Locals teamed up to help Derek Nicolson tidy up his shed.

We're here for you

By Elisabeth Champion

Veterans, Penola locals and friends have come together to help out a veteran in need.

They were quick to put up their hand when they were informed that Vietnam veteran and Penola man Derek Nicolson needed some assistance cleaning up his shed and house, due to some mobility issues.

Seeing a fellow veteran in need, members of the Military Brotherhood Motorcycle Club, alongside people from the Penola RSL and Liz Wheeler from the Limestone Coast Veterans Hub rolled up their sleeves to help out on Saturday, May 27.

Not letting some bad weather deter them, a large team of helpers filled skip bins, sorted through sheds and the house and helped to clear space for Mr Nicolson to continue with his hobbies.

Free from tariffs

By Tyler Redway

Tariffs put on major South Australian export products, such as wine and honey, by the UK have been eliminated as the Australia-United Kingdom Free Trade Agreement (A-UKFTA) was implemented last week.

The agreement will scrap tariffs on 99 per cent of Australian goods exported to the UK which will aim to open new export opportunities, particularly for the agricultural sector.

Coonawarra Vignerons chief executive Hugh Koch said the removal of these tariffs would mean roughly 38 cents per bottle of wine, which contributed to export costs, would be saved.

Mr Koch said the changes were welcomed by the company, but it would not ease pressure for long as there was now potential for implementation of an alcohol excise duty system in the UK.

He said the system would determine whether to apply additional costs to a bottle of wine based on each bottle's individual alcohol volume.

"It means that any wine with an alcohol by volume level of more than 11.5 per cent will pay more tax than what they currently do on arrangements," Mr Koch said.

"That extra cost will add about $1.30 per bottle, particularly for Australian red wine which is what we stock at about 14.5 per cent.

Who's with Harveys

The South East Family History Group hopes someone might recognise who is standing to the left and right of Peter and Jan Harvey in this photo from their collection.

The heavily wallpapered room might also prompt memories of the location it was taken.

If you can assist in naming the men to the left and right of the Harvey's or identify the venue please contact South East Family History Group researcher Colleen Hammat.

Information can also be provided at the SE-FHG on Wednesdays and Saturdays 1-5pm, by phoning 8733 1100 (or leave a message) or via email info@sefhg.org.

Community members are asked to add further information to this photo in the hopes the local history group can complete the names.

Boneham Aged Care Services CEO Michael Filsell is pleased with the latest accreditation results for the facility.

Praise for staff during care review

Boneham Aged Care Services (BACS) have recently received the results of their three yearly accreditation survey.

The Aged Care Safety and Quality Commission has accredited the facility for a further three years until May 2026.

Chief Executive Officer Michael Filsell noted in a statement released by BACS that Boneham had met 43 of the 44 requirements.

The single unmet requirement relates to staff appraisals delayed due to COVID outbreaks in 2022.

Mr Filsell noted the one unmet criteria has already been substantially resolved and is expected to be finalised by 30th June.

"This is an exceptional result in the current aged care compliance environment and is a testimony to the amazing care provided by our staff for our residents," he said,

"The surveyors who attended were particularly praising of the care shown by our team members, how well they knew each resident and their individual needs and how calm and happy our environment is.

"It is an achievement of which our staff, Board and management team are all immensely proud."

Commonwealth accreditation of aged care homes is a legal requirement to ensure the safety of residents.

Accreditation may be granted for any period up to three years or withheld in cases of significant concern.

A previous neighbour of the Raska family, Mary Anne Stuckey, has identified Richard and his parents Stanley and Sophia Raska in this photo taken at the Civic and Arts Centre entrance.

The remaining three people had already been named and are John Carroll (far left) and Millicent's Mayor Gladys Smith with Millicent's High School principal Ed Smallwood on the right.

Originally appearing in the June 1st edition of the South Eastern Times the photo was quickly identified and named.

The SEFHG appreciates the ongoing assistance in the naming of their photo collection.

This gathering of people have all now been identified due to the community's response.

Fundraising goal exceeds expectations

By Caroline Hammat

School Services Officer Judith Laucirica was inspired by personal experience to host last week's Biggest Morning Tea at the Millicent North Primary School (MNPS).

The long term employee of the school set a goal of $1,000 which was doubled after hosting a morning and afternoon tea in the school staff room last Wednesday.

It is the first time Ms Laucirica has hosted a Biggest Morning Tea.

"I've just spent seven weeks at Greenhill Lodge having radiation treatment, it's an amazing facility and I think to give something back is good.

"At the school we've had lots of family and staff impacted as well.

"It touches everyone at some stage." A variety of staff members baked and donated an array of treats for the fundraiser.

edged her work colleague for organising the event.

"We are very proud of her.

