Musical fun

The Penola Wellness group in conjunction with Raidis Estate held a very successful event last week with more than 100 people attending a night of Filipino dance, song and food.

The local Filipino community have been working hard to provide the audience with an insight into their vibrant culture.

The magnificent costumes and singing and dance certainly entertained the large crowd of people.

Forum for locals

By Elisabeth Champion

Penola residents are being given a chance to ask Wattle Range Council any burning questions they may have.

The Penola Ratepayers and Residents Association will be hosting Wattle Range Director Engineering Services Peter Halton and Chief executive Ben Gower at their meeting next month.

Chairperson Jodi Strother said the pair would attempt to answer any and all questions from the public.

However, questions will need to be submitted in writing to the committee by February 27.

The association held a general meeting earlier this month, attracting a group of committed residents, with a surprise visit from Wattle Range mayor Des Noll.

"The group was able to ask him many questions, and some he could answer, some he couldn't," she said.

"He very much engaged in the general conversation, which was fantastic.

"The conversation went really well - there were a few questions posed to him, some he could answer some and some had more research required, which is quite fine, I don't expect him to know the act off by heart. "It was great to have him there, because we're encouraging a positive relationship.

Forum well attended

Around 30 community members attended the Wattle Range Council's Disability Access and Inclusion Plan (DAIP) forum last week.

Attendees to the forum consisted of people living with a disability, carers and industry representatives.

Emma Clay, WRC Director Development Services said

"This is the first step in developing our new Disability Access and Inclusion Plan and was basically a brainstorm of ideas from those who attended of what they would like to see in the community.

"We will collate all of the ideas and we will be calling another meeting to commence reviewing and prioritising.

"The DAIP will then be used to guide the future planning and budgeting of the Council.

"The DAIP is a four year plan and will directly feed into our asset management plans and annual business plans."

The forum addressed key priorities of inclusive communities for all, leadership and collaboration, accessible communities and learning and employment.

Fire causes $80,000 in damages

By Sophie Conlon

A harvester fire in Maaoupe has caused an estimated $80,000 in damages to equipment and produce.

Emergency services were called to the property just after 5.30pm on Wednesday, February 9.

The Country Fire Service was on the scene within five minutes, with farm fire fighting units already in attendance when they arrived.

The fire had spread from the header, but fire crews were able to contain the blaze by putting a control line around the fires edge saving nearby livestock and paddocks.

The farmer was able to escape, with no known injuries.

With harvesting continuing this late into the season, CFS has encouraged farmers to reduce the risk of fire by regularly cleaning out dust build up in harvesters.

A header fire in Maaoupe has caused an estimated $80,000 in damages.

Glenrowan heritage

In association with State Heritage, Penola's branch of National Trust SA has developed a mobile phone app called SA Heritage, to enable people to learn more about historic sites within Penola on self guided tours.

The following is one of the subjects from this app.

GLENROWAN

Probably built by local stonemason George Gladstone, the owner in 1861-62, then purchased by Stock and Commission Agent Charles Jonas Valentine who in 1866 sold it to Benjamin Pickworth Hunt, an Inspector in the South Australian Police Force.

Used as a family residence for the major part of his police career it was named Glenrowan due to his association with the arrest of the bushranger, Ned Kelly.

Inspector Hunt was awarded the Imperial Service Medal and is believed to be the longest serving member of the South Australian Police Force.

In 1901 it was sold to Jessie Balnaves, wife of storekeeper William Balnaves who became the owner in 1941. After his death in 1952 the property was sold to John and Eileen Mulligan and during this time the verandah was added to the building.

Remaining as a residence there has been a succession of owners since then.

During Benjamin Hunt's ownership, occupiers were James Naulty & Patrick Drummond Nash.

Owners since include:

- Denis and Anne Adams who added the new bathroom - previously in a slab building at the back of the block
- Tony & Karen Paynter
- Gordon & Beryl Messenger
- Charles & Mary Finch
- Rod & Rosemary Ennis

Petition for radiation treatment grows

Sandra Melrose has volunteered to collect signatures in Millicent and surrounds for the Radiation Treatment for the Limestone Coast petition.

The petition has been circulating the Limestone Coast, after plans to build a radiation treatment centre in Mount Gambier were quashed and the funds reallocated.

At time of publishing, it had more than 2300 signatures.

The cause is one close to Ms Melrose's, heart having lost her own mum to cancer when she was 13 years old.

"It's always quietly been in my heart and when I was approached by Laurie (Dacy) I said yes to helping."

Ms Melrose has been dropping the petitions in to Millicent and Beachport businesses and the Southend general store.

While sitting at Woolworths Ms Melrose told the South Eastern Times that it was not difficult to get people to sign the petition.

Many who signed were sharing their own stories and those of family members who have to travel to Adelaide for treatment, where they find they can be isolated from friends and family and the distance impacts on their ability to work.

The petition can be signed in person, or online at www.change.org

Marilyn Speers (right) was happy to sign the petition being promoted by Sandra Melrose.

School's great thinking

Penola High School students will benefit from increased mental health support as part of a new program.

The school has been assigned a mental health practitioner, as part of a new program by the State Government.

The service, which will be available at up to 65 high schools, area schools and R-12 schools in 2023, will see mental health practitioners based in schools to support young people with mild to moderate and emerging mental health concerns.

Taking on the role is Alex Miles, who's experience in schools make her a great fit for the job.

Most recently she worked in a school in the APY Lands as a social worker.

Ms Miles said a key part of the program was prevention of more severe mental health problems.

"With this programme, we aim to be able to help students and provide early intervention options so that it doesn't get to the end, where they're at crisis and they really need a crisis support worker.

"We're trying to give them the tools and the skills so that they can help themselves rather than waiting to the end needing someone to really step in and help."

She said breaking down the stigma surrounding mental health was also important.

"I'm very passionate about targeting that stigma and being able to say we all have mental health, whether we're on the positive end of the spectrum or the middle or the end, we move along that line all the time, and it doesn't matter how old you are," she said.

"A lot of the time when you're young, it feels really lonely, like you're the only one going through it, but I think it's two in five young Australians that have mental health issues and suicide is the leading cause of death in some young people, and we know that a lot of young people have suicidal thoughts.

"So we know it's common and we want to make sure that we can break down the stigmas around seeking help, and even talking about it.

"Doing those community activities where we raise awareness for mental health is really important and I think education around mental health is really important.

She said she hoped that the programme will be able to provide advocacy around mental health.

"We've all gone through a time where we needed a bit of support, a bit of help, and that connection with others is the most important part and being able to be vulnerable and comfortable and see it as a strength rather than a weakness.

"I'm hoping to be able to shift that - I think it's shifting a lot, the culture of that perspective is shifting a lot - but we still have somewhere to go."

Students will now be able to be referred by teachers, family or themselves to Ms Miles.

Principal Steve Carli-Seebohm welcomed the news.

"It's very exciting for the region to actually be able to offer a service that targets youth mental health, and to have someone that will not only be an internal support for students and staff to build our wellbeing, practices, but also to have an external link to the agencies that we can engage with in the wider community to support our young people," he said.

"In an education system, it's been highlighted in recent news that there's been a real focus back to child and youth mental health and wellbeing and how we support them, and to actually have someone in a recognised role and capacity with a set of skills that work in that space. I think it's really exciting.

"I'm really excited that we have a very powerful resource as part of our service that we can offer young people and families."

Alex Miles will be on hand to support Penola High School students in their mental health.

CWA mural paints a rosy Penola picture

Penola is the home to a new mural courtesy of the Penola Terra Rossa CWA.

If you see a bright splash of colour whilst driving south along Portland street, you are seeing right.

The Penola CWA building on the corner of Young and Portland streets now features a mural depicting local icons and industry.

The bright new artwork can't be missed on the northern wall of its building on the corner of Portland and Young streets.

The idea was floated following the conclusion of the Portraits of Penola Women's Project which was held over four consecutive years as part of the Penola Arts Festival featuring the stories of local women.

CWA President Helen Zadow said it is a follow on, recognising the contributions of our many volunteers.

"A sub committee was formed following three years of dreaming about how the mural would come to fruition and be financed," she said.

Local artists were approached and it was Mount Gambier's April Hague who came to the fore with her ideas and experience.

Together with the sub committee, Ms Hague was able to depict local icons and industry, volunteering and the coming together of women from different backgrounds while also respecting the history of the CWA.

In-kind donations were received from local Painter and Decorator Geoff Gray and Sotto Il Noce B&B accommodation for April and her helper Charlene Riley.

Funds to pay for the mural in its entirety

are still being sought and President Helen Zadow or Secretary Judy Mountford would love to hear from any keen donors.

The CWA continue to help out and the Running Festival enjoyed the help of the CWA in coordinating the kitchen for the benefit of mental health.

Catering is a major source of fundraising with a very successful trading table held at the St Mary's Open Garden late last year and providing for tourists at venues on site is a regular.

The CWA welcomes new members any time with various outings, craft days, activities and new friendships.

Questions welcomed

Ms Strother said going forward, the group was hoping to have other special guests attend, including the Minister for Local Government and other council staff.

Ms Strother said the group had been welcomed by the community.

"They're feeling a bit invigorated," she said.

"A lot of people who are very frustrated with the council have passed comments to me, like 'keep up the good work, we need to make them accountable.'

"The community's definitely very encouraging and supportive of the group."

