Top of the class

Penola High School has celebrated a remarkable achievement, with 100 per cent of their year 12 cohort completing their SACE.

SACE results were announced on Monday, with the top ATAR results in Penola going to Aaron Zerk with a score of 84 and Kiana Cabarubias, who received a score of 79.95.

Principal Steve Carli-Seebohm congratulated all Year 12 students on their achievements.

"It's always exciting to see 100 per cent completion. This number reflects the hard work and dedication of not just the students to their studies, but to the teachers who have guided and supported them across the year," he said.

"I am immensely proud of each Stage 2 student from Penola High and what they have achieved."

Students completing in 2022 represent the first cohort to spend their entire SACE journey in the COVID-19 pandemic. Despite this, a record high 98.7 per cent of Year 12s finished their SACE in 2022.

Further to this, a record 27,095 students completed a Year 12 subject in 2022.

Of these, 806 students are of Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander (ATSI) descent, representing a 16.3 per cent increase for these students.

SACE Board Chief Executive Michaela Bensley said she is proud of this year's students' toughness and ability to shine through a period of uncertainty.

"Whilst previous completers experienced disruption from COVID, we're now seeing the first group of SACE students who have only known COVID through their SACE. Their Year 10, 11 and 12 classes have all been disrupted, especially through a Year 11 of lockdowns and remote learning," she said.

"It's important for students to have a strong connection with their school especially their friends and teachers.

"Throughout 2022, both students and teachers have shown an incredible amount of resilience and adaptability to stay connected. I'm looking forward to hearing more about their stories and the amazing things this group will go on to achieve."

Christmas wishes from Mayor Noll

By Des Noll

Christmas Greetings to you all,

I write to you in the spirit of Christmas and of goodwill.

This is a time when we all reflect on a child that was born in a manger. The story of the wise men bearing gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh and their search for the baby Jesus, the promised child.

A beautiful reminder of why we celebrate Christmas.

Christmas is a time of giving, it is the time to share love, peace, and joy.

This season we will give our attention to our loved ones and friends. We will give out gifts and hugs or give someone a seat at our table, there are so many things that we can give.

The festive season is here, and many of us will be fortunate enough to be able to spend time together this year after so many celebrations were cancelled during the pandemic. It has been my greatest pleasure to be able to connect with many of you in various settings and celebrate this joyous occasion.

Wattle Range Council is lucky to have many community groups, volunteers and businesses who all contribute to Wattle Range, and I would like to take this opportunity to thank every one of you who supported our great towns in your own special way.

Over the past year Council has worked hard with local organisations as well as State and Federal Governments to promote investment, advocate and foster growth for our communities. The coming year of 2023 will undoubtedly hold challenges for us, but together we will strive to ensure the Council region is a safe and prosperous place for all to live and work.

On behalf of Councillors and Staff of the Wattle Range Council, I would like to wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and a safe, healthy, and happy new year.

Mayor Des Noll

Father Lyndon Sulzberger of St Mary's Anglican Church Penola spreads the Christmas message.

Never too old for Christmas

As you walk down the Main St of Penola you can see the Lovely Nativity set that is in the Window of Terry and Loretta's Shop Never too Old.

This started me thinking about a comment someone made to me when I wished them a Happy Christmas this year, their reply to me was "oh I'm too old for that Christmas stuff" and it struck me that really they must say that because they don't understand the true meaning of Christmas.

The true meaning of Christmas is that Love came down in the form of Baby to show the world a better way. Love is the greatest gift we can ever give and the greatest gift we can ever receive. Love is the reason we give the gifts to others, to loved ones and family members to show how much we love them and you are never too old for that.

This Christmas may you know the Love that is there for all and may you and your family experience this love now and always

I wish all a loving and Happy Christmas.

Father Lyndon Sulzberger of St Mary's Anglican Church, Penola.

Millicent aged care ratings are positive

Star ratings for aged care facilities have been introduced after a recommendation from The Royal Commission into Aged Care Quality and Safety.

Both Millicent's aged care providers Boneham Aged Care Services (BACS) and Sheoak Lodge received a three star rating which puts them in the same category as 59 percent of other providers nationwide.

The ratings are calculated on resident experience, compliance, quality measures and staffing and will be adjusted every quarter.

BACS Chief Executive Officer Michael Filsell said

"We are comfortable with that in terms of the compliance level, what we are really happy about is the sub-sections based around consumer experience and feedback.

"The resident's feedback direct to the agency was very positive and was four out of five for that category.

"That is probably what we hang our hat on in terms of what we do at Boneham.

"The relationship and the service we deliver to the residents was very good.

Mr Filsell is optimistic the organisation can achieve a four star rating in the future with the employment of a human resource manager already impacting on the previous staffing figures recorded for the ratings just released.

Star ratings can be accessed via the Australian Government's My Aged Care website.

Learn more about Penola and it's story

In association with State Heritage, Penola's branch of National Trust SA has developed a mobile phone app called SA Heritage, to enable people to learn more about historic sites within Penola on self guided tours.

The following is one of the subjects from this app.

Donald Mcdonald's Home

In 1868 Alexander Cameron had a stone cottage built for Donald McDonald, publican of the Royal Oak Hotel, to separate his private life from his business life. He and his family occupied the cottage until 1883. During that time Donald's sister, Flora and her family, which included her daughter Mary MacKillop, were frequent visitors.

This property was purchased in 1888 by Leonard William Peake, who in 1889 added part of the section facing Riddoch Street and named it St Helier after his former Channel Island home in Jersey. An extension was added to the stone cottage in 1899. Leonard Peake served for thirty five years as District Clerk and his youngest son Lyle R Peake for eighteen years. Another son Archibald T L Peake, a schoolteacher, occupied the building until the early 1920s.

It became a private hospital owned and run by Sister Margaret A (Daisy) McKay in 1930 with Dr Bourke in attendance. Matron Florence Hill of Kalangadoo became the owner in 1937 and there was accommodation for ten patients with renovations providing installation of electric light, an equipped operating room and the availability of surgical, medical and obstetric cases. In 1944 it was purchased by Dr Oaten to become the Penola District Hospital and a men's ward, nurses' quarters, staff room, bathroom and morgue were added. After a new hospital was built in 1955, this building was divided into flats to accommodate emigrant Catholic families fleeing Europe after World War 11.

In the 1970s it was in a state of disrepair and was purchased by the Symons family as a residence and carefully restored. The building continues in that capacity.

Festivities hit the streets

By Caroline Hammat

Christmas activity is in full swing throughout the region with local shoppers encouraged to look local for those last minute gifts.

The Millicent Business Community Association (MBCA) has encouraged local businesses to take advantage of Christmas Eve's Saturday date by staying open until 5pm.

To encourage shoppers to the town centre on the day there are a series of activities and entertainment planned by the MBCA throughout George and Davenport Streets.

Santa will be roaming throughout the shopping district on the day.

At 9am a find the Elf on the Shelf competition hosted by the Wattle Range Council begins.

Those who locate all five elves wearing the WRC logo will go into the running for hundreds of dollars worth of vouchers.

Dave Jenkins will be performing live and busking from 11.30 in the Anglican Church yard followed by Jack Lane on the Grand Hotel balcony at 1pm.

Glitterbug Face and Body is booked for the afternoon and will be sited in the courthouse alcove.