"Judith has been through a hard year.

"We are really excited she is back and well and able to do this."

Ms Laucirica's current fundraising tally sits at $2,000 and donations can still be made through the Biggest Morning Tea website by searching Millicent North Primary School.

Regional health boost bid

By Tyler Redway

Member for Mackillop Nick McBride has highlighted the importance of having up-to-date medical services in regional towns in a recent parliament question time.

Mr McBride said Penola Hospital did not have enough full-time doctors supporting the town's facilities.

"It is being backed up by locums, I don't think there are enough doctors in town to support the hospital and it will be interesting to see where this medical precinct goes," he said.

"I will always support whatever we can get for the Penola Hospital and its community to keep it open.

"I'm hoping for whoever is in Government at the time that they recognise the importance of regional health and infrastructure."

A locum doctor is defined as a medical professional who temporarily fills the role of a full-time doctor, which Mr McBride said was not the most ideal situation for the Penola Hospital.

McBride said this had to do with the fact the town had struggled to secure a good amount of full-time doctors for their facilities and needed to rely on the locum system whenever the present GP was not available.

"I think they are struggling and they do have a doctor but over the years it has been really hard for the town to capture a doctor for

Member for Mackillop Nick McBride hoped there would eventually be consideration for Penola's hospital and that it might go through the same changes coming for the Keith and District Health Service, although LCLHN chief executive Grant King said there were no plans to change any of the services in Penola currently.

any sort of long term," he said.

"If you haven't got a medical clinic alongside the hospital and it's working off of a locum system, then everything becomes more expensive to operate, which is what it all comes back to.

"If there was a strong medical clinic and two or three doctors in Penola, then the hospital for Penola might stack up even better."

He said he would like to see Penola Hospital move to a similar set-up as the Keith Hospital, which will transform it into a public health hub with seven-day urgent care, upgrades to the aged care facility and will implement a community paramedic and nurse practitioner.

Mr McBride said in parliament the Keith hospital and aged care facility would now "sit in a better place" compared to its previous state thanks to the upgrades.

"The Marshall Government supported it and moved it forward into a new model and the Malinauskas Government has also supported it in a bigger way and perhaps even for a longer future compared to the previous government," Mr McBride said.

"It's going to be interesting to see how the medical clinic at Keith, not being a hospital, meets the needs of the community which to my understanding has community support and has the Keith Hospital board's support and the fact it's a medical clinic with a tier three nurse and two medical practitioners backing up the town."

However, Limestone Coast Local Health Network (LCLHN) chief executive Grant King said there was no current plan to implement Keith's upgrade plan to any other regional hospitals or medical clinics.

"They are quite different models, Penola's is a multipurpose site within the network of public hospital services while Keith was a private community hospital which has had its own challenges with its business model and needed to be changed," Mr King said.

"We are pretty confident the change which is about to occur there will be very beneficial to the community in terms of access to health and aged care services in Keith.

"There is always an eye on making sure the services are appropriate and safe and in each of those cases (Penola and Keith) we are pretty comfortable with that."

Mr King said there was still the possibility to expand Keith's service upgrades to other parts of the region if it was required, but said there was still no current demand for any of those upgrades to be implemented into Penola's health care services.

"We do think it's possible this model which has been put in place could be replicated in other parts of the state or the nation where there are challenges around access to GP and primary health care services," he said.

"There's no call for it at the moment, Penola Hospital is operating a current service with a very good aged care facility and there is nothing on my radar which suggests we need to alter the model at this point in time."

UK exports free from tariffs thanks to deal

"The Free Trade Agreement is welcome, but if these other excise duty changes are going to occur then it will negate it anyway so we're watching that one very closely at the same time."

Mr Koch said the company hoped now the tariffs were being eliminated, it would increase the supply and demand for Australian wine.

He also said this tariff elimination was another step to easing the pressure put on by inflated costs to essential services such as freight and transport.

"It's given a leg up for a number of products going into Britain and from our perspective with wine and it has been able to allow us to have a bit more wriggle room to what we previously had," Mr Koch said.

"Freight costs have gotten much more expensive so you would hope this is at least one measure which can improve the opportunity for Australian wine, particularly Coonawarra wine, in the UK."

It is good news for other sectors as well, including some agricultural products like beef, sheep meat, dairy and sugar, with Australia having access to expanding tariff quota volumes – within 10 years these tariff quotas will be eliminated completely.

After five years, all UK imports will enter Australia duty free. In the year ending March 2023, goods exported from South Australia to the UK were valued at $380.4 million.

"I enjoy tumbling rocks, so I have a few good rock tumblers so I will keep those," he said.

"I haven't been able to get in there to do things because of my dodgy legs."