All questions, comments and compliments are welcome at the next meeting.

The next meeting will be held on March 6 at 6pm. and everyone is welcome.

Kalangadoo remembers

By Charlotte Varcoe

Kalangadoo will remember those lost during the Ash Wednesday fires with a private memorial service held tonight.

Today marks the 40th anniversary of the fires which took 14 lives and more than 60 homes.

A further 400 properties were burnt out with thousands of cattle and sheep also lost.

Kalangadoo resident Peter Savage said it was important the community remembered those lost on the day.

"Ash Wednesday was a really hot day and people were aware it would be a fire danger day," Mr Savage said.

"It was a traumatic experience for us all and to hear about people getting caught in the fire, they deserve recognition.

"Throughout the past 40 years there were a lot of people who were here on the day that have also departed so it is about recognising history and remembering it and those who were involved."

Mr Savage said despite Ash Wednesday being a traumatic part of Kalangadoo's history, it was still history and family members of those departed deserved to be recognised.

"The community knows the anniversary is coming up, we can all feel it," he said.

"Once it is February we know it is coming and needs to be marked one way or another.

"It is something that is on our mind and people will bring it up now and then but it is hard not to think about it, especially when some trees still have scorch marks."

Kalangadoo resident Frank Ousey remembered the time well, including fighting the fires.

"It was terrible conditions and I was captain of the local fire brigade at the time," Mr Ousey said.

"Penola told us to turn our siren on and get a crew ready so we did.

"We eventually got a call out to Millicent Road and so we hopped in the truck and about eight kilometres out we saw the fire coming."

Mr Ousey said he and his crew fought many fires around Kalangadoo that day, but it was the fire which started in the yards at the railway which was most concerning.

"After putting out a few fires around the area we saw there was one in the yards at the railway yards and we needed to put that out because if it had jumped over then it would have taken out the whole of Kalangadoo," he said.

"Eventually we got that fire out and we got a call that it was going to jump over Nangwary Road so we went out there to fight it and all of a sudden we heard a rattling noise coming from the pines.

40 Years on: Kalangadoo residents Peter Savage, Frank Ousey and Andrew Auld were some of many who commemorated Ash Wednesday yesterday.

"A bloke came out on his bulldozer and asked us to put out the fire that had started in his engine and once we put that out he just turned around and went straight back in."

Throughout the day, Mr Ousey said it was due to his crew and the fire truck that he had survived.

"I could never have asked for a better crew at the time and the truck was also fantastic with high sides," he said.

"The high sides are what saved us."

Also in Kalangadoo on the day was local resident Andrew Auld, who was only a teenager at the time of the fires.

Mr Auld said he was at the coast on the morning of Ash Wednesday and decided to head back home after seeing plumes of smoke.

"It was because of the smoke, the heat and the wind that I decided to come home and help dad on the farm," Mr Auld said.

"When I got home, I didn't know exactly where the fire was because of the smoke.

"The fire was heading south but then the wind changed and the whole from came across and I knew our shearing shed was alight because I could see it burning."

Mr Auld said while he was travelling home in the tractor, before he knew it he was in the middle of the fire and kept driving off to the side of the road due to poor visibility.

"I was on the road in the tractor and all of a sudden I was right in it," he said.

"Everything went black then red and I even had a fire behind the seat because of clippings and rags.

"I didn't know where I was going and hit the edge of the road because I couldn't see."

Upon returning home, Mr Auld said there was no electricity, no water pumps working and all garden hoses were melted.

"We had to use a lawn mower catcher and scoop water from the bath into it to try and put out the fire on the house," he said.

"We managed to save the house but everything else had burnt.

"Ultimately we were no different to everybody else and it wasn't until the next day that we had a sense of what actually occurred."

Despite the difficulty the Kalangadoo community had experienced, the three locals agreed it was beneficial to commemorate the event.

Search on for doctors to reopen Beachport clinic

Wattle Range Council is actively pursuing the return of medical services to the Beachport community and is exploring options to fill the medical centre left vacant by the previous leasee in December.

Last Thursday council CEO, Ben Gower, released a statement providing an update on the occupation of the Beachport Medical Centre.

"After initially indicating their desire to renew the lease, council was only advised by the former operator on the 14th of December 2022 that they would not be doing so, and that they would be vacating the council owned building on the 31st of December.

"The building was formally handed back to council in early January after a handover inspection was completed on site."

The statement revealed high level discussions had been held with medical service providers and a formal expression of interest process would soon take place.

"The lease terms and conditions are extremely competitive and have been specifically designed to attract potential operators to continue to provide local medical services to the Beachport community" Mr Gower said.

The Beachport Medical Clinic currently stands empty.

Picture: SUPPLIED

Lifelong Beachport resident Elaine Donaldson told the South Eastern Times the community had always supported the medical clinic.

With the community even putting in the funds to originally purchase the land the medical centre is now on.

"We as a community need to find another doctor prepared to take us on" Ms Donaldson said.

"For people who don't drive they've got to find someone to take them to Millicent, Robe or Mount Gambier medical services.

"It leaves this town isolated for medical services like it was back in the early 70's.

"If council is actively seeking medical professionals to take over the building, we can only benefit from it."

Ms Donaldson noted that retirees moving to the area were often attracted to Beachport because of the available medical services

"It's a fantastic place to live and we do need the doctors" she said.

Petanque's perfect return

After a seven year break, a perfect weekend greeted good numbers for the 21st Annual "Coonawarra Classic Clash" Petanque Tournament held over the weekend.

The event was again hailed as a huge success by all who attended.

The tournament provided some fierce interstate rivalry between South Australian, Victorian and New South Wales teams over the two days of the competition.

The Coonawarra Petanque Club was excited to be running this event again, which had becoming recognised as one of the biggest and best tournaments in Australia. With the help of the Coonawarra Grape and Wine Association and other local sponsors, teams vied for over $6000 in cash and prizes, and Championship honours.

The weekend had 150 players entered, creating a great atmosphere and some spirited clashes over the two days.

President Coonawarra Petanque Club Guy Detot said that he is still amazed that people travel such a long distance to come to this competition, and that it was also good to see many new players coming to the event.

On Saturday, 48 teams played six qualifying rounds to determine the best teams to go into the "Top 16" for the Principale and Consulate competition.

Several teams won all 6 games, putting them in an ideal spot for the rankings the next day.

On Sunday, the games got a bit more serious, with the final rounds of the tournament showing an exceptionally high standard of play. The local team of Andrew Jackman, Grant Hetherington and Nathan Reeves had a good weekend to finish in 6th place outright.

Eventually the final came down to two Victorian teams, Martial Leconte, Guy Mercier and Gavin Scott from Melbourne and Jane Scheggia, Deb Hicks and Doug Hicks from Avoca.

In front of a crowd of over 100 spectators, the Melbourne team took an early lead and the Avoca team then trying valiantly to catch up.

Displaying some great petanque skills the Melbourne team went on to take out the Championship honours 13 - 7.

Martial, captain of the winning team, was ecstatic with the win.

"We have been coming to Coonawarra for many years, and to finally win this event is fantastic," he said.

"It's been a really well run tournament and truly enjoyable to play in."

The local team of Andrew Jackman, Grant Hetherington and Nathan Reeves had a very good weekend to finish in 6th place outright.

Mr Detot, said that even after the 7 year break, it was great to see the so many people come back to Coonawarra.

"The whole weekend has been beautiful with some brilliant petanque being played," he said.

"Our club has created a truly special event and the tournament has been tremendous for the whole region."

Emma Castine stood down

Emma Castine has been stood down from the Wattle Range Council, after a failure to return her declarations form.

Ms Castine was recently elected in the Riddoch ward. She is one of 46 councillors around the state to be stood down due to a failure to lodge campaign returns to the Electoral Commissioner of South Australia.

Candidates must lodge two returns for a periodic election - The first must be lodged with the returning officer in the period between 22 to 28 days after the close of nominations and the second must be lodged within 30 days after the conclusion of the election.

Speaking at the council meeting on Tuesday, Chief executive Ben Gower said the council was not allowed to support her in any way as an administration, but said he had done a welfare check twice.

"She is very upset by the process," he said.

Councillors expressed frustrations with the system, with many saying they had issues with their submissions.

Councillor Dale Price said he had issues with returning his own declaration form.

"I had to ring twice, I submitted both and with the second one I was so unsure I sent an email to support it and I still have no idea if it was received," he said.

Likewise, Councillor Deb Agnew said she had to phone the electoral commission twice due to issues.

Mr Gower said he recommended councillors provide feedback to the ECSA,

"They are open for public consultation right now, I would encourage a significant number of you to share your views," he said.

Mr Gower said the council could request a countback to find the next closest candidate to fill the position.

Railway land currently under offer includes the 1926 railway station building and a telecommunications tower.

Railway land under offer

By Caroline Hammat

After three years the final unsold allotment of disused railway land in the centre of Millicent is now under offer through South East Property Sales and Management.

The latest 3.7ha lot includes the former 1926 railway station building, home to Millicent's community radio station, and a telecommunications tower.

Both are under current lease arrangements with the radio station lease, through the Department of Infrastructure and Transport (DIT), due to expire in 2031.

Current zoning of the Railway Terrace land includes a mixture of Suburban Activity Centre (commercial) and Community Facilities.

Five separate lots totalling 5.2 hectares, or about 12 acres, were put on the market by DIT in 2019.

