turn up and you have to play well to get the win.

"Hatherleigh took care of us last round and Mount Burr just got the job done on Hatherleigh.

"If you don't turn up on the day any side can win.

"For the health of the competition it is really good and it should make it a tight race for finals."

Top-four positions heat up

By Trevor Jackson

Round 11 of Mid South East football promises a couple of enticing clashes, after the ype last week of the Nangwarry victory.

Robe v Tantanoola

Tantanoola was one of the talking points last round but for the wrong reasons.

The Tigers gave up the points to an elated Nangwarry and will want to return to the winner's list.

They face the tough prospect of a trip up the coast to Robe, with the Roosters refreshed after a long break due to the Interleague clash and the following bye.

Last time the two sides met the Roosters claimed the honours by 16 points.

However, the Tigers led up to the half-time break before the Roosters clawed their way back.

The Tigers would certainly want to claim the points after last week's loss and will need to throw everything at the contest.

With fresh legs the Roosters would have to start hot favourites and should claim the points.

Nangwarry v Hatherleigh

Nangwarry comes off a well-publicised victory over Tantanoola last week and would still be riding the wave, even a week later.

Rightly so but the Saints face a huge test this week when they host Hatherleigh.

Kongorong will be under the pump when they travel to Kalangadoo to face the powerhouse Magpies.

Any game against the Eagles is a tough test for any club but this week the Saints will feel the rath of the Eagles as they look to atone for last week's loss.

Hatherleigh went down to Mount Burr after a spirited display of football from the Mozzies.

That would have hurt and the Eagles will no doubt have fine tuned their game plan.

No side takes Nangwarry for granted this season and this week will be no different.

Unfortunately the Saints will not be able to match the rebounding Eagles, even on their home deck and will succumb to the relentless pressure Jake Dowdy's boys will bring.

Mount Burr v Glencoe

Mount Burr footballers would be feeling quite chuffed after they knocked off the powerhouse Hatherleigh last week.

Unfortunately for Glencoe it will come at a cost.

The Murphies suffered last round at the hands of a well-drilled and polished Kalangadoo and will no doubt bounce back.

However, the Mozzies have been on the improve all season and appear to have found that spark needed to contest for a top-four position.

They crept into the four after Robe's bye last week and will want to stay there.

After Robe's bye last week and on the back of that win over Hatherleigh, the Mozzies will claim this one, providing they bring a fast start and play four quarters of football.

Kalangadoo v Kongorong

Kongorong has the unenviable task o f travelling to Kalangadoo to take on the Magpies.

Kalangadoo has hardly put a foot wrong this season, apart from a loss to Hatherleigh.

However, the Magpies bounced back last week with a huge win over Glencoe and will take that momentum with them when the Hawks arrive.

Kongorong put in a solid effort last week against Port MacDonnell, going down in the end but not without putting up a fight.

However, against the Magpies, they, as most sides do, will find themselves wanting.

The Magpies will claim the points and continue to push for premiership glory.

Match of the round shapes up as one not to be missed

Mid South East netball heads into Round 11 this week, with a couple of entertaining clashes set down.

Mount Burr v Glencoe

After a close contest in Round 2, both Mount Burr and Glencoe will fancy their chances of victory in what shapes up as the match of the round.

Glencoe's defensive combination of Sarah Edwards and Chantelle Cocks will make Mount Burr goalies Ebony Clark and Zoe Brown earn every possession and fight for any potential rebounds.

The accuracy of Glencoe's Malinda Markiewicz and Jenna Paproth will prove to be a focal point but the defensive pressure from Madi Haggett and Olivia Dean will mean Markiewicz and Paproth will earn every possession.

Laura Schultz will work hard for the Mozzies to keep Donna Jaeschke out of the game and their tussle will be one to watch.

After another close game, Mount Burr should have enough to claim the win.

Robe v Tantanoola

Robe hosts Tantanoola in what is set to be a tight contest. The Tigers will look to redeem themselves after going down to the Roosters back in Round 2 by just five goals.

Tantanoola's Kate Bromley and Tayla Rowe will put the pressure on Robe's goalies, Sarah Laurie and Tori Gluyas, who will have to earn every possession and make every shot count.

Emma Gould and Jami Walker's accuracy in the goal circle will be a focal point for the Tigers and they will need to convert accurately to keep the Roosters at bay.

After another tough battle, Robe may prove too much for Tantanoola for the win.