As well as getting the shed set up for use, and putting aside items which can be sold, the team unearthed some other treasures, including a photo taken at Kapooka in 1967.

Mr Nicolson said he was incredibly grateful for the help.

"I'm extremely blessed," he said.

"I'm very, very fortunate that they've given up their weekend, to come up and help me.

"I'm very pleased with what they've done and what they've been able to do in that short period of time.

"I never feel as if I'm deserving of this sort of stuff - as I said, these fellows have given up a weekend to do this for me in conjunction with the local RSL, and Liz Wheeler, and a mate and his partner."

Ms Wheeler will continue to work with Mr Nicolson and support staff.

Water cycle in spotlight

By Sophie Conlon

Students at Robe Primary School learned all about water and wastewater management recently as part of an interactive program led by SA Water.

The educational program, The Well, toured the South East, stopping Mundulla, Mount Gambier and Robe, to teach students how water is delivered from source to tap and what happens after it's flushed down the toilet.

SA Water's acting senior manager of brand, communications and media Kellie McDonald said it was important everyone understood the value of water and the role they play in protecting the essential service.

"The feedback we get from students taking part in our on-site and in-school activities is they love discovering the fascinating process of water treatment, and they always ask some great questions, such as 'How can water be recycled?'," she said.

"Using props and interactive discussion, we took students on the journey of water, providing a more technical look at water treatment, and encouraging students to think about their own responsible water use."

Staff from SA Water visited Robe Primary School to teach students all about the water cycle.

Picture: SUPPLIED

Ms McDonald said students learned drinking water provided by SA Water was most commonly groundwater, water from the River Murray, or a combination of both.

"We aim to teach students to appreciate the enormous amount of work that goes into making sure this safe, clean water is available when they turn on the tap and the environmental benefits of reusing treated wastewater, which in South Australia is recycled for uses from toilet flushing to irrigating green open spaces," she said.

"Our education sessions are a fun way for students and teachers to discover valuable insights into water and wastewater processes, sustainability practices and how we deliver services every day to more than 1.7 million South Australians."

Pool's now a prized site

By Caroline Hammat

Beachport's Pool of Siloam received national recognition recently as the site of the award winning video artwork Witness.

South Australian artist Ida Sophia won the prestigious $100,000 Ramsay Art Prize with her 12 minute 12 second long video filmed in a single take at the lake in early spring 2022.

Eight crew members, including the artist, arrived at the site just before the sun rose and Witness was performed for about 30 minutes at dawn.

"It was intensely cold," Ms Sophia said.

"We were prepared with wetsuits, blankets, hot tea, heaters in the car and a safety officer on site throughout the shoot, as hypothermia was a risk.

"Working in the cold and in water can be very dangerous so we took precautions to ensure every member's safety.

"The pool was very beautiful, calm and still before dawn break.

"It felt special and the light that emerged as we began to shoot was worth getting up so early for."

Ms Sophia was born in Mount Gambier, lived there as a child and spent her childhood swimming in the lake.

At age seven, she moved to Adelaide.

The video is inspired by the artist's experience of witnessing her father's profound baptism in a Mount Gambier church at age eight.

Being invited to witness the moment had a deep impact on Ms Sophia as a child and her own devoutness.

The video begins with the artist being dunked in the lake by collaborating artist Michael Schaefer.

It grows in intensity as the underwater plunging continues, it is relentless, and the artist's exhaustion is felt as the work progresses.

The constant camera movement by director of Photography, Claire Bishop, was created by fashioning a buoyant pillow for the camera to float on as she moved through the water towards the pair.

An underwater hydrophone and directional microphone were used to capture the natural sounds both above and below the water during the performance.

These recordings formed the foundation of the sound composition by the artist's husband, Joseph James Francis.

Michael Schaefer and Ida Sophia during the dawn filming of Witness. Ida Sophia, born Mount Gambier, South Australia 1989, Witness, 2022, Adelaide; Beachport, South Australia, HD video 4k; Courtesy the artist.

"I had a clear brief for the sound to make the viewer feel physically affected by the relentlessness of it.

"Joseph and I worked with the ideas and he used to great effect, the collected sounds, synthesisers, and samples to create an atmosphere that is so immersive and visceral.

Witness was conceived and developed during a residency at Post Office Projects in Port Adelaide in late 2021 and took about 12 months to complete.

"From there, I began writing grant applications, forming the crew, planning, testing and site visits to Beachport," Ms Sophia said.

"After the shoot, we had a period of post production editing and collaboration on the sound composition.

"The idea and the location choice were more or less simultaneous.

"I always knew it would be there.

"In my practice, I believe that every element of a work must be meaningful, so, locating the work at the Pool Of Siloam made sense both personally and conceptually to the idea."