The land stretched from the Northern corner of Cattle Bridge Road through to the Southern end of Towers Road.

Millicent Real Estate sold the first lot to Millicent Farm Supplies who purchased the allotment adjacent to their business in 2020 and have since expanded on to the site.

In September 2022 the sale of the two remaining Cattle Bridge Road blocks sold to Perry's Fuel Distributor.

Perry's have received approval to build an unmanned service station on the site from the Environment Protection Authority, Commissioner of Highways and Wattle Range Council.

The 1.55ha site along Towers Road is currently zoned Community Facilities and was settled in December last year.

Cr Moira Neagle passed a motion at February's Wattle Range Council meeting to negotiate with the State Government to take care and control of the former railway line between Cattle Bridge Road, Millicent to the centre of Tantanoola.

When informed of the latest allotment under offer Cr Neagle spoke on behalf of herself and not WRC.

"I put up the motion because we didn't buy the bit that Perry's got and I thought we've got to get control of the rest," she said.

"Council has had a long term idea of turning it into a walking/riding track but if you don't have control of it, you lose control of it.

"When it came up for discussion the view around the chamber was very positive."

The rationale of the proposal was to avoid others purchasing the site and to develop the former railway line as a walking and bike trail between the two towns.

The proposal was subject to a report being brought back to council at next month's March meeting.

The railway land is registered with the Environment Protection Agency as being a contaminated site.

The latest block to go under offer runs the length of Railway Terrace in Millicent with the exception of a house toward the Southern end of the street.

The event is entering its third year and shows no sign of slowing down.

Held every quarter, organisers Amanda Flint and Janet Brodie always have a list of sellers pre-booking racks for the sale.

The event is a fundraiser for the Penola Coonawarra Sub-Fund of the Stand Like Stone Foundation.

Sellers donate 25 per cent of their takings to the foundation.

That money is then granted to charitable projects in the Penola Coonawarra region.

2023's first Pop-Up is being held, on February 17 and 18 at the Penola RSL Hall.

Friday's times are 4-8pm and Saturday, 9-12pm.

While a chance for some to have a wardrobe clear out, it is definitely a fantastic opportunity for others to find fashion treasure, some still new with tags.

With so many increasing costs of living, being able to find quality items of clothing at incredible bargain prices is an absolute bonus.

Women's, men's and children's clothing will be on offer, as well as a fun and social atmosphere for those searching the racks for summer wardrobe updates.

Friday evenings of the pop-up are especially social, with a complimentary glass of Coonawarra wine offered on entry.

Organisers of the event Amanda and Janet said they love that the event is also about community and bringing people together for a fun event that also supports the community.

Amanda, Janet and their band of volunteers encourage everyone to come with a group of friends and enjoy hunting for beautiful bargains.

While definitely about fashion, the pop-up is equally a platform for recycling and sustainability.

In a world where a distressing amount of clothing ends up in landfill, it is fantastic to see clothing going on to a new home.

Laugh in the vines

Well known-known Australian comedian Dave Hughes will hit the stage in Coonawarra next month.

Headlining the popular Grapes of Mirth event on March 18, he will be joined by a line-up of top comedians.

Joining him will be Triple J host Michael Hing, winner of the best show award at the Melbourne International Comedy Festival Geraldine Hickey, Lizzy Hoo, and Prue Blake, a comedian who has set the comedy scene alight since winning national comedy competition Raw Comedy in 2021.

This is the fifth time Grapes of Mirth have brought their touring event to Coonawarra.

Entertaining the crowd between acts as MC will be Grapes of Mirth founder and Head Clown Merrick Watts, who said his annual trip to Coonawarra is always among his year's highlights.

"It's no secret this is one of my favourite gigs but for the first time in a couple of years we've got a clear runway with no pesky pandemics to joke block! BRING IT ON!!," he said.

The event will be held on the beautiful grounds at Penley Estate.

A picnic rug or comfy chair is essential, as the crowd settles in for an epic six hours of comedy, wine and music, with the return of DJ Pedro Moshman.

A Council round-up

Wattle Range Council held its monthly local government meeting on Tuesday night.

ROTUNDA TO GET FACELIFT

The Millicent Rotunda will look its best soon, as work begins on improving it.

Councillor John Drew asked chief executive Ben Gower what was happening with the rotunda because it "needs to be looked at."

Director engineering services Peter Halton said work had begun, and it was in the process of being sandblasted.

He said council has engaged a concreter to look at the rotunda, including the stairs, which were found to have issues. He was unable to give a finish time, but said he hoped it would be before the end of the financial year.

DES NOLL LCLGA VICE PRESIDENT

At the recent Limestone Coast Local Government Association AGM, Mayor Des Noll was named as Vice president of the board.

Chair is City of Mount Gambier mayor Lynette Martin.

MOIRA NEAGLE TO SERVE ON HAC

Maira Neagle will serve on the Millicent and District Health Advisory Committee as a council representative.

PUBLIC CONSULTATION ON BEACH ACCESS

There will be a public consultation in the coming months regarding vehicle access to Glen Point Beach, Beachport.

A resident has raised concerns about pedestrian safety.

Councillor voted unanimously to undertake public consultation on the proposal to close the beach access along the Beachport Boatyard to vehicular traffic to improve public safety and bring back a report on the outcome of the consultation.

A future in space robotics is the goal for Dalbir Castignani.

Youth science forum was a blast

By Caroline Hammat

Talented 17 year old Millicent High School student Dalbir Castignani recently attended the National Youth Science Forum (NYSF) during the summer holidays.

The program is offered to year 11 students interested in careers in STEM and Dalbir was encouraged to apply by Mathematics teacher Hoveida Saberi.

Ms Saberi first met Dalbir as a year seven student at Tantanoola Primary School when she was contacted by the Principal at the time, Moira Neagle.

Ms Neagle said that Dalbir had an advanced knowledge of maths when he joined the school and their teacher was not in a position to teach him any further in the subject.

This request led to Ms Saberi tutoring Dalbir once a week with the student undertaking some year 10 work while still at primary school.

"I encouraged Dalbir to apply for the program because I can see the potential in him" Ms Saberi said.

"He is a very capable young person and I actually look forward to a day in maybe five or 10 years time, when I hear his name and I can say, oh I know that person."

Roles were reversed for the NYSF as Ms Saberi reached out to Ms Neagle to help Dalbir write his application for the program.

Ms Neagle encouraged Dalbir to write the application himself which she helped edit before it was lodged.

"Obviously it was successful, I'm pleased it was because I wasn't sure he had got it in on time."

The two week program entailed one week of online engagement with the second week spent in Adelaide visiting a variety of science and technology based institutions.

Over the course of the week Dalbir visited Adelaide and Flinders Universities, the Australian Institute for Machine Learning, Defence Science and Technology Group and the Australian Space Discovery Centre.

He said highlights of the forum were seeing a robotic dog trained to follow a green ball around the room and the explosives experiments.

"They got a piece of copper, put a leaf on top of it and then put a plastic explosive on top of the leaf," he said.

"They blew up the plastic explosive and it actually imprinted the leaf into the copper, that was cool.

"They chopped it up and we got to keep a piece.

"Before I went I had a pretty clear idea of what I wanted to do already, I wanted to go into robotics and build robots.

"But after going there I have now decided I want to build space robots, that would be cool, putting a rover on the moon or something."

Millicent Rotary supported Dalbir to attend the forum by paying the cost of his $1,950 application fee.

The local service club has a history of supporting students interested in STEM and have assisted several students to attend the NYSF over the last two decades.

"We've done it several times and then of course Covid bowled everything over," Millicent Rotary Club secretary Phil Golding said.

"They decided rather than fly people into Canberra, they would have pods in Australian capital cities to have experiences there.

"That just came back this year and Dalbir was the candidate for it.

"It is an important scheme and great for kids who are interested in science, we've been doing it for a number of years."

Millicent Rotary have also contributed to aid students to attend the ConocoPhillips Science Experience over the last decade and in the last two years they have supported local students attend the three day One Forty One Science Experience at Uni SA's Mt Gambier Campus.

Nissan Z sportscar here

By Ewan Kennedy, Marque Motoring

Nissan's much-anticipated new Z sportscar has now arrived in Australia.

Note that it's simply called the Z, thus breaking from the long tradition of previous models, from the 1970 240Z onwards through the 260Z, 300ZX, 350Z to the 370Z which the new Z replaces.

The Nissan Z is a two-seat pure-bred sports machine from the Japanese company that's famed for its high-performance machines.

Indeed, it's well known for building a huge variety of cars, SUVs and other machines and is one of the world's largest vehicle manufacturers.

Back to the Nissan Z.

It has a lot going for it – excellent styling, a large turbo-petrol V6 engine and the solid build quality that means it's likely to run for many years with no problems.

The Nissan Z was recognised as a Good Design Award Winner in the Product Design Category in recognition of outstanding design and innovation.

We certainly agree with that award.

The car looks great from any angle with its very long nose, an aggressive rectangular grille and bold headlights.

The roof slopes down all the way from the top of the windscreen to the tail, where a tiny lip spoiler completes the package.

There are seats for only two as this is a pure sportscar.

The luggage space is easy to load thanks not only to the size of the opening but also because the tailgate opens high.

However, the luggage area is shallow, but of course this is a sports machine not a family hatch of SUV so there's probably enough.

As it's a two-seater it's only going to be carrying a couple of people and their luggage so there's enough room for a holiday trip away.