Nangwarry v Hatherleigh

Hatherleigh heads to Nangwarry and would hope to rebound after their loss to Mount Burr last week.

Hatherleigh's strength through the mid-court in Erin Watson and Tegan Telfer will allow them to pick off any loose balls and convert centre passes to add to their score.

Shannon Higgins and Hayley Burner will apply plenty of pressure on Hatherleigh's goalies with their interceptions and rebounds.

At the end of the day the Eagles will be too strong and come away with the points.

Kalangadoo v Kongorong

Kalangadoo will come out firing against Kongorong on Saturday after last week's loss to Glencoe.

Tilah Buckingham and Evie Sealey will combine well in the goal circle, with Buckingham's height and accuracy a focal point of Kongorong's attack, along with accurate feeding from Rachael Perry and Kate Wright.

Jayde Peacock and Kristy Egan will apply pressure and work the ball down the court with ease, as the Magpies chase the win.

Kalangadoo will show too much strength for the young Kongorong roster and claim the points.

Drought-breaking effort

By Trevor Jackson

Nangwarry 13.12 (90) d Tantanoola 11.14 (80)
The celebrations were heard far and wide on Saturday night as the Nangwarry Football Club claimed its first win since 2014.

Back in 2014 the Saints claimed a tight win over Robe but victory had eluded them since.

That was until Saturday when the drought was broken in Round 10 of Mid South East football against Tantanoola, fittingly at the Nangwarry oval.

With just seconds remaining in the contest, Josh Weedon snapped a goal to put the Saints 10 points clear and seal the victory.

There were wild scenes when the final siren sounded, as the Saints' faithful ran onto the ground to celebrate with the players.

Coach Luke Thomson was dragged into the middle of the huddle as his players celebrated.

When he eventually emerged he could not believe the scenes surrounding him.

"When the siren went I was flooded by the boys," Thomson said.

"I was in the middle of the huddle and when I got out there were people everywhere.

"For me it was a better feeling than winning a grand final.

"There was not a dry eye at the place."

Thomson said with the scenes unfolding before him, the magnitude of the win "hit home pretty quick", with celebrations then spilling over to the new clubrooms.

"A lot of people came through the doors to celebrate with us," he said.

"Tantanoola represented their club well and had heaps of numbers in there.

"We tested the new facilities out, that's for sure."

To claim that first win at home was something special for all involved.

The script could not have been written any better and Thomson touched on the importance.

"We had our chances against the couple of teams during the year which were away," he said.

"For me, I always wanted to get that first one at home.

"With the new clubrooms up and running it was a good fit to get the win at home."

As for the game, it ended with a 10-point victory, after the Saints led at every change.

Andrew Hyland was again used to good effect up forward, with five major scores for the Saints to help ensure they had their noses in front when it mattered most.

The Saints were fast out of the blocks and held a handy 19-point advantage at the first break.

The Tigers lifted in the second term to close the margin to five points but again the Saints applied the blowtorch in the third and extended the margin out to 11 points.

That set up an epic final term and it certainly did not disappoint.

Saints were up by 18 early in the final quarter, then the Tigers closed it down to just three points as the final siren fast approached.

However, the Saints again pushed forward where a late goal to Josh Weedon sealed the Tigers fate and when the final siren sounded soon after, the noise was deafening as the whole venue erupted.

Hyland was joined by Matthew Pratt and Thomas Vanderhorst with two goals each.

After a 104-game losing streak, Thomson simply said it was "good to get the monkey off the back".

As for Weedon's timely goal, the importance of the moment was not lost.

"Josh snapped it through and sealed the win, which was good," Thomson said.

"He has kicked a couple of goals this year but that is definitely the most important one."

Thomson said the Saints approached the game with a simple plan.

"Our goal this week was to be in front all day," he said.

"We came out of the blocks pretty hot then they matched our pressure and physicality which made us think a bit.

"Going into half time still in front was a huge plus for us.

"We have weeks where we only play a half a game of footy, so one thing I drummed into the boys was to get in front and stay in front, then you don't burn your tickets trying to claw your way back."

Thomson also noted the importance of Joel Virtanen's effort to be named best on ground.

At just 19 years-of-age the Nangwarry product certainly made the most of the moment as the game unfolded.

"The way Joel goes about his footy and how important he is to us, if we were to win a game he had to dominate," Thomson said.