Ms Sophia has been a practicing artist for five years and during this time has exhibited both nationally and internationally.

Through dedication to her career and studio practice the artist has embraced international training and mentorships including a period at The Marina Abramovic Institute in Greece.

Wattle Range Council is acknowledged in the film's credits but Chief Executive Officer Ben Gower and Mayor Des Noll were unaware of the project until the winner was announced.

"This whole thing came as a complete surprise to me, I had no knowledge of it at all but it is wonderful news," Mr Gower said.

"Absolutely, it was a surprise" Mayor Noll said.

"Beachport is a beautiful place and people come there for all sorts of different reasons

"Obviously she is an artist that excels in her work and was successful in winning the prize."

Council approval to film at the site was applied for and approved in 2022 before filming began.

The biennial acquisitive Ramsay Art Prize is open to Australian artists under the age of 40 working in any medium.

It aims to support and encourage contemporary Australian artists to make their best work at a pivotal moment in their career.

Witness can be viewed at The Art Gallery of South Australia as part of the Ramsay Art Prize exhibition until August 27.

Soccer session for skills

By Caroline Hammat

Young people from the disability sector had the opportunity to test their athletic skills at a training session last Saturday.

For the first time the Mount Gambier based Special Olympics Limestone All Abilities Soccer took to the Millicent United Soccer Field with their equipment for the morning.

Keith Seiler is the coordinator of the Special Olympics South Australia State Soccer and has been working in this field for 13 years.

"The only reason I started was because my son wanted to do sport and there wasn't much for him," he said.

"We've created a soccer team for people with intellectual disabilities and now we are branching into Millicent and more country areas.

"There is nothing close to this in the regional areas, we've created this over the years with equipment being donated and the uniforms sponsored," Mr Seiler said.

Trudi Reilly and her husband Neil have a child with an intellectual disability and were both at the training session.

"We have found that in Millicent there are no avenues for these children to tap into," Ms Reilly said.

"Allyson has always been in Girl Guides but that finishes at 13.

"Now we have to travel to Mount Gambier to find special needs or disability activities for Allyson to do.

"This soccer has been wonderful for her, this is only a visit day, and she got two children from her classroom to have a go.

"There is such a need in Millicent for something."

Tess Quintel lives in Mount Gambier and is a regular on the soccer field, her mother Romana told the South Eastern Times how important the program was for her daughter.

Keith Seiler with the 10 athletes who joined in the recent soccer training session held in Millicent.

"It is something she looks forward to every single week, it gives her a reason to get out of bed on a Saturday morning and exercise.

"It's definitely helped grow her friendship group and social connections in the community.

"Tess has connected with some athletes

now in Adelaide and they talk online.

"She feels safe and welcome and encouraged here.

"Keith does an awesome job as the coach, helping the athletes work out where they are at ability-wise and just encouraging them to push themselves in a really safe environment.

"Seeing the friendships grow where they all feel comfortable having a laugh with one another is one of the best things."

The come and try program is always looking for new athletes with disabilities to join in and enquiries are welcome by phoning Mr Seiler on 0418 897 422.

Reliving historic team-up

Edenhope will recreate a historic moment this weekend.

Some 35 years ago, an Indigenous team came to Edenhope to re-enact the journey of the first XI Aboriginal cricket team.

John McGuire Captain of the 1988 Cricket team has requested his team from all over Australia return to the "birthplace" of the first Aboriginal Cricket team of 1868 for what could be their last visit. Edenhope are hosting their Cricket Reunion this June long weekend.

The story begins at Bringalbert with Tom Hamilton initiating his all-round sportsman skills to teach the Aboriginal men at the station to play cricket.

This became a social event for the district.

He bought his team to Edenhope to play against the Edenhope Cricket Club (1862) on the shores of Lake Wallace Edenhope at the request of William Hayman, the manager of Lake Wallace Station.

It was the beginning of the most memorable moment in Australia's cricketing history, leaving Edenhope to journey through Kadnook onto Queenscliff to play in the UK.

This weekend, there will be an opening of a new Museum to honour the Edenhope Cricket history dating back to its formation in 1862, along with the recognition of the 1988 team and their Kowree President's XI opponents who were skilled cricketers from the district.

The Kowree Presidents XI's were from Hamilton, Yahl, Millicent Casterton, Bordertown, Naracoorte, Penola, Netherby, Nhill, Edenhope, Noradjuha and Dimboola.

From Penola was Steven Skeer and from Furner was Dale Bateman.

Although much older, every member of this team have been found and invited to the reunion. There will be a tribute to the deceased members of both teams at the dinner Saturday evening.

The aim of Edenhope museum is to enhance community identity, have a sense of place, be friendly and inclusive, and be a place to visit and enjoy.