The Nissan Z is powered by a 3.0-litre twin-turbo V6, replacing the naturally-aspirated engine in the outgoing 370Z.

It has variable valve timing and small-diameter turbochargers regulated for maximum spooling speed and to balance power output and throttle-response time.

Maximum power output is 298 kW at 6400 rpm with torque of 475 Nm from 1600 revs.

Nissan Z's six-speed close-ratio manual gearbox is paired with a high-performance clutch supplied by Japanese motor racing specialist Exedy.

It drives to the rear wheels via a carbon-fibre composite driveshaft.

It has what Nissan calls Downshift Rev Matching.

The Nissan Z is also offered with a nine-speed automatic transmission as a no-cost option.

We plan to be testing one shortly and will do a road test review to provide our thoughts on it.

The Nissan Z hasn't been crash tested by Euro NCAP or Australasian NCAP at this time.

It has six airbags, radar cruise control, automatic emergency braking with pedestrian detection, forward collision warning, blind-spot monitoring, lane departure warning and rear cross-traffic alert.

Rear camera plus front and rear parking sensors are handy in a car which isn't easy to see out of.

The latest Z has an 8.0-inch infotainment screen, relatively small for contemporary vehicles.

There is no built-in satellite navigation, not a serious omission given the quality of smartphone-based systems available through either Android Auto or Apple CarPlay both of which are wired.

The quality of the sound from the eight-speaker Bose system is pretty good, though for obvious reasons it tends to be hard to hear at times over the sound of the engine and, to a less extent, the sound of the tyres on the road.

Although it is designed as a sports car, the Nissan Z still has a decent luggage space in the boot.

There's a high-resolution 12.3-inch information screen that can be customised to suit driver preferences.

There are USB-A and USB-C ports at the bottom of the front console along with 12V sockets both there as well as in the centre console.

The hot Nissan Z car offers three driving modes – Standard, Enhanced and Sport.

We tried all of them at various stages and in different areas of our week's road testing.

Standard is fine for day-to-day use. Enhanced gives it some more grunt.

Sport is on the harsh side, fair enough as this is a sports machine.

The Z's braking features a virtually track-ready setup.

There are four-piston 355mm front and two-piston, 350mm rear.

They work very well and never showed the slightest sign of fading during our road-testing regime - which obviously didn't come as a surprise as this is a very serious machine.

It's a sheer delight to drive in many ways.

There's virtually no free-play in the steering.

It responds instantly to steering wheel movements and sends good feedback as to what the front of the car is doing.

Noise levels are high on some road surfaces, particularly on recently laid bitumen that hasn't smoothed down yet.

There's quite a bit of bump-thump on concrete surfaces.

However, there's an active noise cancellation that trims the sounds to acceptable levels.

Downshift rev matching is brilliant as the Z

Styling is excellent outside and in so it's no surprise it took out major design awards.

lets you have it in the correct gear for all occasions in very fast changes without the having to match the revs correctly.

"Okay I hear you ask, I enjoy driving cars and getting the very best of them without the car doing it for me."

I completely understand that, it would be interesting to try the new Z on track days and see if you can beat drivers you know from other track days and compare times with them using the various vehicle settings.

Fuel consumption during our test period averaged 10.5 litres per hundred kilometres, which was pretty close to the 9.8 litres per hundred quoted by Nissan.

Nissan Z is an interesting two-seat sports machine that can be used as a daily driver and taken out to track days if you want to get push it to the max.

It would certainly be on my list of cars to buy, but only if I could afford a second car or SUV for day-to-day driving.

BETTER HOMES AND GARDENS
Seven, Friday, 7pm

Reliably enthusiastic and jam-packed with home and lifestyle inspiration, this stalwart series is back with its 29th season. Tonight, there's something sweet, something spicy and something furry. Fried rice is given a twist with Karen Martini's rice-savvy new dish. We've all gone a bit gung-ho before and wound up with too much cooked rice, but Karen turns it into a win with a unique take on the Chinese staple: pink fish fried rice with nori. It's quick, easy and oh-so pretty. Dr Harry Cooper helps a family with an 18-month-old boxer that levels their backyard every time they leave, while Graham Ross is in the Apple Isle visiting a huge strawberry that has a tasty new variety.

MURDOCH MYSTERIES

7TWO, Thursday, 8.30pm

Sixteen seasons in, the delightfully formulaic charm of this Canadian series only grows on you; it's witty, comforting, and good-looking to boot. Set in the Victorian era, but with a dash of modern sensibility, Yannick Bisson (pictured) is as smooth as chocolate mousse as detective William Murdoch, who is susceptible to inventing world-changing things. Tonight, in "The Write Stuff", a writer is murdered at a literary event. Who is the subject of Murdoch's eagle eye? Rudyard Kipling and Lucy Maud Montgomery, of course. Chances are Murdoch will crack the case by reading between the lines. Future episodes include a black-and-white tribute to film noir.

PLANET REEF

SBS, Monday, 7.35pm

Filed over five years, this stunning series takes a deep dive into one of the most beautiful habitats on Earth and a special effort to save it. In this three-part documentary, premiering tonight, a crew of filmmakers follows a group of scientists as they endeavour to come up with cutting-edge technological solutions to rescue the Great Barrier Reef from extinction. Home to 9000 unique species, tonight the plight of the majestic sea turtle is explored. Filmed in and around the small, picturesque Raine Island, the survival of this endangered species is tied up with the fate of the cay's seabirds, which include frigatebirds and boobies. It's remarkable viewing.

FIRE COUNTRY

10, Wednesday, 8.40pm

If every TV series was a work of art, we'd all be in a lot of trouble. Trying to squeeze all the must-watch shows into our busy viewing schedules is an insomniac's design, but sitting through something head-scratchingly bad makes you truly appreciate great writing and acting. Fire Country arguably renders The Bold And The Beautiful as Oscar material, but perhaps these wooden performances light your fire. Tonight, in "Happy To Help", the crew of felon firefighters responds to a critical call concerning an extremely dangerous gas leak. Gravel-voiced fire chief Vince (Billy Burke, pictured) tells a victim to "Take it easy"; perhaps we should do the same and enjoy the spectacle.

KINGSTON 12-135 d

LUCINDALE KOALAS 12-130

On a windy day at the Lucindale country Club, a thrilling contest took place between the Koalas and Kingston in Wimbledon Round as the clash went down to the wire in the latest round of Southern Ports tennis.

Lucindale entered the fixture without its number one man Sam Graetz but Rowan Wilkin looked to fill the void in the number one position.

The Koalas looked strong early after they won four of the six mixed doubles clashes.

This included three 7-5 matches and one tiebreak in a round where most doubles contests went for an hour.

In the men's singles, there was little to separate the two sides as both teams claimed three sets each.

An exciting battle took place between Timothy Parker and Ben Wood as the former claimed an 8-6 win in the tie-break.

The Kingston women won five of the six singles to give the visitors a handy lead late on.

With just the mixed doubles left to be played, Kingston held a slender 10-8 lead.

The Koalas then fought back to reduce the deficit and after 24 sets, both teams had claimed 12 sets each and the contest was to be decided on overall games won, with Kingston claiming a 135-130 win.

Henry Legoe, Alec Ross and Kylie Ware all won three sets for Lucindale, while Matt Menz won his three sets for Kingston.

LUCINDALE COCKATOOS 13-132 d

ROBE ROOSTERS 11-118

Lucindale claimed a two-set win over the Robe Roosters in Round 13 of Southern Ports tennis.

Scores were level after the mixed doubles, and again level after the singles were completed.

The women then edged the Cockatoos ahead in the doubles after all three pairings won their sets.

Kate McGregor and Lissy Orton won 10-8 in their clash to see Lucindale over the line.

Egan Regnier put in an impressive performance and won all three sets only a week after getting married, while Fluff Legoe won all of her matches for the Cockatoos.

It was a difficult day for Jon Ey and the Penola tennis team as they suffered defeat to a strong Naracoorte side.

LUCINDALE WOMBATS 17-139 d
BEACHPORT 7-98

Missing their two top men, it was always going to be a tough ask for the Beachport side.

However, despite being undermanned, the contest started evenly with the team tied 3-3 after the mixed doubles.

The Wombats men were in strong form and claimed all of the doubles clashes which put the pressure on Beachport.

The Lucindale women won three of the six singles.

Chandler Smart, Eliza Handbury, Adrian Maywald, Toby Longbottom and Tom Handbury all won three sets.

FRANCES-LUCINDALE EAGLES 18-139 d
ROBE REBELS 6-76

The Eagles fought the wind to breeze past the Rebels in a convincing performance.

Kimberley Austin and Andrew Brown provided some resistance for Robe but Frances-Lucindale was too strong and flexed its strength on the way to a 12-set win.

NARACOORTE 23-159 d PENOLA 1-56

Naracoorte hosted Penola on a windy afternoon, away from the action at Lucindale.

The home side was strong from the start and comfortably claimed all six mixed doubles sets.

Naracoorte's dominance continued in the singles as it claimed 11 of 12 sets.

Daniel Menzel, Max Malone, Stephen Biggins, Michele Moyle-Read and Alice Redding all claimed 6-0 wins in a relentless display.

For Penola, Ben Wurst fought hard to secure his team's only set for the day against young-gun Max Lush with the final score 6-2.