"We have a lot of good footballers and we are starting to gel but if he is picking up the footy 30 times - he doesn't miss a target too often.

"Late in the game after they kicked a goal I put him straight in the middle, knowing he had to be there, getting his hands on it.

"He doesn't waste the football and the more he touches it, the better we look."

Thomson said as the game unfolded and a victory was in sight, he ensured his players did not worry about the scoreboard.

He said in previous games this year the win was spoken of at breaks.

This time he wanted his players to simply focus on their own game and let the scoreboard take care of itself.

"We have been in that position a few times this season and we have been run over," Thomson said.

"It was about steadying the ship and making sure we were scoring, not going too defensive early on, not worrying about the win but just the way we wanted to play our footy.

"I just said to the boys the scoreboard will take care of itself, it is just about doing what we have done the last three quarters."

As the final siren loomed and victory was within grasp, Thomson said many thoughts were running through his head.

"We have had times, even in the last game against Tantanoola, where there was only a goal in it and we were rushing trying to get a score," he said.

"Some of our big boys took some good marks and we just tried to lock it down.

"Previous weeks we were blazing away, turning it over and doing dumb stuff to cough the footy up.

"On Saturday I think we controlled our footy."

Victory a long time coming

By Trevor Jackson

It was a long time in the wilderness for the Nangwarry Football Club's A Grade football side.

The Saints had not won a Mid South East football game since Round 15, 2014, when they defeated Robe by just nine points.

That all changed on Saturday with the Round 10 clash against Tantanoola, where the Saints claimed the win by 10 points and the celebrations erupted.

The script could not have been written any better, with the Saints at home and their new clubroom facilities officially opened just a few short weeks ago.

A Grade coach Luke Thomson said this week the result was better than winning a grand final.

For long-term president Shane Ploenges it was certainly a special day and one that is sure to live on in his memory for years to come.

After the final siren sounded the Nangwarry oval was inundated with supporters keen to congratulate those responsible for turning the tide.

Ploenges said the scenes were quite moving.

“There were a few tears about and plenty of joy,” he said.

“There were heaps of people who ran out and got around the boys.”

To gain the win at home after all the club has been through in the last couple of years made it even more special.

“If it was at another ground it would have been fine, you wouldn't knock it back,’ Ploenges said.

“But to be at home it just made it extra special I think.

“I think to get that win at a home game and be able to go into our new club and celebrate it did make a bit more special.

“There were a few beers sunk and the song sung a few times.

“There were plenty of people about and all the young fellows really lapped it up.

“It was a really special night.”

While all players involved deserve a mention, one in particular stood out.

At just 19 years of age Joel Virtanen has played A Grade football for Nangwarry for close to five years.

The home-grown player was named best on ground for the game and received plenty of praise from Thomson, who suggested if the Saints were to win, Virtanen had to dominate.

He certainly played his part and it was fitting a young Nangwarry boy received the top honours in the drought-breaking victory.

For Ploenges it was even more special, with a family connection to the young gun to simply add to the day.

“Joel is actually my grandson so it made me extra proud,” he said.

“He was playing junior colts, senior colts and A Grade on the same day.

“There were a lot of clubs trying to get Joel but he stuck with us which shows his loyalty.”

Ploenges said the support around the club this year has been touching.

Many older players have turned out, especially at home games, in the hope to witness the breakthrough victory.

The anticipation has been rising all year, with some close contests, in particular the Round 1 clash against the Tigers where the Saints looked every bit a winning side, falling short by just 11 points.

Of course it all came to fruition on Saturday and those older players were among the crowd and their joy spilled over.

“I think we are going into a lot of games now hopeful we are a real chance to get a win,” Ploenges said.

“It has been building and it was just a matter of time before we would get one.

“The support around the place has been extremely good this year and a lot of older players had come back and were at the game on Saturday, hopeful it could have been the game.

“They were all pretty pumped.”

Ploenges said the support extended to all Mid South East clubs, who had rallied to help the Saints get back on their feet, especially after an arson attack destroyed the old clubrooms.

“All the other clubs have been really good - they all wanted us to get a win this year,” he said.

“They could see we were building towards one and as you would expect, they all wanted us to win one, but not against them.”

At the end of the day it was Tantanoola who gave up the points but the football community in the region which will benefit from the lime-light.

Ploenges said the magnitude of the victory has finally sunk in, after a few hectic days of interviews and phone calls.