There will be an official opening held at 1.30pm, with a welcome dinner to be held at the Edenhope Community Centre that night.

On Sunday, there will be bus tours of the 1868 Cricket Trail Sites in the West Wimmera, followed by a light meal and the watching of the movie Dreaming of Lords. The address for the Museum is 96-98 Elizabeth St, adjacent to the historic Courthouse.

Celebration of the Scots

The International Day of the Tartan will be celebrated at Glencoe this year on July 1.

This day is celebrated Internationally to remember the return of Clan Tartans to the Scottish Clans after having it taken off them following the Battle of Culloden by the English for a period of 40 years.

In August of 1746, the Parliament of Great Britain brought in the The Dress Act 1746, as part of the the Act of Proscription, which among other things, made wearing the "Highland Dress" including kilts illegal in Scotland.

The act was not repealed until July 1 1782

The Glencoe Hall and Woolshed have been chosen to hold this event.

Local and interstate pipe bands will be playing and local highland dancers will be in attendance.

There will be displays of period vehicles and stationary engines, Indigenous animals from Scotland and Australia, possibly demonstrations of blade shearing and a movie of the Woolshed in working mode.

The day will be catered mainly by local non profit groups at both locations.

Tours of the area will include the World Famous Gardens and can be visited by travelling in a Horse and Carriage.

Caber Tossing and Hammer Throwing will be demonstrated and participation is encouraged.

The local Army Reserve, being a kilted Company, will start the day with a flag Raising, accompanied by the pipes.

Part of their display will hopefully include a Bushman Combat Vehicle.

The day begins at 9am and concludes at 4pm.

Everyone is encouraged to join in the day, and those interested are invited to ask questions or join the Glencoe Hall Committee.

Southern rock lobster fee discount to end

By Charlotte Varcoe

Fee relief for southern rock lobster fishermen will come to an end this financial year with the State Government stating it will not continue.

Minister for Primary Industries Clare Scriven has confirmed the one-year 50 per cent fee relief would not roll over to the 2023/2024 financial year despite China still banning imports.

Ms Scriven said it was clear from the beginning the fee relief was one for one year which was announced prior to last year's State election.

"The notifications have gone out which went to all license holders," Ms Scriven said.

"I do not think this will be a surprise to anyone as it was only ever envisaged as a one-year relation program."

She said so far she had received "one or two" pieces of correspondence about the fee relief, both of which asked whether it would continue.

"It has had very welcome feedback but we are cautiously optimistic that the trade issues with China will be resolved in the near future with the Federal Trade Minister Don Farrell remaining in negotiations," Ms Scriven said.

"There is certainly a lot of positivity there, especially around the fact that the timber imports were now back to China with the limitations being lifted."

She said she hoped the same future was in store for the southern rock lobster industry, claiming she believes the industry's future was looking good.

"There is still high demand for a very high quality product which is work renown here in the Limestone Coast," Ms Scriven said.

"I think the future of the industry is good notwithstanding the fact there are still large challenges at the moment."

Unique learning for school

By Caroline Hammat

For several years Rendelsham Primary School (RPS) students have experienced their learning in an outdoor classroom each week.

Scrub Day was a regular part of the preschoolers curriculum until four years ago when the junior primary students were included in the day and it is now an integral part of the school's program.

The group eagerly walk to the nearby scrub plot each Thursday morning during term two and three and return to school at around 2.30pm.

During the walk they take turns to transport supplies for the day and carry their own backpacks.

The children have made a map of their journey which names landmarks and places of interest along the way.

For an eight week period, First Nations Elder and Boandik educator, Aunty Michelle Jacquelin-Furr joins the students for Scrub Day in the morning before returning to the school and spending the afternoon with the upper primary students.

At Scrub Day students gather around the campfire site they have built and discuss the day ahead.

They welcome Aunty Michelle and other guests before enjoying a brief respite called sit time.

During sit time, students listen to the sounds around them, notice the small things nearby or create things from the items they find, while remaining silent.

Once sit time is over, and their experience shared with each other, active work begins.

Some students explore the bush and others work on their cubbies created over many weeks and sometimes years.

Students look for bugs and insects, two young girls assist Aunty Michelle in making a net while others collect wood to help with the fire that will cook everyone's lunch - baked potatoes.

RPS teacher Sally Gower said the children learn to risk take and assess that risk themselves, with life skills organically evolving from their engagement during Scrub Day.

"We are very blessed, they love it, it's that freedom of being able to explore uninterrupted and problem solve," she said

"They get to be in nature and use real tools.

"They learn to respect what they can take from nature to support them build their cubbies.

On arrival at their camp site on Scrub Day the children discuss the day's activities.

"We do potion making, we cook on the fire, it's just lovely to be out in nature.