Wurst teamed up with Caroline McGrath to lead the charge in the doubles for Penola but fell just short in an 8-10 loss to Albert Mann and Lush.

The Moyle-Read sisters continued their form with a 9-2 win over Shay Merrett and Kate McDonald.

Menzel and Malone and Baker and Redding also secured 9-2 wins.

Next week is the penultimate round of fixtures and Naracoorte will look to maintain its spot on top of the ladder when it takes on the Lucindale Wombats.

Frances/Lucindale will travel to Beachport, while the Roosters will host the Lucindale Koalas. Penola will meet the Robe Rebels and Kingston will meet the Lucindale Cockatoos.

Dream catches offshore

By Jamie Coates

A breezy but fishable weekend across the South East was welcomed by anglers and although the weed has still been a bit of a problem, there was still some very nice fish caught. Kicking off with the offshore news, there has been a bit of a buzz coming out of Portland this past weekend, with Matt Hunt Fishing Services putting their clients on to an almost 300kg mako shark.

After nearly two hours on the rod and using only 24kg tackle, the anglers finally got the shark to the boat before making the trek back in.

There were other makos caught by other boats too and most around that 30kg to 50kg size.

Offshore from Port MacDonnell, we have seen more sharks from this way, but gummy and school sharks have been the targets.

Fish to 20kg have been boated in the 60m through to 100m depths, along with the usual mix of tasty reef fish such as snapper, nannygai, knifejaw and flathead.

The surf fishing over the weekend was pretty decent despite the weed and on Saturday night the wind did not quite get to as bad as it was forecast, so those who made the trip were a bit surprised.

The South East Amateur Surf Fishing Club held a competition over the weekend and local gun Mick Smith picked up first place with a nice gummy shark, while Ryan Kobes managed second with a solid snapper.

There was a handful of nice gummy shark caught though Canunda on Friday night, with some of those fish around 15kg.

Fresh salmon fillet seemed to be the bait of choice for most, so it is great to see a few still kicking around.

Flynn Thomas has been landing some cracking snapper this week, his best a beauty at 69cm and 3.5kg

He has also released a dozen or more each trip.

The whiting fishos have enjoyed the conditions after the big seas last week.

The water has still been quite milky and that has been just spot on for the whiting.

There were a good few catches reported down in the Port MacDonnell breakwater by both the boaties and jetty anglers.

The whiting have been of decent size and anglers have not had to move around too much to find their fish.

There have been some nice fish caught around Danger Point by the boaties this week too and further west to Livingstons and Pelican Point.

We are still hearing of a heap of mullet and salmon trout by the whiting fishos too, so the variety is huge.

The gar numbers are still pretty impressive. The fish have come from Cape Douglas, Hutt Bay, Livingstons Bay and Pelican Point.

The weed on the beach is starting to break down and I noticed a heap of maggots and bugs over the weekend, so the gar and mullet are going to have a field day when they hit the water.

The Glenelg River has been pretty consistently producing some nice perch and bream again.

The bulk of the news has been from the Donovans area and below, but I did see a catch of some ripper fish from up around the Forrest Camp North section of river.

Bait fishos have done well on cut crab, prawn and pilchard, while the lure guys are finding their success on 2.5inch natural coloured grubs.

The mulloway news has been very light on again, but as we see some of the weed start to flush out and that nice colour return to the water, we should be laughing for the coming weeks.

The forecast for this weekend looks fabulous.

Light winds, calm seas and mild temperatures should see plenty of fishos hitting the water.

I can not wait to see what is caught.

Until next week, safe fishing.

Blackcaps claim vital win

By Lachlan Onions

MILLICENT BLACKCAPS 7/186 d FOOTBALLERS FURNER BEACHPORT 10/112

Round 13 of the Millicent and Naracoorte Cricket Association saw Millicent claim a 74-run win at home over Footballers Furner Beachport on Saturday.

The Blackcaps batted first and lost Sam Hunt early after he was bowled by Harry Rana.

However, Mitchell Nitschke and Jaxon Cushion restored parity for the home side and made it to 1/56 before the former was caught off Ryan Bateman's bowling for 22 runs.

Wickets began to tumble quickly and the away side seemed on top as they sent Cushion and Jacob Todd back to the pavilion to make it 4/59.

Despite the dramatic shift in momentum, Alex Wesolowski and Josh Mason fought back for Millicent and steered the ship back into the home side's favour.

The pair combined for a 63-run partnership before Wesolowski was dismissed.

Campbell Hateley and Corey Baker both struggled to make an impact before being caught.

At 7/138, Footballers Furner Beachport had found a way back into the contest but Mason and Teej Lawlor combined for a 48-run eight-wicket partnership to make it to 7/186 at the completion of the 40 overs.

Ryan Bateman was the pick of the bowlers for the away side with 2/27 off seven overs.

The visitors struggled in response as Todd, Wesolowski and Michael Gibson ripped through the line-up with seven wickets between the three of them.

Ryan Bateman and James Varcoe were the only two players to provide some resistance with the former scoring 27 not out and the latter 36 as they were bowled out for 112.

LUCINDALE 7/223 d NARACOORTE TOWNIES 8/191

A 170-run opening partnership provided the platform for Lucindale as it claimed a 32-run win at home.

Shane McGurk and Josh Smith were in a league of their own as they put the Townies to the sword to begin the contest.

Shane McGurk was the first to depart when he was caught and bowled by Myles Bittner for 71 runs.

Bittner struck again shortly after when he dismissed Smith for 104 runs.

Smith scored his ton at an impressive strike-rate of 115.55 and hit 12 4's and two maximums on his way to his century.

As the innings entered its final stages, Bittner was a thorn in the side of the Lucindale middle order and claimed six scalps to end with figures of 6/49 off seven overs.

Despite his best efforts with the ball, the Roos still posted an imposing total of 7/223 and the pressure was well and truly on the visitors with runs on the board.

With a difficult run chase ahead, the Townies could not have asked for a much worse start as opener Shoukat Ali was dismissed by Jesse Hazelman for a golden duck in the second over.

Soon after, Hazelman dismissed Bredon Smart to make it 2/19.

Brodie Foster, Rowan Ham and Takbirullah Ahmadi were all dismissed cheaply and the game appeared to be slipping away at 5/80.

However, opener Matt Smith and Bittner fought on and combined for an 85 run stand before the pair were dismissed in consecutive balls in the 36th over.

Form then on, there was no way back for the visitors and they could only make it to 8/191 at the end of the 40 overs.

Smith top-scored for the Townies with 82 runs off 105 balls, while Bittner scored 38 runs in an impressive game all-round despite the end-result.

RENDELSHAM 1/113 d MOUNT BURR 10/108

The reigning premiers flexed their muscle on Saturday as they claimed an emphatic nine-wicket win over Mount Burr at Rendelsham Oval.

The Mozzies batted first and started promisingly through Timothy Schultz and Jordan Muhovics.

However, Rendelsham's class shone through and their bowlers made light work of the Mount Burr batting lineup as six players were dismissed for three runs or less including three ducks.

Muhovics was a silver-lining in the contest for the Mozzies as he scored 52 runs before he was bowled by Ayden Reid.

After a relentless performance with the ball, the hosts bowled Mount Burr out for 108 runs.

Jake Wight led the way for Rendelsham with 3/13 off his eight overs, while Max Telfer also picked up two scalps.

In response, Wight was the standout performer with an unbeaten 65 runs, while Zach Jones scored 26 and Dylan Clough added 12 runs before the home side surpassed Mount Burr's total.

ROBE 8/193 d KINGSTON 10/114

Robe claimed its second win of the season with an impressive performance at Kingston on Saturday.

The visitors batted first and started strongly with a 56-run opening stand between Zac Deane and Jordan Pettit.

Deane was the first to depart after he scored 32 runs, while Pettit continued on in what turned out to be a heart-breaking innings for the Robe opening batter.

Pettit made his way to 99 before was caught off Mark Collins' bowling and was left to rue what could have been after he fell agonisingly short of his century.

Robe ended its 40 overs with a solid 193 runs and the game was in the balance as Kingston began the second innings.

The visitors were relentless with the ball as all five bowlers found themselves amongst the wickets.

Adrian Thompson was the best with 3/36, while Thomas Kurray, Jack Sneath and Robbie Chappel all claimed two scalps as Kingston was bowled out for 114 runs.

Murray Bridge claims annual challenge cup

There were 22 South East senior tennis players who travelled to Lucindale on Sunday to participate in a tennis challenge with eight Murray Bridge players in good conditions.

The annual Challenge Cup was strongly contested and was won by Murray Bridge.

Leanne Graetz and Michelle Saye claimed victory in the women's competition, while Barb Williams and Trish Douglas were runners-up.

In the men's competition, Ray Rossiter and Alan Schultz were victorious, while Mikael Saye and Peter Brennan were runners up.

The next event will be held at the Blue Lake Sports Park at 11am on March 19.

Penola wins

The Kingston SE Golf Club recently held its annual Handicap Ambrose Fours Women's event and Penola's Meg Redman, Deb Redman, Katie Lewis and Karen Cahir claimed a thrilling victory.

The team defended their title with a nett score of 58.5, which was enough to narrowly defeat Bordertown on 59.5 and Robe on 60.75.

Sponsors Lombrook Wines and Kingston IGA were on hand to present the trophies at the end of the day.