Christmas tree speed decorating, gift wrapping and the return of the popular Christmas eve basketball shooting competition are all taking place.

The basketball shootout held by Denton Sportspower is for children aged between 5-10 and will be held in the Ignition Fitness outdoor gym area.

Participants are asked to register instore before the event begins at 12.45pm with the winner taking home a basketball system valued at $350.

Activities will wind up around 4pm with the announcement of the House lights up competition and Shop window display winners revealed.

Member for Barker Tony Pasin MP is encouraging residents of Barker to 'Go Local First' in the lead up to Christmas.

Mr Pasin was supporting small businesses in Barker through the 'Go Local First' campaign; a national communications campaign targeted at promoting awareness of, and support for Australia's 3.5 million small businesses.

port for Australia's 3.5 million small businesses.

"Small businesses are deeply engaged with their communities, including through sporting clubs, local schools, social and community groups. They support our communities and it's up to us to support them by ensuring that as much as possible, our dollars are spent locally," Mr Pasin said.

"Spending with local small businesses keeps money within our communities, helping the local economy thrive," said Mr Pasin.

Fiona Telfer, Chair of the Millicent Business Community Association, said Millicent had a well-connected business community who were an integral part of the community and actively working together to promote the benefits of shopping locally.

"The message to support our small businesses is so important. There are many benefits to shopping local and it's why the MBCA have created a dedicated event for Christmas Eve to encourage people to come back to the main streets of Millicent. It's a family friendly event all about coming together and shopping in your local community," said Ms Telfer.

Community Christmas appeal brings people together

By Caroline Hammat

Community organisations and volunteers from Millicent Combined Churches joined forces with Wattle Range Council last week to pack and gift 200 food hampers for those who registered for the Community Christmas Appeal (CCA) assistance this year.

The appeal raised enough funds to purchase the required number of hampers through Foodbank who also supplied fresh fruit and vegetables to add further value.

Support came from across the community with Millicent Lions Club donating Christmas cakes and local supermarkets supplying bags and boxes for packing the goods.

Toys and gifts were collected and donated by a number of places including the Southern Ocean Tourist Park, Millicent North and St Anthony's primary schools.

Six Kimberly-Clark Australia (KCA) employees, including mill manager Adam Carpenter, were on hand to assist with packing the goods before collection day.

KCA have supported the appeal for many years and donated a range of paper products to include with the hampers.

Assisting with the hampers was Wattle Range Mayor Des Noll and long term volunteer Robyn Evans.

"I'm going to be delivering some to Penola, Kalangadoo and Mount Burr this afternoon for people that are unable to travel we will go to them" Mayor Noll said.

"It's all about our community coming together, working together as a connected community to support those that are less fortunate than ourselves.

"Not leaving anybody behind over the Christmas festive season."

Ms Evans has a long history with the appeal and said she liked helping people.

"It's been 37 years as a volunteer with St Vincent dePaul, starting in the old school buildings behind the South East Family History Group."

"Then it was picked up by the combined churches and we used to have a fete every year.

"I do it because I like to help people, I don't like people going without."

Busy ensuring hampers and gifts were distributed last week are Wattle Range employees Sarah Marzec and Amy Lawlor with John Muckray, Salvation Army Corps Leader Tim Frost, Robyn Evans, Mayor Des Noll and Millicent Combined Churches president Shaun Mulick.

New words for civil prayer

Wattle Range Councillors will no longer pray the “almighty god” before meetings, following a vote at the last council meeting.

Last week, councillors voted to adopt new wording for the civil prayer.

Councillor Dale Price raised the matter, stating he wanted to adopt a more inclusive approach to the prayer.

“I am not seeking to take away a person's capacity to speak or pray to their god, whoever that may be, but I am giving people from other faiths the ability to speak to their god,” he said.

“I think this change will address the thinking and the aspirations of each one of us as councillors and I am mindful that it is a personal statement between myself and the deity I want to address.”

Councillor Peter Dunncliff agreed.

“I can see Councillor Price's point, because if the word god is in there and that's not your deity, you would be speaking dishonestly,” he said.

Mayor Des Noll said he had spoken with local pastors over the weekend about the issue and read out a short prayer.

Councillor voted to change the prayer, removing the words almighty God and Amen.

Councillors will now say ‘We pray that in this meeting we speak honestly, listen attentively, think clearly and decide wisely, for the good of our District and the wellbeing of our people.’

They also voted to adjust the welcome to country.

Mr Price said he wanted the acknowledgement to be ‘more inclusive’

“Previously we had quite a narrow statement. I would like to recognize that this community has many people who have made this country a place of envy to the world,” he said.

“I would like to have this as a statement because it is more inclusive to people of all ethnic backgrounds.”

The new wording will replace the previous acknowledgement and replace it with the wording ‘We acknowledge the Boandik people as the traditional custodians of the land on which we meet. We pay respect to all Australians who have made and continue to make a positive contribution to our culture and way of life.’

Houses light up the night

By Caroline Hammat

Many families will be staying up late to drive around Millicent and district to admire the Christmas lights on display.

A variety of houses and businesses have spent valuable time decorating for the festive season and community members are encouraged to enjoy the displays in the days before Christmas.

Dave McIntosh has decorated his Mount Gambier Road home for the third year in a row and said he does it because the kids love it.

“Both big kids and little kids” Mr McIntosh said.

Mr McIntosh previously lived in Melbourne where they had a much larger display that took around seven months to install and pull down each year.

The Mount Gambier Road house is a smaller garden but Mr McIntosh explained it still takes around 10 weeks to install the display and will probably take four to six weeks to take it down.

“The important thing is you have to remember how you put it up, because you have to take it down in reverse, because everything is layered.”

Mr McIntosh encourages people to wander into his front garden and will have Santa on site Thursday, Friday and Saturday night between 8.30pm and 10pm for photo opportunities.

Many of the homes decorated are also available to vote for in the 2022 Christmas Lights Spectacular sponsored by local businesses.

Brax Thomas and Tyler Ryan see what is on offer at the snack bar before sitting down to watch the movie.

Outdoor movie is a winner

By Caroline Hammat

Warm weather was perfect for family and friends as they gathered at the Domain on Sunday evening to watch A boy called Christmas on a large outdoor portable screen.

Approximately 130 people enjoyed the relaxed atmosphere with organisers receiving praise via a survey shared on the night.

Wattle Range Council (WRC) Manager Community Development Caroline Hill said

“The feedback was very positive, for some families it was the first time they had attended a WRC event and a 100 percent agreed they would attend a similar event again in the future.

“There were suggestions for how we could make it better, most said it was absolutely fantastic.

“There were a few ideas which we will consider for future events but it was definitely a winner.

“People said they enjoyed watching the movie with family and friends, they loved the venue and reflected it was a wonderful start for the school holidays and festive season.”

WRC are exploring other locations throughout the area for further screenings during the daylight savings period.

“There will definitely be movie nights during the better weather in some of the other areas, and given the very positive feedback it was greatly appreciated by the community.”

The Millicent North Primary School parents and friends group were fundraising by selling snacks and drinks on the night and the Millicent Lions Club manned the barbecue.

Gold coin donations were requested at the event to kick off the fundraising for next year's Community Christmas Appeal.