“After the final siren, I was on a real high and pumped for everyone who has stuck with us,” he said.

“The word has been about and the recognition we have got from all over the place has been unbelievable.

“We finally got our reward with that win.”

Tough clash for Eagles

By Lachlan Onions

Penola will take on the Mundulla Tigers in Round 9 of Kowree Naracoorte Tatiara football on Saturday in what will likely prove to be a sizeable challenge.

The Eagles have lost their last six games and take on the second-placed Tigers who will be eyeing this clash as a chance to return to form.

Mundulla lost its Round 8 clash to the undefeated Lucindale by three points and claimed a narrow one-point win over Naracoorte in Round 7.

Penola coach Brad Maney is under no illusions of the task his side face this weekend.

“We just want to be competitive for four quarters,” he said.

“We are not going into the game with any false hope.”

He said he hopes his team proves themselves as a difficult side to defeat.

“I think we have been hard to beat for periods of time,” Maney said.

“You can look across our last five or six games and in every one of those games in half-time or three-quarter-time, we were in a winnable position, which is really pleasing.”

He said a win is not far away for the Eagles if his side continues to develop.

“We are getting there, it is hard for people to see from the outside with us losing but we are getting there and making a lot of growth.

“I think we are really close, the next two games against Mundulla and Lucindale, we will learn a lot against the best two sides.

“We are going into a run home where I think we can string some wins together.”

The Eagles will need a strong performance from the backline when they face the strength of Mundulla’s forwards.

Penola heads into the game without its ruckman, Sam Hayes, who sprained ligaments in his foot during his side’s loss to Kingston in Round 8.

The Tigers enter the clash as hot-favourites against a Penola side which is looking to find consistency for the second half of the season.

Strong run

By Lachlan Onions

Penola’s Kate McDonald claimed another Tower Trail Run victory in the 21km event, six years after her first win.

McDonald was first in the Women’s competition and finished 13th overall out of 48 competitors.

“I felt really good about this one because I haven’t won this race since I started, so it is good to know you have still got it,” McDonald said.

“I had to try really hard because the girl who came second was much better on the uphill than I was, so she led for the first lap.

“I passed her early on the second lap but knowing I had to stay in front of her, I had to push myself really hard to run the up the hills a lot harder than I normally would.”

Her dedication to running has seen her run at least 5km every day for the last five years.

“It has become a force of habit but when you are training for an event you have to do longer distances,” McDonald said.

Along with running every day, she will take part in an event each month.

“21km is the shortest distance I will do,” McDonald said.

“Last year I did a 115km event and that was my first event over 100km.

“I am building up to do the event again this year.”

She said to run upwards of 100km is very difficult and is made even more challenging by the elevation changes on the mountain trails.

McDonald said mental strength is a major part of being able to run such long distances.

“Sometimes when you are in the event it is not so bad but mentally getting there is hard because imagining doing 100kms is too hard for your brain,” she said.

“There is a whole strategy, you are constantly thinking about what you are going to do and where you are going to push yourself.”

McDonald also previously won the 56km Tower Trail run at Mount Gambier and has taken part in the 56km event three times over the last six years.

Tess Porter will look to have an impact in the mid-court when Penola takes on Mundulla in Round 9 of Kowree Naracoorte Tatiara netball.

Penola in strong position to take on Mundulla Tigers

By Lachlan Onions

Penola heads into the second half of the Kowree Naracoorte Tatiara netball season in a strong position as it sits sixth on the ladder, just two wins behind top spot.

The Eagles return to the court after two weekends without action due to the State Championships break and a bye in Round 8.

Penola can move to within one win of top spot this Saturday as the league-leaders have a bye this weekend.

The Eagles will be confident of claiming the two points when it takes on Mundulla.

Mundulla has won just the one game this season and is currently second-last on the ladder.

The Tigers head into the game off the back of a 25-goal loss to Lucindale on the weekend.

Chantelle Fromm will be the Tigers’ main attacking outlet as she has scored 141 goals in seven games this season.

She will be supported by Kellsey Hinge in attack.

The pair will take on Brooke Klemm and Maddy Teakle who have been rock-solid defensively for Penola this season.

However, the Mundulla shooters will look to expose any cobwebs from Penola who would not have played for three weeks by the time they hit the court.

April Possingham will look to continue her lethal shooting form this season.