Eagles claim tight victory

By James Murphy

KONGORONG 6.6 (42) d

SOUTH GAMBIER 0.2 (2)

Kongorong continued its winning ways with a solid win over South Gambier in Round 2 of Limestone Coast women's football.

The Friday night clash at Blue Lake Sports Park started as an arm wrestle and despite a couple of early goals to the Hawks it looked like it could be an even fight.

However, Kongorong's defence held tight and the Demons only managed two behinds for the game.

Both of those came in the second quarter, with the margin at 25 points heading into the main break.

The Hawks added two majors in the third for good measure, before another tough fourth term rewarded just a minor score.

In the end the damage was 40 points and Kongorong's closest result to date.

Sheree Ailey was in strong form and her efforts earned the best-on-ground honours.

She was joined by Sheba Miller, Taylor Cozzi and Janita Galloway among the top performers, while Evie Sealey and Katelyn Bowering rounded out the best.

In front of goals Tilah Buckingham led the way with two majors, with Marnee Formosa, Jasmin McKinnon, Sealey and Kate Wright also finding the big sticks.

It was no surprise to see Jarrah Altschwager receive the nod for South, with her tireless efforts around the ground seeing her named as the Demons' best.

Ella Ackland and Sophie Wight also fought hard all game in a performance with plenty of positives for the rebuilding side.

KYBYBOLITE 12.12 (84) d

MILLICENT 0.0 (0)

It was expected, but that did not take the sting away for Millicent when it met Kybybolite on Friday night.

The Saints were held scoreless for the full four quarters, with the match all but won in the opening term.

Kyby put in a six-goal effort during that period and Millicent was left without an answer.

Scoring slowed down somewhat from there, but a 1.7 return in the second quarter ensured Kyby carried a 51-point advantage into half time.

They went on to add four goals in the third term and one in the last to power home for an 84-point win.

Genevieve Blake top scored with three majors, while Ella Boston and Taylor Ryan bagged two each.

However, it was Kate Edmonds who made her presence known and she received the best-on-ground honours.

Boston was also impressive throughout the game, with Emily Baldwin, Amelia Frick and Lily Clifford-Finch also dominant.

Kongorong's Courtney Tait lets loose a handball during the Hawks' clash with South Gambier on Friday.

The Saints relied on Lauren Potter as their main resistance.

Amy-Lee Byrne and Amelia Gronn also featured highly in Millicent's best players, but once again it was a disappointing result for the Saints.

PENOLA 5.5 (35) d

NORTH GAMBIER 3.8 (26)

In what was undoubtedly the match of the round, Penola made a big statement over North Gambier on Sunday.

The Tigers made them work for it but in the end the Eagles soared to a nine-point victory and their second of the season.

It was a game of cat and mouse, with Penola out to a nine-point lead at the first change, before North hit back in the second quarter to lead by seven at half time.

From there the Eagles held their opponent to just three behinds, pushing back in front with two third-term goals before another unanswered major in the fourth sealed the deal.

Once again it was the Caroline McGrath show, with Penola's skipper named as best on ground for the third time in the club's third appearance of 2023.

She was aided by other in-form Eagles Heidi and Ellise Berkin, while Angela Broad and Simone MacDonald rounded out the top performers.

The Tigers looked to Laura Chester at the head of the pack, while Fiona Young, Jasmyn Plew/Jones, Hayley Pudney and Mikaila Pitt also played their roles well.

On the scoreboard it was an even contribution from the Eagles.

Broad, Chloe Long, MacDonald, McGrath and Riley Mitchell all found the big sticks and kept the Tigers guessing throughout the match.

North looked again to Alice Tentye who snagged two goals, while Chester capped off her strong outing with a major score.

MUNDULLA 15.10 (100) d

CASTERTON SANDFORD 0.0 (0)

The Cats may have entered Round 4 confident after three good wins, but they were dealt a harsh reality check on the weekend.

Casterton Sandford made the trip to play home team Mundulla and the result was a 100-point drubbing.

The northern Tigers have now established themselves up as a clear frontrunner and they wasted no time delivering that message to their guests on Sunday.

A 45-point opening term set the scene for the day and left the Cats swept off their feet.

That pushed out to a 60-point lead by the main break and by then there was nothing left for the Victorians to do.

Mundulla kept the foot down in the second half, adding two goals in the third quarter and four in the last for good measure.

There was no shortage of highlights for the home team, but it was Natalie Twigden who stood tallest and received the best-on-ground honours.

Eliza Orrock was also prolific, as were Casey McElroy and Kellsey Hinge, while Zoe Hawker and Sarah Westerholm rounded out the best players.

For Casterton Emma Lynch took the consolation prize as the Cats' best player.

She fought hard all day, as did the likes of Paige Richards and Chloe Finnigan.

However, it was not enough to deny Mundulla a dominant victory.

Richards claims title

The Robe Bowling Club hosted the Lower South East Bowls Association Ladies Champion of Champions on Sunday, with Port MacDonnell's Heather Richards again claiming the title.

Richards reached the grand final after defeating Naracoorte's Lindy Marks in the semi-final.

Beachport's Jill Preston joined Richards in the decider after accounting for Kingston's Deb Ogilvie.

In the final Richards was too strong and consistent to claim a 25-12 victory.

Meanwhile, Thursday social bowls was sponsored by The Robe Caledonian Inn, with 20 members playing two-bowl pairs, with three two-game winners.

Errol Jennings and Terry Reidy finished on 62 points to claim the win, ahead of Steve Farrell and Paul Truelove on 59.

Stephen Kennett and Trevor Wagner rounded out the podium with 57 points.

First prize in the raffle of wine went to Prue Nankivell, while the meat tray went to Lorraine Denning.

The women's Friday Pennant had a bye for a Country Round Robin competition and Robe will play its last game at home next Friday before finals start on Friday, February 24.

Divisions 1 and 2 travelled to Mount Gambier to play on Saturday, with mixed results.

Division 1 Mount Gambier Red 86 shots 12 points defeated Robe 57-0.

Pat Lynch, Dean Burgoyne, Peter Roachock and Harold Manton were defeated by Brad Errock's team 26-24.

Josh Waddell, Pater deLaine, Peter Gregory and Glenn Wright were defeated by Tony Bowditch's team 28-16.

Errol Jennings, Dean Woodward, Steve Farrell and Stephen Kennett were def by Greg Carpenter's team 32-17.

Division 2 had a better result against Mount Gambier.

Robe 73-9 defeated by Mount Gambier 68/3.

Barry Bennett, Trevor Wagner, Mark Murphy and Deane Nankivell defeated Margaret Marshall's team 24-19.

Gordon Brown, Ross Denning, Jo Sykes and Ken Smith defeated Gary McIntyre's team 26-16.

Paul Truelove, Bill Cook, Ali Douglas and Adrian Birmingham had a draw with Ron Cox's team 28-all.

Division 1 sits sixth on the ladder, with Division 2 fourth, with just two games to play.

The Region 1 men broke a 27-year drought and won the Round Robin competition in Adelaide last week.

Four Robe players, Pat Lynch, Dean Burgoyne, Peter Gregory and Glenn Wright contributed to the victory.

Robe's Robbie Dahler made the women's Round Robin team, which would be a good experience for a second-year player.

On a sadder note one of the past members, Gordon Allsop, passed away in Melbourne on February 7.

Allsop and his wife Bet were tireless workers for our club.

Split round marks season's midpoint

By James Murphy

We have reached the midpoint of the 2023 Limestone Coast Women's Football League season, with Round 5 contested this week.

It will be another split round, with the first two games played at Vansittart Park in Mount Gambier tonight.

North Gambier hosts South Gambier for the opening match, which will see the Tigers hungry to bounce back from last week's loss.

They suffered their first loss of the year in a tight match against Penola.

However, the Demons have yet to taste victory and the odds will be heavily in North's favour.

Laura Chester carries good form into the clash, while the likes of Paris Ackland and Alice Tentye have proven valuable in the opening rounds.

South has relied heavily on Jarrah Altschwager and Sophie Wight, while Ella Ackland comes off a solid game against Kongorong.

The Tigers are expected to claim another big win and put themselves back on track for a top-order finish.

Up next will be a meeting between Casterton Sandford and Penola.

This could be another close battle for the Eagles, who caused an upset over North last round.

The Cats have been solid in the opening rounds, but last week's 100-point loss to Mundulla would have stung.

They won the consolation final last season, but will be eager to show they can match it with the top order.

A win over Penola would point them in the right direction and the likes of Libby Altorfer and Amelia Thomas will be looked to by the Cats, while Emma Lynch will hope to replicate her Round 4 performance.

Caroline McGrath has led the Eagles by example in every outing, with the captain sure to be one to watch again.

It would be unsurprising to see this match be the closest of the round, with the winner to keep itself in touch with the top four.

Looking to Sunday, two games will be played at Kybybolite.

The opening clash will reward either Millicent or Kalangadoo with their first win of the season.

The two teams have struggled to make their mark in the first four rounds, with just nine points between them from a combined six games.

Lauren Potter has been a frontrunner for the Saints, while the Magpies have looked to Abby Thompson in most outings.

Based on form Millicent look to have a slight edge and should take home the points.

The final match of the round will be a meeting between Kybybolite and Kongorong.

This could be another close game, with plenty of talent on both teams.

The Hawks currently hold a better position on the ladder with three wins, but Kyby's draw with 2023 powerhouse Mundulla in Round 2 will fill it with confidence heading into Sunday.