This is the third year the owners of 157 Mount Gambier Road have decorated the house for the festive season.

Many of the residents of Commercial Avenue in Millicent have taken the time to brighten their street with Christmas lights.

Ride-a-thon toward a goal

By Caroline Hammat

Millicent Pony Club members spent 24 hours raising funds through a ride-a-thon during the weekend with at least one person on a horse at all times.

The fundraising goal is $8,000 to build a permanent arena on the site instead of the temporary one used now which takes valuable time to install and take down.

The group were tasked with raising a minimum of $100 each and were actively calling for donations during the ride-a-thon.

With donations coming from old pony club members, and tourists and locals alike who happened to be driving past.

The small group of eight girls raised $2,800 toward their goal and are still accepting donations.

Dairy prices rapidly rising

Australian consumers are seeing significant price increases across dairy products – based on the national Consumer Price Index (CPI) data – with milk prices having risen at the fastest rate since records began, according to a new report by agribusiness banking specialist Rabobank.

In its Global Dairy Quarterly Q4 2022 – Walking the Tightrope into 2023, Rabobank says while the Australian consumer has shown resilience in the face of cost-of-living pressures, signs of dairy demand weakness are emerging as a willingness and ability to spend on discretionary items softens.

“Households are trading down to private label offerings, with volume declines in grocery and foodservice channels being more evident – it looks set to be a tough year ahead for Australian consumers,” report co-author Michael Harvey, senior analyst for Dairy and Consumer Foods at Rabobank, said.

“For Australia’s dairy producers, farmgate margins remain positive and are supported by the record milk prices,” Mr Harvey said. “Average farmgate milk prices across Australia’s Southern Export regions range between AUD 9.50-10/kgMS.

“The high milk prices have mostly offset major cost headwinds – fertiliser, fuel and feed – for dairy farmers. While labour availability remains a major challenge for dairy farming businesses,” Mr Harvey said Rabobank is not expecting further major lifts in milk prices as the season draws to a close.

Production

Rabobank is revising its milk production forecast downward for 2022/23, with the impact of production constraints, the result of flooding and excessive rainfall, becoming visible in the peak production months – October and November. The report said as of October, Australian milk production is down 6.6 per cent for the season to date, with widespread decreases across all states/regions.

“A wet summer is in play across much of eastern Australia– driven by the La Nina in the tropical Pacific Ocean and a negative Indian Ocean Dipole (IOD),” Mr Harvey said.

“And many dairy production regions on Australia’s east coast have been dealing with excessive rainfall and flooding.

“There has been significant feed and fodder losses as a result of the rain and flooding – it is one of the key challenges faced by impacted farms. Some supply chain/logistics issues have been reported as a result of the wet weather – including some dumping of milk – but not to the point of having a material impact on milk processing,” he said.

Dairy farmers can look forward to access to plenty of supplementary feed in the months ahead. Rabobank is expecting a large winter wheat crop, with harvest now underway – albeit somewhat delayed by rain and flooding.

Exports

Australia’s dairy exports continue to grow despite falling milk supply. Mr Harvey said this is supported by improvements in global freight markets and normalising consumer behaviour – post COVID – across export markets in Asia.

“Australia’s total dairy export volumes (tonnage) were four per cent higher in the first two months of 2022/23 season. However, it was a mixed bag – liquid milk exports are running strong, but it has been a slow start for cheese and whey,” he said.

Global outlook

Weaker global dairy markets remain a key theme as 2022 comes to a close, the report says. But there is clear divergence between regions and dairy products.

The Rabobank report says cheese and butter prices in the US and EU have performed the best, while Oceania Global Dairy Trade (GDT) powder and butter prices have been on the decline. Oceania skim milk powder (SMP) prices led the way, dropping 14 per cent on average from Q3 2022 end prices and plummeting 34 per cent since the peak in early Q2 2022.

Michael Harvey, senior analyst for Dairy and Consumer Foods at Rabobank.

The second half of 2022 has tested dairy’s affordability for importing countries. “China remains conspicuously quiet on the buying front compared to last year as it digests local inventories and imported stock,” the report said. “The US dollar lifted by six per cent on a broad dollar index basis at its peak during Q3, before eroding much of the gains by mid-November. Yet, weaker US dollar-priced dairy commodities have incentivised tier two and tier three buyers to return to the market, taking the opportunity to refill inventory pipelines as tourism returns and hospitality recovers.”

Rabobank expect the global milk supply ‘recession’ experienced for the past five consecutive quarters to end, with production having progressively declined over that period.

“Q4 2022 brought another period of weather-disrupted production to Oceania. But traces of life from the global export engines are sprouting, driven by Europe and the US. Rabobank expects milk supply will gain modest momentum in 2023 from most regions apart from Australia,” it said.

Milk production from the big seven dairy exporting regions – New Zealand, Brazil, Argentina, Uruguay, EU, US and Australia – is anticipated to grow by one per cent year-on-year, enough to offset the 0.8 per cent decrease in 2022 and remain on par with 2021’s production, the report said.

Meanwhile, consumption growth in some export regions is becoming more challenging as consumers juggle significant price increases in the dairy cabinet.

“Dairy demand in the US has remained defiant in the face of cost-of-living challenges, while European consumers are now feeling the pinch at the retail level. Some resilience in Southeast Asia is evident, but smaller sales volumes and downstream margin pressure illustrate the headwinds,” the report said.

Rabobank analysts say all eyes remain fixed on China.

“Buying patterns will remain subdued across 1H 2023 if rolling lockdowns remain a feature, milk production continues to be set on growth mode, and consumption wavers as challenging economic conditions take hold. China is likely to re-enter markets in Q2 with a bigger presence from Q3 2023 onward,” the report said.

The updated Kia Seltos will have all the bells and whistles which previous models could not have access to previously.

Kia Seltos has been given extra power and a tech upgrade for 2023.

Kia upgrades its small SUV

By Ewan Kennedy, Marque Motoring

Kia has given its Seltos SUV an update with enhancements to its styling, tech equipment and powertrain.

Seltos is one of four SUVs in the Kia range, smaller than the Sorento and Sportage but larger than the Stonic.

It has been on sale here since late 2019 and competes strongly against vehicles such as the MG ZS, Mitsubishi ASX and Hyundai Kona in the crowded small SUV market segment.

As before the new Kia Seltos comes with the choice of four variants: S, Sport, Sport+ and GT-Line. Likewise, there are two powertrains, a naturally-aspirated 2.0-litre Atkinson cycle unit and a 1.6-litre turbo-petrol Smartstream.

The latter engine has been upgraded with a 12% boost in power to 146 kW as well as a new eight- torque converter automatic transmission replacing the previous seven-speed DCT.

The 2.0 MPI engine retains the previous CVT transmission.

Styling changes are minor with a new front bumper and more prominent skid plate. Other changes vary according to the model.

Standard safety features include Front & Rear Parking Sensors, Intelligent Speed Limit Assist (ISLA), Lane Following Assist (LFA), Rear-Cross Traffic Collision Avoidance Assist (RCCA) and Blind-Spot Collision-Avoidance Assist (BCA).

Inside MY23 Seltos has been refreshed with analogue gauges now replaced by digital displays across the range. Seltos S features a compact digital driver display, while Sport, Sport+ and GT-Line trims gain a dual 10.25" display similar to the award-winning all-new Sportage and EV6, along with a newly designed Climate Control Panel.