"We are very lucky to have this opportunity, it brings us so much joy."

The children were happy to share their favourite things about Scrub Day.

"I like to come out to scrub, I saw a slug," Finn said.

"I have another favourite thing, I can find bugs."

Audrey has been working on a cubby site for many months.

"I like building cubbies with my friends out of tarps, ropes and nature," she said.

"One of the best things was challenging myself to climb trees, I used to be quite scared I was going to fall.

"It was hard but I ended up doing it."

Jack is helpful when it comes to keeping the fire going for lunch

"I don't know how to start the fire but I know how to rub the sticks together," he said.

"I like playing in the scrub, climbing trees and using saws and shovels."

Aunty Michelle usually delivers a whole school eight week programme she has developed called 'Annie's story - Living on Boandik country' but after discussion with the RPS teachers the programme has developed into something different.

"This method of delivering cultural teaching for the eight weeks has been unique," she said.

"The teachers gave ideas and suggestions which have turned the programme on its head.

"I now have a routine which includes weaving, story telling, sharing rules and law of the land.

"Foods Aboriginal people ate then and comparing them to foods eaten now, fire making, making hides, discussing songlines, dancing and ceremony, Boandik counting, making string and medicines."

Aunty Michelle's last week of the program will be held at Honan's Reserve, Glencoe where she will meet with all RPS students and teachers.

The reserve is the closest thing to the Boandik's natural scrub before colonisation.

During the outing the children and teachers have agreed to only bring the kind of foods the Boandik would have eaten.

Ms Gower praised the program.

"It's been wonderful having Aunty Michelle with us because she has integrated how the Boandik would have used the land, and how similar it is for us and what we are doing."

Wages score another rise

By Tyler Redway

Minimum wages in Australia will see another increase effective immediately from July 1 this year according to the Fair Work Commission.

The increase now puts wages at $23.23 per hour nationally, while award wages will also be affected with a 5.75 per cent increase.

Shop, Distributive and Allied Employees Association (SDA) secretary Josh Peak said the increase would be "critical" mostly to many retail and fast food workers.

Other industries Mr Peak said would benefit from this increase included disability, aged care and early learning.

"Over the past year, skyrocketing inflation has meant that many workers have struggled to pay their bills and put food on the table," Mr Peak said.

"It's a welcome relief for millions of workers across the country and it will help keep them and their families afloat as inflation remains high.

"Many essential workers are among the lowest paid in Australia and this increase ensures they're fairly recognised for the important work they do.

"Many businesses have posted record profits this year, they can afford to pass this wage increase onto workers."

Mr Peak said although it was a welcome change to a much needed area of improvement, the wage increase only affected one in four workers in reality.

He said to ensure every worker had their fair share, the SDA was currently negotiating to find the best possible outcome for all Australian wages.

"There are many workers who are facing the same cost of living pressures but don't know when their next pay rise will come," he said.

"The SDA is currently negotiating Agreements at a number of major retailers and pushing for them to guarantee strong increases this year and into the future so these workers don't miss out."

Other changes to the wages include a 15 per cent increase for workers of the aged care sector and an increase of 11 per cent, up from 10.5 per cent, for superannuation guarantee rates.

MOVING UP: SDA secretary Josh Peak said the increase in national minimum wages would benefit people who were struggling to pay their bills, but also emphasised how important it was for every worker in Australia to get their fair share. Picture: SUPPLIED

'Common sense' reminder to reduce house fire risk

By Aidan Curtis

The Metropolitan Fire Service (MFS) is reminding people to stay vigilant to prevent house fires this winter as part of Home Fire Safety Week.

MFS Mount Gambier station officer Adrian Puust said house fires are often preventable by being proactive in testing smoke detectors and making sure heaters are well maintained.

"Make sure you don't have any furniture or clothing too close to the heater itself, especially during winter if you're trying to dry clothes," he said.

"If your smoke detector is more than 10 years old, replace it.

"All common sense stuff, but we all need reminding on it and sometimes we just get busy and put off doing maintenance and checking heating equipment."

Mr Puust said even something as simple as regularly cleaning the lint trap in the tumble dryer could prevent a future house fire.

"We need to be a bit more diligent as householders and make sure our houses are safe because we can prevent most fires," he said.

"When someone has a house fire, even a minor fire, all the soft furnishings will need to be cleaned or replaced, they can be without a house for several weeks, if not months.

"And I'm talking up to 18 months if it's a significant fire, especially with builders being so busy."

Mr Puust recommended other actions to help prevent house fires including cleaning out the flue for combustion heaters, not leaving electric blankets on all night, and stocking up on extra blankets to avoid using heaters overnight.

Home Fire Safety Week kicked off on Friday, June 2.

WHAT'S ON THE BOX?