ROUND 5 FIXTURE

■ Thursday, February 16 (Vansittart Park): North Gambier v South Gambier, 6.30pm; Casterton Sandford v Penola, 8.05pm.

■ Sunday, February 19 (Kybybolite Oval): Millicent v Kalangadoo, 10am; Kybybolite v Kongorong, 11.30am.

Big field at the seaside for veterans golf

A big field of 78 SE Veteran golfers turned up at Robe to tackle its very challenging course for their latest round.

Pins were tight in behind bunkers, the shrubbery alongside the fairways was unforgiving, meaning lots of lost balls, but the weather was perfect.

Three players recorded a 37 and from there the remaining scores tapered off quickly.

First division was won by a local, "Big" Kev Otten on a count-back from another local, Wally Altschwager.

Terry Chant was counted out for third place.

Second division went to stalwart, Millicent's Bruce Packer with 32 points.

Mount Gambier's Mark Teakle's finished second with 29 on a count-back from Peter Bateman.

The five nearest to pins went to Wayne Peters, Kevin Cook, Mike Atwell, Ken Whitehead and Chant.

The ball rundown was to 29 and the Scotch went to the raucous Rob Cece, who let everyone know.

The Ross Orchard trophy went to Russ Lingham and Dave Douglas.

Dodging the Southern Ports week, the next outing for the SE Veterans is now three weeks away on March 6 at Blue Lake.

The club will hold its AGM at Mount Gambier on March 27, with an ambrose competition.

The club is still after a vice captain.

Solid season but no finals

By Jock McClure,
young junior cricket contributor

The final round of the Mount Gambier and District Cricket Association Under 14 Hall Trophy was played last week, with Naracoorte/Penola up against Millicent at McLaughlin Park.

An overcast sky provided cooler conditions for players, but the strong wind proved tricky at times.

Naracoorte won the toss and co-captains, Jock McClure and Sid Ebert elected to bat.

A new opening pair of Bryce Catlin and Lachlan Gericke got the innings off to a nice start, with seven runs off the opening Teej Lawlor over, which included a few wides and extras.

Ryder Linder then took the ball for Millicent and claimed the wicket of Gericke for seven.

Charlie Cox came in, with Naracoorte at 1/9.

Unfortunately, in the third over Catlin was bowled by Lawlor for a duck.

James Bull came to the crease with Naracoorte at 2/9 and along with Cox, kept the score ticking over.

The pair found runs while having to face Leni Tunkin, Ned Fitzgerald and Cruz Gibson.

Cox was the first one to retire, with seven runs from his 20 balls.

McClure came to the crease and tried to get something going, with a two off his second ball.

Bull retired in the next over, with 11 runs from his 20 balls.

Jack Kay strolled to the crease and batted out the overs until drinks.

Naracoorte had built a nice total of 2/48, until McClure fell, caught behind in the 11th over for two.

Ebert came to the crease with Naracoorte at 3/48, but Kay was trapped lbw in the next over for a duck.

Sam Gericke looked to keep the score ticking over with a quick two runs, but he was caught soon after.

Seth Gale came to the crease on debut and tried to play the game of survival, but fell quickly for one run.

Naracoorte was at 6/53 when Will Harris strolled to the crease.

Both Harris and Ebert faced out the last few overs, with Ebert retiring for 16.

Naracoorte finished the innings at 6/83.

The Millicent innings started with a streaky boundary by Isaac Chambers.

After the boundary, Lachlan Gericke bowled well for the remainder of the over.

Cox bowled the next over against Lawlor, which went for just three runs.

In the third over, Catlin was hit for a couple of boundaries.

The next few overs, bowled by Cox, Sam Gericke, Catlin and Bull were quiet.

Both Lawlor and Chambers retired, with Linder and Tunkin heading to the crease.

A wicket fell quickly after, with Tunkin bowled by Sam Gericke.

Fitzgerald was next to bat, with Millicent at 1/38.

A few boundaries flowed, then Linder and Fitzgerald retired before 10 overs were done, with Gibson and Curtis Shanks heading into bat.

Shanks was caught for a duck soon after, with Millicent at 2/79 when Klaye Kenny strolled to the crease.

Gibson retired soon after, with Oakley Nicholls next to bat.

Both Kenny and Nicholls got to the end of the innings, after Kenny retired, then returned when Paddy Fitzgerald was bowled by Ebert.

Millicent finished its innings at 3/127.

Thanks to sponsor Naracoorte Sportspower, Sid Ebert was awarded a $10 voucher for his 16 runs (not out) and a wicket.

Eagles win thriller match

By Lachlan Onions

PENOLA 10/135 d
WEST GAMBIER 10/132 and 3/41

Penola claimed a nail-biting first-innings victory at Malseed Park in Round 10 of the Barber Shield on Saturday.

The clash saw two heavyweights in the competition go head-to-head and the game lived up to the hype of such an encounter.

The visitors were in a spot of bother when play resumed on Day 2, with the Eagles in trouble at 4/44 - 88 runs shy of West Gambier's first innings total.

However, Mark Smith and Lachy Jones fought back and made it to 4/80 before the former was bowled by Trent Badman after he added 22 runs to his team's total.

This brought Penola captain Drew Clayfield out to the middle.

After leading the way for his side with the bat on countless occasions already this season, Clayfield again stood tall and formed a 24-run stand with Jones.

With just 29 runs needed for victory, West's Ned Wilke thwarted the visitors' momentum with two quick wickets to dismiss Jones and Clayfield.

In a see-sawing contest, the Roos were back on top as Penola found itself at 7/109 and still trailed by 23 runs.

However, Michael Waters and Eli Hunter added valuable runs and the win was within touching distance for the Eagles as they were 7/130.

The clash looked almost certain to end in a victory for Penola but there was still room for another twist in the tale.

Sam Willis dismissed Waters for 15 to make it 8/130 before Eli Hunter was run-out to make it 9/131.

The clash was balanced on a knife's edge

as Penola needed one run to tie the clash and two to win, while West needed to claim just one wicket to claim victory.

Up stepped Brad Maney who scored four runs batting at number 10 to claim a thrilling win for his side before he was dismissed by Bray Stephenson.

Clayfield and Jones top-scored for the clash with 25 and 24 runs, while Wilke, Willis and Stephenson all ended with two wickets each.

Day 1 saw Jack Mullan take a five-fa for Penola and Nuwan Gunawardana led the way with the bat for West with 73 runs.

After Penola was bowled out for 135, the Roos went back into bat and Mullan found himself amongst the wickets again as he took 1/3 off five overs.

Tom Clayfield was the standout performer as he took 2/15 off his five overs in the second innings.

Yet again, Gunawardana led the way as opener with the bat and top scored with 20-runs before he was dismissed.

The clash came to an end 20 overs into the Roos' second innings with the score at 3/41.

Penola's win means it moves back into third on the ladder, while West now holds a narrow lead over East Gambier at the top of the ladder with both sides sitting on five wins.

Eagles look to keep momentum flowing

By Lachlan Onions

Penola will return to McCorquindale Park on Saturday for Day 1 of the final round of the Barber Shield before finals.

There is plenty to play for as North Sportsman's will be eyeing off an unlikely but still possible finals berth.

The Tigers will need to claim a comprehensive victory over the Eagles and hope East claims a dominant win over South Gambier to potentially sneak into the last finals spot.

However, the Eagles will be full of confidence after their thrilling win over West Gambier in Round 10 and will look to continue their momentum as they look to defend their premiership.

Penola will take on North Sportsman's for the third time this season and will be hopeful the weather does not interfere as it has done in the two previous encounters.

Back in Round 1, the Tigers batted for 27 overs in a one-day clash at Penola and made it to 6/79 before rain intervened.

Then, in Round 6, Penola batted first in another one-dayer and ended its 40 overs at 8/152.

However, in just the fifth over of the second innings, rain hit once again and the clash was abandoned.

Looking at the rest of the season, Penola has won four games and lost twice, while the Tigers have two wins and four losses.

In the two-day games this campaign, the Eagles have been one of the best sides in the competition with three wins from four games and are second on the ladder for the longer format, with South Gambier only ahead on bonus points.

However, it is a different story for North, the Tigers have won just one of four games and are last on the ladder for two-dayers.

Nick McNerney will be a key player for the visitors with bat and ball and will need to be at his best to give his side a chance of making finals.

Jack Mullan will look to continue his impressive season with bat and ball when Penola hosts North Sportsman's in Round 11 of the Barber Shield on Saturday. Picture: LACHLAN ONIONS

McNerney has scored 181 runs this season at an average of 36.2 and has claimed 12 scalps at an average 10.75.

Isaac Mulraney has also proven to be a dangerous pace-bowler and is a player the Tigers will turn to as they look to break through the side with the most runs scored per wicket lost in the league.

For Penola, Jack Mullan and Lachy Jones have been key players with the ball and have claimed 31 wickets between them.

Back on Day 1 of Round 10, Mullan claimed five wickets against the Roos and will be a key player once the ball starts to wear.

The Eagles will also look to Drew Clayfield, who has the best batting average in the competition.

The Penola captain has scored 267 runs this year at an average of 44.5

North will head into this as underdogs and Penola should have enough strength in its ranks to secure a victory and push for a potential spot in the top-two depending on other results.

Jesse Plunkett, Adam Richards, Adam Todd, Matt Roscow and Luke Thomson are ready for kick off in tomorrow's Mental Health Match at East Gambier.