Seltos Sport and above also get the new Kia Connect system providing benefits in safety, security, convenience, connectivity, and LIVE services by using telematics systems to transfer real time data, such as weather and traffic information.

The Kia Connect smartphone app allows users to connect with their vehicle remotely.

Drivers can sync calendars, plan journeys with online navigation and access onboard features including live traffic alerts and real-time weather forecasts.

Valet Mode protects the owner's personal information when being driven by a third party, by disabling control.

Vehicle Information created during Valet mode can be viewed from the Kia Connect App.

As with all Kia vehicles Seltos gets a seven-year, unlimited kilometre standard warranty.

We'll be testing the new Kia Seltos early in the new year and will report our findings then.

Honda's iconic Civic makes a return as a hybrid car

By Chris Riley, Marque Motoring

It's been several years since the Honda Civic range has included a hybrid.

But it's back, as promised, boasting fuel consumption of 4.2L/100km and CO2 emissions of 96 g/km.

Oddly, in releasing the car, Honda makes no mention of the fuel or emissions figures -- one needs to consult the specifications to extract those details.

If those numbers are of interest, then you might also be interested to learn the price, at $55,000 driveaway ($8000 more than the petrol only model).

The hybrid Civic e:HEV LX is the second stage of a three-phase rollout for the new generation of Honda's iconic small car.

It joins the 1.5-litre turbocharged VTi LX and will be followed soon by a high-performance Type R version in early 2023.

Civic is the third mainstream Honda model to be offered with an electrified powertrain in the Australian market, following HR-V and Accord.

The new Civic e:HEV LX has been engineered to ensure that its powertrain, steering and suspension deliver the engaging levels of performance, dynamic response and feedback that have always been central to Civic's appeal.

Honda says the result is a vehicle that blends a rewarding driving experience with high levels of real-world efficiency and refinement.

The newly developed e:HEV powertrain combines a power-dense lithium-ion battery and two compact, powerful electric motors with a 2.0-litre Atkinson-cycle petrol engine, which achieves exceptional thermal efficiency and features a direct-injection system optimised for faster and more efficient combustion and greater torque.

Honda Civic now comes with a petrol/electric hybrid option.

In addition to direct injection system, a number of technologies such as low temperature active catalyst and a modified intake port design contribute to improved fuel efficiency while achieving specific output.

The result is a combined maximum motor output of 135kW of power and 315Nm of torque, the highest outputs ever offered on a Civic with the exception of Type R, ensuring Civic e:HEV LX delivers a compelling driving experience.

Four drive modes -- Eco, Normal, Sport and a new Individual mode -- that allows separate control of the engine, transmission and instrument cluster.

This advanced powertrain is capable of shifting seamlessly between Electric drive, Hybrid drive and Engine drive to ensure optimum performance in both urban and highway driving.

The arrival of new Civic e:HEV LX also marks the introduction of Honda Connect, a mobile app and server platform that allows customers to access vehicle information and interact with their vehicle like never before, through a Telematics Control Unit (TCU).

Five years of Honda Connect services is included in the price and features "Geo-fence alert" that notifies anytime the vehicle enters/leaves a pre-set region.

A total of 11 airbags are fitted, including knee airbags for the driver and front passenger, along with new side airbags for the rear seats and a new front centre airbag to help prevent a collision between the driver and front passenger during a side impact.

Civic e:HEV LX, comes with a five-year unlimited kilometre warranty, five-year premium roadside assistance and five low-priced services.

YOUR WEEKLY TV GUIDE

JAMIE'S ONE-PAN CHRISTMAS

10, Thursday, 7.30pm

Don't let the joy of Christmas be usurped by a malady of unruly pots, pans, errant roasting pots, casserole dishes and mixing bowls. Let lovable, enthusiastic British chef Jamie Oliver (pictured) streamline your festive banquet. You'll eliminate any family fights over who is going to wash (and dry) a jumble of cooking paraphernalia and discover a new world of fuss-free festive feasting. Oliver's easy and delicious go-to dishes include a simple salmon gravlax starter, and fresh ways to whip up the turkey, roasted potatoes, Brussels sprouts and, of course, Yorkshire pudding. It's easy Christmas fare, with a delicious British flair.

WHAT'S ON THE BOX?

DOC MARTIN CHRISTMAS SPECIAL

ABC TV, Boxing Day, 7.30pm

After the annual pudding and ham overload on Christmas Day, this festive special will hit closer to the bone than usual (overindulging only heightens one's emotions). Pack the tissues and a celebratory drink as the titular grumpy doctor, his family and eccentric Cornish townsfolk say goodbye after 18 years and 10 seasons. In a move that will surprise no fan, Doc Martin (Martin Clunes, pictured with Caroline Catz) upsets Portwenn's children after he has the festive grotto closed down because he's paranoid Santa has something contagious. Afterwards, there's one final chapter to indulge in, with a behind-the-scenes look at Doc Martin's final hurrah in Farewell Doc Martin.

FLIP OR FLOP

9Life, Christmas Day, 8.30pm

In this final season of the reality renovation hit starring former real estate agents Tarek and Christina (both pictured), the tension is palpable between the divorced couple. After 10 seasons of the series – four of them separated – it was obviously time to split up their house-flipping partnership, but not before some of their most impressive, big-budget makeovers. In tonight's first episode, the bickering duo spend big on a townhouse in a sought after beach community. Later, they tackle a house in Anaheim, California, with some strange additions that could cause problems. While the cracks are showing in the renovators' relationship, these transformations are seamless.

DREAM LISTINGS BYRON BAY

Nine, Wednesday, 8.30pm

These days, every man and his dog wants to move to Byron Bay. The once-sleepy beach town is now clogged with the rich and famous, pushing property prices sky high. This flashy real estate series allows viewers to live vicariously, dreaming about which multimillion-dollar house they would snap up in a parallel universe where they had too much money. The only catch? We must follow the wheelings and dealings of eight local real estate agents to get a gander at the impressive homes. Tonight, agent Braden Walters (pictured) hustles to convince the owners of a unique property that he's the best one for the job. It's a topsy-turvy world where real estate agents are the stars.

Hallett hammers big bid

By Wade Aunger

Versatile wheel-man Brock Hallett is in superb form and he is coming for all four rounds of the 2022/2023 Clay-Per-View Sprintcars Speedweek.

The Queensland born, Portland Victoria based gasser who drives for the Withcott (QLD) GW Racing Team for Graeme, Wendy and Laurie Erhart picked up his second win of the season at Eastern Creek Speedway.

The former multiple Australian F500 champion has been a live wire since joining the Sprintcar ranks in 2015 and now, teamed up with the GW Racing Team, he is even more of a force to be reckoned with.

His speed at ECS this season and anywhere else he has chanced his hand at is proof.

"We've got a good thing going right now," GW Racing co-founder Graeme Erhardt said.

"We're excited about coming on the road and doing Speedweek.

"Brock is always fast at those venues and we feel like we've got a shot at winning.

"The team is really gelling right now and Brock is driving brilliantly."

The Murray Bridge Speedweek opener will always be a happy hunting ground for Hallett, who shot to prominence with World Series Sprintcars victory there in 2019/2020 and really made a statement to his rivals and fans about his emergence within the sport.