RICK STEIN'S CORNWALL
SBS Food, Thursday, 8.30pm

Chef Rick Stein (pictured) is a foodie, but he's also an old-fashioned gentleman who loves striking up a conversation with fellow gourmands. Known to quote works of literature and freely wax lyrical, Stein's series are intimate and educational delights. In this third season of exploring his beloved Cornwall, the slow pace and attention to detail is tantalising and, of course, the food is a wholesome treat. Tonight, the self-effacing Brit visits the fishing port of Boscastle, where an unusual seafood restaurant is calling. After a jaunt to Cornwall's only organic mushroom farm, he whips up a stir fry with lion's mane mushrooms and broccoli. It's brain food at its best.

NOTHING COMPARES: SINEAD O'CONNOR
SBS, Friday, 8.35pm

Beautifully crafted, this is a blistering, stirring portrait of an artist ahead of their time. Charting the iconic Irish singer's huge mainstream success and then rapid, public fall from grace, this captivating portrait from relatively unknown director Kathryn Ferguson features Sinead O'Connor's (pictured) intimate voiceover narrating her own story. It draws on a huge catalogue of footage including interviews, performances, unseen footage and music videos, and includes insights from contemporary artists including Lady Gaga and Billie Eilish.

PICK OF THE WEEK

PLAY SCHOOL: LET'S TAKE A RIDE
ABC Kids, Monday, 9am

There's no end for learning for little kids and this new series from Play School takes them on an exciting new excursion. The lovable presenters, including Emma Palmer and Teo Gebert (both pictured), buckle up for an exploration of transport in this cute five-part series. From vehicles on the road, to trains on their tracks, sailing on the ocean and flying through the air, it's a fun outing as the presenters steer through homemade landscapes in their trusty handcrafted vehicles. The show's popular "Through the Windows" segment comes along too, showcasing the many ways transport is used in our lives. Young kids are sure to have a "wheely" good time.

SO HELP ME TODD
10, Wednesday, 9.40pm

Starring a playful Marcia Gay Harden, this dramedy errs on the side of eclectic. The fun premise sees the Mystic River star as fastidious lawyer Margaret, who invites comical capers and eye-opening situations into her law firm when she hires her free-wheeling son Todd (Pitch Perfect's Skylar Astin, pictured with Gay Harden) as an in-house investigator. The mother-and-son dynamic is mined for laughs and the pair bounce pleasingly off each other. Blending murder mystery, legal drama and comedy and pathos, you can expect the unexpected. In tonight's premiere, Margaret and Todd are estranged, but are forced to put their differences aside when a loved one goes missing.

Motoring

C300 stays true to form

By Chris Riley, Marque Motoring

C-Class has been the mainstay of the Benz range for years.

Despite the popularity and growing number of SUVs, it continues to shine as the star performer in a range that now comprises more than 20 models.

Diversity has kept the car relevant to the market, with a sedan, coupe, wagon and convertible available, along with various powertrains, including the sledgehammer 500kW AMG C 63 S 4MATIC+.

It all comes together in a heady, amazing mix of style and technology which will take your breath away.

So could the price -- up to $15,000 more than the previous model.

Prices start from $78,900 for the C 200 Sedan.

Our test vehicle, the more expensive, more powerful C 300 sedan, is priced from $90,400 plus on-roads.

But that's not the end of the story with a mind-boggling list of options and -- just quietly -- not many Benzes leave the dealership without at least some of the boxes ticked.

The process can see the price of the car rise quickly and dramatically -- none are strictly necessary, however.

The test car was fitted with the $3800 Vision Pack plus Cavansite Blue Metallica paint at $1600, taking the price to $98,900.

The pack adds a sunroof, seat memory and heating, head-up display, traffic sign recognition and augmented reality for navigation.

Once upon a time, C-Class came with a choice of classic or dynamic styles, with a different radiator grille to match.

Now the AMG Line exterior package is standard and comes with a body kit and bold new diamond grille with star design in chrome (little Benz three-pointed stars).

LED headlights include headlight assist and adaptive high beam, while the optional digital light package uses 1.3 million micro-mirrors per headlight for extremely high-definition output.

The rear-end features new tail lights with a two-piece design, with light functions divided between the outside and boot-lid lights.

Three optional new paint finishes -- Spectral Blue, High-Tech Silver and Opalite White -- have been added to the colour palette.

The instrument panel has become a free-standing, 12.3-inch high-resolution that sits behind the wheel, with a variety of colours and configurations from which to choose.

Australian models reportedly benefit from a higher level of standard equipment, including a number of features that were previously unavailable or optional.

Features include AMG Line exterior and interior packages, 11.9-inch central media display, 360-degree camera, keyless entry and start with automatic powered boot closing, front centre airbag, fingerprint scanner and active safety systems including adaptive cruise control.