Possingham scored 60 goals in her last game and has 256 goals from six games this season.

Penola will also look to utilise Tess Porter in the mid-court after she was runner-up with the KNTNA Under 17’s side in the Division 2 SA Country Championships held recently.

The FightMND Foundation has taken the country by storm in recent years, growing awareness for those living with Motor Neuron Disease.

Current Millicent Football Club president Joel Redman noted the importance of day and said it was an easy decision to support the foundation.

"It was one of the easiest decisions you can make as a club committee to support something like that and show our support for Terry."

"He is a past president of the club and has been responsible for quite a lot of assistance with the grants we have been successful in for the changerooms, the netball courts, scoreboard and any number of other things," Redman said.

Beanies, socks, stubby holders and a range of merchandise was available from the club over the day, capped off by a function after matches were completed.

Redman was pleased with the response from the club and a sea of blue spread its way over McLaughlin Park on the day.

Redman said funds were still being collated and a total amount raised was unavailable at the time of print.

However, after the positive response this year Redman said the club aims to grow the initiative next season.

Saints flex their strength

By Lachlan Onions

Kingston 15.24 (114) d Penola 8.6 (54)

It was another disappointing result for Penola as it lost by 60 points to Kingston at home in Round 8 of Kowree Naracoorte Tatiara football on Saturday.

The Eagles got off to a flying start and took control of proceedings early on.

Penola's star defender, Brad Merrett gave his side the first goal of the game with a great kick from almost 50 metres out.

Momentum was with Penola when Sam Gartner extended the home side's lead with a goal of his own.

Drew Clayfield marked his return from injury with the third goal of the game to give his side a 15-point lead.

The Eagles fought hard in the backline and forced a number of rushed behinds as the first quarter ended with the Saints goalless but with eight points on the board.

Fresh off the back of a successful performance in the regional carnival, Jacob Robbie kicked Penola's fourth goal of the game to give his side an 18-point lead shortly after quarter-time.

The Saints' strength soon showed as James Siviour kicked Kingston's first goal of the game.

However, Zac Deane continued to apply the pressure at centre-half forward and scored the Eagles' fifth goal of the game to give his side a 32-15 lead midway through the second term.

Kingston created plenty of opportunities but was not clinical in the forward line throughout the early stages of the second quarter.

However, a surge in momentum saw the Saints kick two quick goals to make it just a five-point game.

The Eagles could not handle the sudden shift in momentum and trailed by 14 points at the main break.

After a competitive opening half, the third quarter was a polar opposite as Kingston dominated the third term and kicked eight goals to Penola's two.

It was a 74-point turnaround for the Saints as they went into the final change with a lead of 57 points, after they trailed by 17 midway through the second quarter.

Both sides kicked the solitary goal in the final quarter and Penola succumbed to its seventh loss of the season.

Siviour and Todd Lockwood proved too strong for the Eagles' backline as they combined for seven goals.

Brock Egan clears the ball towards Penola's forward 50 during the Eagles' loss to Kingston on Saturday.

"We are trying to remain upbeat," Penola coach Brad Maney said.

"Obviously there are challenges when you're not getting the wins on the board but there is a lot of optimism."

He said his side played well for 45 minutes on Saturday and started the game "really well" but was frustrated by his side's inability to perform for the entire four quarters.

"When they (Kingston) turned it on, we were just unable to stop the freefall," Maney said.

"I felt our back six were beaten on the day, myself included, I was beaten on Saturday."

Despite the difficult results, Maney's side has continued to persevere as they search for their second win of the season.

"The attitude of the group has been fantastic," he said.

"I feel like they are fully behind me, which is saying something considering we have won one game.

"They just want to get better.

"We pride ourselves on our mindset and how we approach games."

Maney said there was still positives to take from the game despite the disappointing final score.

"Our ball movement was the best it has been all year," Maney said.

"Scott Merrett was huge.

"It was a vintage performance from Scott, he was dominant in the contest.

"He is such a powerful, aggressive footballer and he set the tone for us all day.

"When he plays like he did, it means so much to our young group.

"I thought Brad Bryant was really good across the four quarters, as was Brock Egan and I was really pleased with second-gamer Brayden Smith.

"I felt he led the ball really well and provided options.

"The most pleasing forward of the day was Zac Deane.

"He has been enormous for us, his work-rate on Saturday was AFL-like and we couldn't be happier with getting him over this year and the way he is performing."