Driving the Ferguson Diesel/Alan Miller Training Triple X, with support from Keiser Wheels, Slade Shocks, and Shock Lab and with the engine program humming thanks to Scott at Inglis Race Engines, Brock Hallett has every chance to win the 2022/2023 Clay-Per-View Sprintcars Speedweek.

He will have particularly happy memories of Round One when he turns up to Murray Bridge Speedweek on December 26.

Speedweek dates: December 26, 2022 - Murray Bridge Speedway; December 28, 2022 - Borderline Speedway Mount Gambier; December 30, 2022 - Avalon Raceway Lara; January 1, 2023 - Premier Speedway Warrnambool.

All four nights of Speedweek will be live streamed through Clay-Per-View.

Goodyer shows form to eye off Speedweek series

By Wade Aunger

Tasmanian Sprintcar star on the rise Jock Goodyer has just recorded the best possible build up to the 2022/2023 www.clayperview.com Sprintcar Speedweek.

He stormed to victory in the gruelling "Max's Race" event last Saturday night at Premier Speedway Warrnambool by besting a 50-plus car field.

The 21-year-old screen printer from Launceston now sets his sights on victory in the lucrative $150,000 Speedweek series which kicks off at Murray Bridge this Monday - Boxing Day night.

With ace crew chief Hayden Kendrick now back on the spanners after a season with racing phenom Kyle Larson in the USA, the #T22 Platinum Prints/Goodyer Developments/Evolve Tiling Maxim is on song and on point ahead of the four nights in seven days battle that looms.

Goodyer showed he had plenty of speed at Eastern Creek Speedway earlier this season too where he was leading the A-Main before a Heim joint on the radius rod broke and he ground to a halt - remarkably without rolling over when he entered turn one at full speed.

That win in Sydney would have been added to his success in the NT Title and Darwin Titles and the Max Race have been his fourth trip to victory lane since August - that is pretty impressive sledding for the fourth-season racer.

"We were leading the Chariots (Of Thunder) series before I hurt my neck," Goodyer said.

"We didn't win any races in that deal, we were just consistently in the top four and five.

"I don't think we can afford to do that in Speedweek though, I think it's going to take wins."

Wins will pay handsomely too.

Should Goodyer or any other driver win all four nights of Speedweek they will pocket $30,000 plus a $15,000 bonus for winning the series.

Goodyer is driving young force with a chance to bank that $45,000 in seven days and now with a win in Max's Race to his credit he will have that little bit of extra swagger when he rolls into the pits this Monday night.

Speedweek dates: December 26, Murray Bridge Speedway; December 28, Borderline Speedway, Mount Gambier; December 30, Avalon Raceway, Lara; January 1, 2023, Premier Speedway, Warrnambool.

All four nights of Sprintcars Speedweek will be live streamed through Clay Per View.

Warriors’ show of strength

By Lachlan Onions

The Warriors triumphed over Lucindale in Round 8 of Millicent/Naracoorte cricket on Saturday.

Naracoorte batted first and took control of proceedings early after a commanding 80-run opening partnership between Jason McClure and Aaron Haines.

Daniel Lane claimed the first scalp for the hosts when he dismissed McClure for 41 runs to end the 16th over.

However, there was no reprieve for the Roos as Brad Redding and Haines kept the pressure on and continued to score freely.

The pair added 95 runs to the total before Josh Smith dismissed Redding LBW after an impressive performance.

Redding scored 63 runs off 53 balls and hit seven 4’s and three 6’s.

With just under six overs left, Loren Bald made his way out o the middle and made as quickfire 34 in an impressive cameo off just 13 balls.

Haines carried the bat through to the end of the innings and finished not out on 62 runs.

After a dominant performance all-round with the bat, the Warriors posted a strong score of 3/227 off just 40 overs.

Lucindale started slowly in response and the Warriors claimed the key wicket of Shane McGurk after he added just four runs.

Will Graetz, Nathan James and Smith all made starts but failed to go on with it and make a proper indentation to the scorecard.

At 5/67, Lucindale had its back o the wall but Michael McGurk and Daniel McCarthy fought back for the hosts.

The pair combined for 91 runs before Bald found the breakthrough when he dismissed McGurk caught and bowled.

Michael McGurk led the way for the home side with 55 runs off 44 balls.

Bald then struck again shortly after when he dismissed Lane for a duck.

It was all downhill from there for the hosts as they were eventually bowled out for 196.

Aside from McGurk, McCarthy was the oth- er batter to impress with 49 runs from 60 balls.

Loren Bald led the way with the ball as he took 4/19 off five overs.

He was supported by Andrew Fitzgerald, who took 2/19 off eight overs.

The clash between the Naracoorte Townies and Millicent Blackcaps at Wortley Oval saw Naracoorte claim a six-wicket win.

Millicent batted first and ended its 40 overs at 9/161.

The Townies were led by Sam Henschke, who claimed three wickets in his eight-over spell.

He was supported by Bredon Smart and Jaspreet Singh, who took two wickets each.

In response, Smart led the way at number three with the bat and scored an unbeaten 52 runs to help his side claim victory in the 38th over.

Brodie Foster also impressed as opener and scored 40 runs before he was dismissed, while Shoukat Ali and Hadi Ali both made handy contributions for the hosts.

In the other games, Rendelsham was de- feated by Footballers Furner Beachport in the top of the table and the results from the Robe and Kingston game were unavailable at the time of print.

Kingston too strong for Penola in tennis match up

KINGSTON 22-157 d PENOLA 2-39

It was a difficult day for Penola at Kingston as the hosts claimed a comprehensive 20-set win in the latest round of Southern Ports tennis. Players had to contend with a typical Kingston sea breeze which made shots diffi- cult at times.

The hosts fielded a full strength side, while Penola was missing a few players which ulti- mately showed in the score-line.

Kingston’s Richard Martin filled in for Pe- nola and managed to win his men’s doubles clash alongside Josh Searle.

The pair downed Kingston’s Will Edwards and James Lehmann to claim a 9-5 win.

Penola’s other set was won in the mixed Doubles where Searle and Asha defeated Ed- wards and Erika Watson 7-5.

In other clashes, scores were mostly one- sided with Daniel Hackwill and Shay Merrett the only pair to test Kingston as they went down 6-4 in the number one mixed doubles contest. It was a dominant display of tennis from Theresa Mule, who failed to drop a single game in her three sets.

ROBE ROOSTERS 14-145 d
ROBE REBELS 10-138

The Roosters proved too good for the Roosters and claimed the Lewis Ling Cup in this year’s Robe Showdown. It was a tight contest throughout the day and 14 sets were decided by two games or less.

The Roosters started strongly and won five of the six mixed doubles in amidst some tight tussles.

It was a captivating contest in the singles with both teams winning six sets each.

Tom Emery and Mason Keane put on a show on centre court with the former having two set points before Keane fought to push the game to a tie-breaker where he claimed victory.

With six doubles sets to play, then Roost- ers held a 11-7 lead.

However, the Rebels fought back and set up a thrilling climax with wins in the next three sets.

With pressure mounting, the Roosters stood tall and won the final three sets to claim a 14-10 victory and take home the cup.