Playing for awareness

By James Murphy

If you are without plans and have a spare $10 note handy, get yourself down to McDonald Park tomorrow night.

Mental health awareness will take the spotlight at the East Gambier Football Club in the form of a high-profile charity football match.

The Switch the headspace Match for Mental Health has quickly become the talk of the South East community and attracted some big names of both a local and national standard.

Countless hours of organising have gone into the event, which started as an idea between a few young mates after experiencing first hand the devastating impact mental health can have on those around you.

Now everything is almost ready to go with only the finer details remaining.

"Most of the organisation is done now," committee member Matt Roscow said.

"I think the scariest part is that it is out of our hands now.

"Now it is just a matter of what comes up on the night."

Regardless of the outcome of Friday's match, it has already gone a long way to achieving its goal.

"I think it has already served its purpose and we haven't even played the game," committee member Luke Thomson said.

"I have had people message me just wanting to chat about their own mental health and whatnot.

"It has already gotten people talking and spreading awareness.

"That is why we have started it and I think it has already served its purpose without even kicking a footy."

The teams are now set in place, which took some careful consideration.

"It wasn't a struggle on who to ask, it was how to get it down to a final number," Roscow said.

"I think we have all found there are so many more people we could have asked to play, or would have loved to play.

"We had to finalise it down to a number, that was probably one of the hardest things."

Former AFL players Dane Swan, Shane Mumford, Jordan and Brodie Murdoch and Leon Davis will be major drawcards.

However, there are plenty of local legends spectators will be eager to see in action.

"It will be good for the local community to not only see your Dane Swans and that play, but it will be interesting to see (Darron) Roo McElroy and (Adam) Hoggett Merrett playing together," Thomson said.

"You look at the locals and you have Brett O'Neil and Nick McInerney playing together and things like that.

"I think it has created a fair bit of excitement, which goes to show we have probably chosen the right guys locally as well."

For the youth in the teams, which includes Richards, Todd and Plunkett, there is the opportunity to play alongside some role models.

"I think I am more keen to play with Ben Mules than I am with Dane Swan to be honest," Richards remarked.

The opportunity is not lost on the likes of Roscow either, as playing coach for the Pale Ale team.

"There are blokes in there I played against when I was first playing A Grade footy," he said.

"Jon Copping towered me up one day and now he is on my team.

"There are some really good names and really good football people and club people."

Ben McGregor is one person who has helped out a lot behind the scenes and his match up against brother James will be a rivalry to watch.

James and Tim Brennan also find themselves up against Jordan Brennan, in another family affair, while there are other surprising rivalries which have risen in the lead up to the match.

That includes a friendly faceoff over social media between a local fishing identity Jamie "Coatsy" Coates and Confession barista Don Pratt.

As such there is sure to be no shortage of banter out on the field.

A microphone will be passed around during the game, with none other than Kevin "KD" Douglas on the other end, putting players on the spot with some pressing questions.

Gates open at 4.30pm, with the game scheduled for a 6pm start.

Earlier in the day, Confession cafe will host the guernsey presentations while the AFL identities will be present for a meet and greet.

All proceeds from coffees sold by the establishment on Friday will also be donated towards the cause.

Prior to Friday night's first bounce a welcome to country and a minute's silence will be held, along with some formalities to convey the reason for the event.

Entry costs a $10 donation for adults, with a gold coin donation for Under 16's.

Robe Run raced and won: Big field for festival of feet

By James Murphy

Close to 500 runners converged on the coastal town of Robe for the inaugural Robe Run event on Saturday.

Entries reached a staggering 498, with the event run by Adelaide Trail Runners and offering four distances and some cash prizes for the top competitors.

Adelaide Trail Runners founder Brett Crosby said it deemed an ultimate success with positive feedback from all involved.

"We couldn't have been happier with it for a first year event," he said.

"It was fantastic and all of the feedback was nothing but positive.

"People loved the event and they loved the course."

From a local perspective the best performance came from Robe's Hannah Regnier, who won the women's half marathon event.

She completed the 21.1km course in 1:40.40 to beat Michele Hayman to the line by eight seconds.

Just one second further behind was Erin Parker who rounded out the podium in a thrilling finish.

The men's half marathon was won by Millicent's Owen Williams, followed by Ben Princi and Jackson Laycock.

The feature event was the full marathon, with the men's race dominated by Adelaide runner Fraser Darcy.

His time of 2:49.28 for the 42.2km event was impressive and gave him a 16-minute buffer to runner-up Leif Christensen, while Cameron Graetz finished third for the men.

"Fraser Darcy's winning time was just incredible," Crosby said.

"He is one of our gun runners from Adelaide and he wins pretty much everything he runs in.

"To run that time on a course like that is just incredible."

Madison Hurley was the quickest marathon runner for the women and she topped the field with a 3:42.39.

She was 27 minutes quicker than runner-up Megan Semczuk, with Vienna Tran a further two minutes behind in third.

Further local interest came in the 13km event, with Mount Gambier's Josh Cameron claiming line honours from Jack Webster.

Robe's Zac Deane also made the podium for a third-place finish.

The women's 13km race was won by Nikki

Smart from Leanne Cameron and Emma Grant.

Mount Gambier's Joel Bryant claimed the men's 5km win, while Robe runners completed the podium with Jordan Hentschke in second and Thomas Wachtel third.

The women's 5km was won by Ashlie Webber, followed by Karina Pascoe and Naracoorte's Belinda Sinclair.

In all it was a successful day, with plenty of onlookers cheering on the runners at the finish line along the Foreshore.

"The crowd support was incredible too," Crosby said.

"There were heaps of family and friends hanging around.

"Not even a little bit of drizzly rain could dampen things."

Crosby said the support from the town was another positive.

"And all of the locals were on board," he said.

"We had so much support from so many people in Robe.

"There were so many great volunteers - it took a huge team to pull it off."

The date for next year's event has already been pencilled in, with it to be held on February 10, 2024.

Magical night for siblings

By James Murphy

Penola sisters, Alana Berkefeld, Emily Winter and Georgia Winter are the toast of the town after playing a major role in the Millicent Magic senior women's 2022-23 Country Basketball League South West championship.

The trio has been an integral part of the Magic team this season, with a dominant performance throughout much of the competition.

The team travelled to Warrnambool on Saturday and claimed the title with a 19-point win over the Mount Gambier Lakers.

The two teams had been the benchmarks of the Basketball Victoria competition and it was a fitting conclusion to the season.

A close encounter was expected but Millicent played a hard defensive game and held the Lakers to 45 points - their lowest score of the season.

Mount Gambier's defence was also solid, but the combination of Jasmin Howe and Emily Winter combined for 47 points as the Magic pushed out to a 64-45 win.

"Jazzy and Emily were exceptional at both ends of the court," Millicent coach Damien Venn said.

"As a team we locked them down defensively.

"We knew that was always going to be the key to the game.

"Every player I had played their role and it didn't matter who I had on the court.

"We just had one of those nights where everything went right for us."

Venn was impressed with his team's defensive efforts, as Sarah Ritter was the only Mount Gambier player to reach double figures.

The star shooter managed 16 but was forced to work for every point, with Alana Berkefeld prolific in defence.

"Alana did an outstanding job - she is way undersized and kept Sarah reasonably quiet in that first half when it mattered," Venn said.

Millicent won the first two quarters and at half time held a 12-point lead.

"I was probably quietly confident at half time, but we sat down and spoke about it," Venn said.

"It was only 12 points - a couple of threes and they were right back in it.

"We had spoken about the importance of having only done half the job."

With that drilled into their minds, the Magic iced the game in the third quarter with a dominant 20-6 point effort.

Millicent's Magic women claimed the 2022-23 CBL championship on Saturday night.

Pictures: SUBMITTED

Suddenly it was a 26-point ball game and Millicent held all the sway heading into the final stanza.

That buffer was more than sufficient in denying a turnaround and when the final buzzer sounded the Magic were re-crowned as champions.

"That was the best game we have played all year," Venn said.

"We were pretty happy."

The win was Millicent's third consecutive championship, despite not competing in the league last season.

The Magic won the 2019, 2020 titles, while the 2021 season was cancelled due to Covid and the Magic did not enter a team in the 2022 competition.

There were smiles all around for the Millicent Magic women after Saturday's CBL grand final win.

Howe's 24 points was the best for the match, while Winter shot 23 and also received the MVP award for the grand final.

On the other side of the game, Mount Gambier coach Bryan Green was proud of his girls despite the group's disappointment.

"Things didn't go the way we hoped, but it was a pretty good season on the whole, so I can't really complain," he said.

"We had a very young and inexperienced team.

"(Millicent) are probably the highest scoring team in the league.

"I thought we did a great job defensively against them to keep them to 64 but they kept us to 45.

"There were a lot of things that didn't go right for us and a lot of good defensive plays for them."

With the game still up for grabs at the main break, Green said a few changes were swung in an effort to restrict the Magic offensively.

"We decided to change defence hoping for a little bit of a turn around in the game," he said.

"Unfortunately they came out and went bang, bang, bang and went from 12 up to about 23 up."

The final quarter was a bit of a non-contest as Venn pulled some of his starting players off the court.

The Lakers won the term by seven points, but the damage was too severe and any chance of a comeback was off the table.

In the end it was simply Millicent's night, with everything falling into place for the Magic.