Mason Keane and Jade Regnier both won three sets for the Rebels, while the Roosters’ Egan Regnier, Paul Rains, Hamish Steven- son, Alex Clements, Leanne Cameron and Lisa Hall won all of their sets.

NARACOORTE 14-125 d

LUCINDALE COCKATOOS 10-113

Naracoorte continued its impressive run of form when it downed the Cockatoos by four sets. Naracoorte started the day strongly with wins in four of the six mixed doubles clashes.

The top men’s clash was an enticing en- counter as Sam Sherwin and Sid Malone went head-to-head.

Their contest went to a tie-break, where Malone took out the honours.

Youngsters Lucy Midwinter and Alice Redding both had impressive wins, while in his second game of the season, Harvey Koch went down 6-1 to Richard Pilmore.

Singles wins to Jack Grundy, Peter Lawrie and Matt Drew kept the Cockatoos in the game but Naracoorte was too strong and won four of the final six doubles games.

FRANCES/LUCINDALE EAGLES 18-144 d
LUCINDALE WOMBATS 6-98

The Eagles claimed a comprehensive victory over the Wombats in the final round before the Christmas break.

The match up of the day was between Eliza Handbury and Tarrant Fudge.

Handbury fought hard all day and played some superb shots but was narrowly de- feated 7-6 in the singles and 10-9 in the top men’s doubles.

The only three set winner for the Wom- bats was Trevor Smart, while the Eagles had several players put in a perfect performance with three-set wins.

LUCINDALE KOALAS 14-129 d
BEACHPORT 10-117

The Koalas started strongly and won four of the six mixed doubles contests.

There were some close singles matches with Leanne McCarthy winning 6-4 over Lucy Corman after a long break.

Casey Weaver and Kylie Ware also im- pressed in the singles and won 6-1 and 6-4.

The top three Beachport men were in good form and all claimed victories in their sets.

Alec Ross had a great day as he won two tiebreakers.

At the end of Round 9 action, Naracoorte and Frances/Lucindale are both on top with 13 points.

The Koalas are close behind on 12, while the Wombats, Kingston and Beachport round out the top six.

Tennis will return on January 21 with games at Robe, Beachport, Penola and Lu- cindale.

Jeremy Kent won the 2022 Champion of Champions shoot-off at Burrungule Park on the weekend.

Kent supreme in shoot off

South East Field and Game held its Christmas sporting clays event on the weekend.

The day kicked off at Burrungule Park with the Champion of Champions shoot off, contested by all monthly high gun winners for the year.

Jeremy Kent claimed the annual honours for the 20-target old style sporting layout, but it did not come easily.

A three-way sudden death shoot off was required to determine the result, after Kent, Jamie Dunn and Ron Rhook all tied on 17/20.

Kent prevailed to earn the Kevin Dyson

Trophy for 2022.

Another notable effort came from wildcard entrant Ben Hastings, as the promising junior shot a 16/20.

Following the Champion of Champions event, a field of 94 competitors took part in the 50-target Christmas Sporting Clays shoot.

Ken Atkin set a challenging course to test shooter's skills and fresh from his victory in the earlier shoot off, Kent won the day with a 48/50.

His solid score included the only possible 25, to claim the high gun.

Other strong performances came from Tony Sellars who won A Grade with 47/50 and Kain Ashby's 43/50 to claim the Sub-Juniors honours.

Pleasant change in offshore conditions welcomed

By Jamie Coates

At long last we are finally getting that lick of sun that we have all been craving.

The forecast is for a bit of heat, calm seas and light winds, the three things that we all look for down here.

There has not been a tonne of action from the last week, but the below average conditions have a major part to play in that.

However, there were a few anglers who hit the water.

The offshore fishos in the South East have had a rough trot in the recent months.

We have copped wind, big seas and unseasonal cold weather, but there have been windows of opportunity and we have made the most of it.

The bottom fishing in the 60-100m depths has been excellent.

Plenty of shark, snapper, nannygai, morwong and flathead to go around, with both traditional bait fishing and jigging getting the job done.

Fishing out over the shelf is still very productive when the conditions allow, with hapuka, blue eye, pink ling and gemfish all getting a mention, plus the other weird and wonderful things that come up from the depths.

Tuna news has been a bit patchy from the Beachport and Robe area, but there have been schools spotted again this past week, although I am yet to hear any anglers having a fish for them.

The upcoming Christmas week looks like it is going to be good, so it would not surprise me if we see one caught before the year's end.

Much like the offshore fishos, the beach and surf anglers have been peppered by the bad weather.

There has been weed and soft beaches to contend with, but despite all that, there have still been some great fish caught.

Snapper have still dominated what I am hearing, with some solid samples coming from right along the coast.

There have been some chunky 60cm and bigger fish coming from the Nene Valley and Jones Bay area, but the weed through there has been a bit of a headache.

Canunda has been a bit cleaner on the weed front this week and I am hearing of a plenty of salmon through there, plus some great sharks after dark.

With the incoming holidays and no doubt a massive influx of interstate tourists hitting our beaches, just be careful on the tracks in there.

It is only one vehicle wide all the way through so keep an eye out for sand flags on the hills, stick to the tracks and we will get to enjoy the place for many more years to come.

Whiting anglers have had a ball this past week.

While there has been plenty of stir going on, there has been plenty of whiting.

Inside the Port MacDonnell breakwater has been red hot and even with strong winds, it is still a fishable area.

The land-based guys are also getting in on the action, with the jetty producing some great fish in the evenings.

Surf anglers have found some nice fish along the Nene Valley and Blackfellows Caves beaches in the late arvos or early mornings, with some of the fish down that way well over 45cm.

I have heard reports from Beachport, Robe and Cape Jaffa by the whiting fishos, so those areas are all worth a crack if you are up there.

Garfish have been good when the weather has been kind.

The waders have probably fished more than the boaties in recent weeks thanks to the conditions, but the fish have been good enough to not have to get the boat wet anyway.

The usual haunts such as Cape Douglas, Pelican Point and Livingstons Bay have all been productive, as have most of the other protected but lesser-talked-about bays around the South East.

Tommies are still pretty small, but the odd bit bigger fish is starting to turn up in a few areas.

Silver trevally and mullet are still sniffing around too, but can become a bit of a pest after a while.

The Glenelg River is producing some more lovely fish, with bream and perch on the menu for most.

The sandflats of the estuary has been good for boaties and waders, with baits and soft plastics both getting the job done nicely.

Cut whitebait, cut crab or podworm are go-to baits, or 2.5inch grubs or three-inch minnow style soft plastics for those who prefer lures.

There were whispers of a big mulloway down the river over the last week or so.

I have seen the photo and it is a very big fish, a 22kg fish, but that is all I know.

I do not know the date, the time, the area or anything else about it, but it is an absolute ripper.

The forecast looks very good in the lead up to Christmas.

Plenty of sunshine, flat seas and light winds will be an absolute delight to locals and visitors.

Let's hope we see plenty more of the same in the coming weeks.

From the crew down here at Spot On Fishing Mount Gambier, we wish everyone a safe and merry Christmas and a massive thank you for your continued support through this last year – and the 30 before it.

Until next week, safe fishing.

Winged warriors to hit the speedway

With the Clay-Per-View Sprintcar Speedweek fast approaching, 21 entries were confirmed when nominations closed.

Among those entered are some of the best in the sport in Australia, set to provide plenty of action over the four days of the series, including Wednesday, December 28 at the Borderline Speedway.

Drivers will kick their campaigns off at Murray Bridge Speedway on Monday, December 26, coming from far and wide, including South Australia, Victoria, Queensland, New South Wales, Tasmania and Texas.

The field committed to all four nights is made up of hardened veterans, exciting newcomers and established stars alike, with a significant representation of local heroes looking to cause an upset at their home track.

Texan teenager Chase Randall flies into Australia with his family to link up with the DKM Motorsport team in Pakenham, ready to make his Australian debut.

The 2020 Australian champion Jamie Veal, current Classic winner Lockie McHugh, dual Australian champion David Murcott, dual Classic winner Steven Lines, multiple Australian 360ci Champion Ryan Jones are some of the highly decorated Aussies in the ranks.

Hot off recent A-Main wins and set to make bold attempts at their plays for Speedweek title glory are Tasmanian Jock Goodyer – who won the “Max’s Race” event at Premier Speedway, Warrnambool last weekend – and Queenslander Brock Hallett who has won two main events at Eastern Creek Speedway in the GW Racing entry.

South Australian livewires Luke Dillon, Daniel Pestka, Glen Sutherland, Chad Ely, Brendan Quinn and Scott Enderl all represent the Festival State.

Victorian Todd Moule has celebrated a win with the Australian Sprintcar All Star Series already this season so his confidence is boosted for Round 1 of Speedweek.

Queenslander Cody Maroske rocks with some serious firepower, while Tasmanian tear away Tate Frost cannot wait to rip.

NSW is led by established Broken Hill hard charger Brendan Guerin, plus youngsters Braydan Willmington and Ashton Mineeff.

Drivers will be ready for action when they reach the Borderline Speedway for Round 2, with Murray Bridge behind them and any bugs ironed out.

Hopefully the weather plays its part and some serious racing can take place.

Speedweek dates:

Don’t rule out Dillon

By Wade Aunger

He is one of the most qualifiers in Australian Sprintcar Racing and he is locked in for all four nights of the Clay-Per-View Sprintcar Speedweek commencing on December 26.

Never without speed and always with the street smarts of a man who has now spent 20 years in the Sprintcar saddle, Luke Dillon is just as determined as ever to cause an upset over his younger rivals.

With over 30 main event wins to his credit, including victories at all of the CPV Sprintcar Speedweek venues, the second-generation South Australian star has no reason to believe he can not get the job done in his Maxwill-motored Triple X.

“To be honest it would be nice to have done some more racing than we have leading into Speedweek, but everyone’s pretty well in the same boat,” Dillon said.

“We’ve had a first and a third at Murray Bridge so far this season, but we’ve had five rain-outs and one cancellation too.

“It hasn’t been ideal in terms of track time.”

Dillon has the #81 Action Line Marking/South West Conveyancing/Devil Karts entry prepped, primed and ready and he would love nothing more than to his repeat his stunning 2014-15 Speedweek Series victory.

The cartage contractor from Flagstaff Hill SA remains as one of the most versatile and capable racers the City of Churches has ever produced and ruling him out of www.clayperview.com Sprintcars Speedweek success would be gutsy and unwise.

Speedweek dates:

- December 26, 2022 - Murray Bridge Speedway; December 28, 2022 - Borderline Speedway Mount Gambier; December 30, 2022 - Avalon Raceway Lara; January 1, 2023 - Premier Speedway Warrnambool.

All four nights of Speedweek will be live streamed through Pay-Per-View.

Speedweek chase for Texan teenager Chase Randall

By Wade Aunger

Texan teenager Chase Randall is jumping right into the deep end of Australian Sprintcar racing. The eighteen-year-old from Waco is making his debut Down Under appearance this summer with the DKM Motorsport Team out of Pakenham Victoria and he is headed straight to the Clay-per-view Sprintcars Speedweek Series.

Four different tracks he’s never been to in seven days?

No problem.

The versatile Randall, who has had a fantastic season in the USA in 2022 in both winged and non-wing competition has his Dad Jon on the tools, along with Danny Mayson and the DKM team and the operation is ready to rip.

“This is a dream come true for our family and our team,” DKM Principal Danny Mayson said.

“We’ve always wanted to field an American driver in one of our cars and now it’s happening with Chase.

“The kid is a jet.

“We can’t wait.”

The DKM team is armed to the teeth with go-fast goodies for the Texan.

“Chase has just come off a really great season in the US and he’ll hit the ground running when he and his family arrive in Australia soon,” Mayson said.

“They work really hard on being successful with their program back in Texas and I know they’re already planning on continuing their good form down here.

“I speak to Chase’s Dad Jon (Randall) daily and he’s very determined to make Chase’s first trip in Australia a success.”

With an A-Main win haul in the double digits for 2022 already, the kid they call ‘The Quickest Chicken’ will add some serious wild card appeal to the Speedweek series.

Speedweek dates:

- December 26, 2022 - Murray Bridge Speedway; December 28, 2022 - Borderline Speedway Mount Gambier; December 30, 2022 - Avalon Raceway Lara; January 1, 2023 - Premier Speedway Warrnambool.

All four nights of Speedweek will be live streamed through Pay-Per-View.

Much is expected of the fast young Texan Chase Randall. Picture: SUBMITTED

MacDonald team holds out for title win

The Millicent Bowls Club held its Ladies Championship Fours on Sunday, with a close contest for the title.

All games up to the grand final were played over 15 ends and the grand final over 18 ends.

Skip Sarah Ross, Mary Campbell, Esther Scudds and Carol Gibbs faced off against skip Mac MacDonald, Robin Rolfe, Lorraine Hyland and Joy Warren.

The MacDonald team was off to a good start and after the fifth end led nine shots but by the 10th end the Ross team had closed the margin and trailed by just one shot.

The MacDonald side then settled and increased the lead to six shots by the 16th end.

It was enough to hold the Ross team out and claim the championship title for the 2022-23 season.

Winners: Mac MacDonald, Robin Rolfe, Lorraine Hyland and Joy Warren.

Small field for bowls

Just 20 players graced the greens for the Millicent Bowls Club 2-4-2 competition last week.

That included Ararat player Harold Briggs.

Peter Varcoe and Garth Baker claimed the win with a score of 35+15.

Runner-up honours went to Neil Whelan and Peter Bateman with a score of 33+16.

Other winning teams were Terry Barnes/Derk Pietersma 32+2; John Eldridge/Eddie Hann 31+5; John Buhlmann/Jim Campbell 30+5.

Runners-up: Neil Whelan and Peter Bateman.

Men's championship down to the wire

It was a dramatic end to the Millicent Bowls Club's Men's Championship Fours on Sunday.

A team consisting of Kym Stewart, Aaron Emonson, Steven Skeer and Eddie Hann stole the title on the final end of the game to claim the title after a to-and-from contest.

Leading up to the grand final all games were played over 15 ends, with the grand final going to 18 ends.

The team of skip Peter Scanlon, Steve Carnellor, John Buhlmann and Bill Davis faced off against skip Kym Stewart, Aaron Emonson, Steven Skeer and Eddie Hann.

By the fifth end the Scanlon team was five shots up and looking strong with the score at 8-3.

However, by the seventh end Stewart's team had pegged the margin back somewhat after a five on that end to take the score to 11-8.

As the game headed to the final end Scanlon's team was up 20-18 and with only the skippers' last two bowls to play, the team was holding the end and looked set to claim the title.

However, Stewart was able to pick up the jack to give his side three shots and the championship title.

Eagles claim big scalps

By Lachlan Onions

PENOLA 5/166 d MIL LEL 10/122

Penola moved up to second place on the ladder after a strong win over Mil Lel in Round 7 of the Barber Shield.

The Eagles won the toss and elected to bowl first at McCorquindale park, a decision which proved to be the right call early on.

In just the third over, Mil Lel opener William Rowland was caught behind off Lachy Jones's bowling for a nine-ball duck.

Jones continued his impressive start to the season with the new ball and claimed the scalp of Jarrod Sanders at the end of the fifth over to make it 2/12.

Craig Lock and Nick Walters looked to start a fightback but the partnership was broken when Zac Zema started his spell.

With his first ball of the day, he dismissed Lock LBW and it was only a taste of what was to come as he put in a five-star performance to end the day with figures of 5/29.

After a 26-run fifth-wicket partnership, the final five wickets fell at regular intervals the visitors were all out for 122.

Walters top-scored for Mil Lel with 24 runs off 65 balls, while Darcy Williamson scored 20 runs off 21 deliveries.

Jones and Jack Mullan both ended the innings with two wickets, with the former keeping it tight with an economy rate of just 1.5 runs per over.

In response, Mullan took the ascendancy from the outset and formed a 30-run partnership with Lewis March before the latter was dismissed for six runs.

Mil Lel claimed its second wicket when Walters bowled Tom Clayfield for a duck to end the 11th over at 2/42.

Mullan and Mark Smith then combined for a 22-run stand before Walters claimed his third wicket of the innings to dismiss Mullan LBW for 40.

This then brought Penola captain Drew Clayfield to the crease and momentum quickly shifted in the hosts' favour.

Clayfield helped the Eagles reach Mil Lel's total with an impressive captain's knock and scored 41 runs off 55 balls.

He was helped by Smith who scored 39 runs and ended the game not out.

The visitors claimed a couple of late consolation wickets and Walters ended the day with figures of 4/27, while Archer Virtanen took 1/13.

The win sees the reigning premiers surge back up to second place on the ladder, just one win behind the ladder leading West Gambier.

Penola's Division 1 Blue team went down to Mount Gambier RSL Red by 33 shots.

On Saturday, the Open Pennant teams both claimed victories in the final round before the Christmas break.

South East rules wicket

By Lachlan Onions

SOUTH EAST 5/165 d HAMILTON 9/120

The South East claimed a dominant victory over the Hamilton Hurricanes in the Women's Festival of Cricket on Sunday at Frew Park.

South East batted first and was under pressure from the outset after Liz Plew and Angela Donnelly were dismissed in the first two overs which meant the home side was in trouble at 2/8.

This brought Laura Chester and Chelsea Gabriel to the crease and the pair briefly reduced the pressure before the latter was dismissed for four runs.

At 3/34, the Hurricanes were well and truly on top but this quickly changed when Kathryn Vine joined Chester in the middle.

The duo combined for a 91-run partnership which shifted momentum back into the hosts' favour.

Fresh off being named player of the season in the South East Women's League, Chester continued her impressive run of form and punished Hamilton at every opportunity.

Chester backed up her unbeaten 72 in the grand final with another half century on Sunday.

It was boundaries galore with Vine and Chester out in the middle and the run-rate began to climb.

However, after a stunning individual performance, Chester was caught in the 19th over for 69 runs.

Fiona Young replaced Chester and after taking some time to get her eye in, followed suit and kept the runs ticking over alongside Vine.

The partnership lasted until the final over when Vine was dismissed after scoring an impressive 38 runs, while Young was unbeaten at the end of the innings and made a handy contribution of 23 runs.

With an imposing target set, the South East was comfortably in the box seat at the innings break.

Anna McGregor and Chester made their impact felt with the ball early and claimed the first two wickets for just three runs.

However, Widdicombe and Prendel fought back to restore some stability for Hamilton.

The South East's strength continued to shine through and the hosts claimed vital wickets every time the visitors found themselves back in the game.

Chester claimed the key wicket of Prendel in the 16th over after she scored 47 runs to make it 4/76.

With the danger player, dismissed South East flexed its strength and wickets began to tumble.

The away side made it to 9/120 at the end of the overs and the South East claimed a strong win in its first game of the year.

McGregor and Chester both impressed with the ball and picked up three wickets each, while Alysha Coon, Sharnna Mansell and Smart all claimed one wicket each.

Laura Chester scored 69 runs and took three wickets in the South East's win over Hamilton on Sunday at aFrew Park.

Marks ton guides Mount Gambier to victory

By Lachlan Onions

MOUNT GAMBIER 7/320 d WIMMERA MALLEE 10/120

Mount Gambier opened its Festival of Cricket season in style with a resounding 200-run win at Wimmera on Sunday.

The visitors batted first as openers William Rowland and Jack Mullan showed their intentions from the outset with positive batting and stroke-play.

However, after hitting back-to-back boundaries, Jacob Patching found the better of Rowland and dismissed him for 10 runs.

Patching continued to ask questions of Mount Gambier's batters and Jake Blackwell was dismissed for five runs not long after.

This brought Emerson Marks to the middle and the complexion of the game was shifted on its head as he combined with Mullan to give Mount Gambier the upper edge.

The pair combined for 87 runs before Mullan was dismissed to leave the visitors at 3/125.

Nick McNerney and Alex Hentschke were the next two in and both made handy contributions and supported Marks as he continued to be the aggressor.

Michael Waters came in at number eight and scored over a run a ball while Marks approached did the damage at the other end.

He was eventually dismissed for 110 off 111 balls in a performance which included 12 4's and three 6's.

Logan Gibbs made a late cameo alongside Waters and the visitors ended their 50 overs with an impressive score of 7/320.

Jacob Patching was the best of the bowlers and claimed four wickets for 71 runs.

Mount Gambier's dominance continued into the second innings and Noah Berry was the first to go from Wimmera when he was dismissed for four runs by Waters.

From then on, the Mount Gambier bowlers feasted on wickets and there were only two batting partnerships which accrued more than 20 runs in the innings.

It was an impressive team performance with the 10 wickets spread out across all eight bowlers.

Marks backed up his dominant first innings total with figures of 1/3 off four overs, while McNerney (2/4) and Isaac Mulraney (2/29) were the best of the bowlers.

They were supported by Hentschke, Waters, Jack Miller, Liam Turley and Gibbs who all claimed one wicket each.

Mount Gambier will be back in action on January 15 when it hosts Hamilton at Frew Park.

Penola's on a high

Penola ended 2022 in style with an impressive win over Mil Lel in Round 7 of the Barber Shield on Saturday.

The victory was set up off the back of a five-wicket haul from young pace bowler Zac Zema, who ended with figures of 5/29.

With the bat, Jack Mullan,

Drew Clayfield and Mark Smith led the way as the Eagles comfortably surpassed Mil Lel's total.

The win moves Penola up to second on the Barber Shield ladder as the competition heads into the Christmas break.