C 300 adds a more powerful drivetrain, with full leather trim, larger 19-inch AMG multi-spoke two-colour alloys and rear privacy glass.

Inside there's sporty AMG Line trim and floor mats, plus 64-colour ambient lighting, an illuminated front door sill with 'Mercedes-Benz' lettering, keyless entry and start and dual-zone climate control.

C-Class is covered by a 5-year unlimited kilometre warranty.

Service is due every 12 months or 25,000km and the first five years will set you back $5200.

The second-generation Mercedes-Benz User eXperience (MBUX) infotainment system is a stunner, fronted by an 11.9-inch, portrait-style touchscreen.

The Benz C-Class is the shining light of the range.

It includes Bluetooth, voice recognition, built-in navigation, AM/FM and DAB+ digital radio, plus wireless Apple CarPlay and Android Auto.

When following the navigation, a forward-facing camera creates an augmented view on the centre screen, which is basically video of the road ahead with an arrow superimposed to follow.

The display includes an ergonomically placed fingerprint scanner for secure and easy access to different profiles.

You can also access the infotainment system via a console-mounted touchpad, or track pads embedded in the multi-function sports-styled steering wheel.

There are two USB-C ports in the centre console and another at the bottom of the dashboard next to the wireless charging pad -- but none in the back.

There's no mention of the audio system, either in the sales brochure, specifications or technical data.

Guess it's generic or perhaps another victim of the global components' shortage.

At this price, you'd expect and demand a name brand.

Entry C 200 is powered by a 150kW 1.5-litre turbo hybrid.

C 300 gets a larger more powerful turbocharged petrol engine together with an electric motor/48-volt starter-generator, sandwiched between the engine and transmission that provides up to 15kW and 200Nm at low speeds.

The hybrid system is designed to provide assistance at low engine speeds and to provide significant fuel savings, but it cannot be driven in electric-only mode.

It's paired with a nine-speed automatic transmission and delivers 190kW of power at 5800 rpm and 400Nm of torque between 2000 and 3200 rpm, with overboost providing an extra 20kW briefly.

A comprehensive standard safety suite includes 10 airbags, including a centre-front airbag for the first time.

Autonomous emergency braking (Car-to-Car, Vulnerable Road User, Junction Assist and Backover) as well as a lane support system with lane keep assist (LKA), lane departure warning (LDW) and emergency lane keeping (ELK), and an advanced speed assistance system (SAS) are standard.

There's also adaptive cruise control, drowsiness monitoring, a 360-degree camera and active parking assistance with park sensors.

At 4793mm in length, the C-Class is 107mm longer than before, with a 25mm longer wheelbase, which in theory means more room inside.

Drive is to the rear wheels, with paddle shifts, auto engine stop-start and four drives modes available.

The dash from 0 to 100km/h takes a brisk 6.0 seconds.

It takes the good stuff too, premium 98 unleaded, with fuel consumption a claimed 7.3L/100km.

The interior of the C-Class is a masterclass in style and technology.

There are elements of the old, the in-between and the new emerging age.

The eye-catching Tesla-style vertically mounted touchscreen flows seamlessly into the centre console.

Did I say eye-catching?

If it wasn't for the second smaller screen that replaces a conventional instrument panel, it would dominate the cabin.

At night the whole thing lights up like a Christmas tree.

In fact, it could be a little too over-the-top, especially for techno-challenged post millennials. It could do with an off switch.

Touch sensitive controls (they're found everywhere) are tricky to operate and functions can be difficult to find -- the trip computer is a case in point.

The column-mounted gear lever is something of a throwback, but it's easy to operate and paves the way for the clutter-free console.

At the same time, we were left wondering what would happen if one accidentally selected reverse while driving, thinking it was the indicator stalk?

We weren't game to find out (but there must be some kind of lockout).

The back seat is deep and inviting, but is surprisingly lacking for legroom, even though this model has a slightly longer wheelbase.

Those in the back get air vents and a fold down centre armrest, but little else to speak of -- charge ports would be nice?

The boot is a good size at 455 litres and has a power operated boot lid.

Arriving home for the first time the car slammed on the brakes, believing we were about to run into the back of the car already in the driveway.

We must have been going a little too quickly for the system -- it scared the bejesus out of us.

A button at the end of the gear lever puts the car into Park, but it's not clear whether this engages the electric parking brake -- the indicator comes on only when you turn off the car.

Back on the road, the drive experience is cruisy and comfortable, apart from some tyre noise and tyre slap from time to time depending on the road surface.

Choosing the appropriate drive mode is accomplished via a toggle to the left and below the touchscreen air controls.

Sport and Sport+ amp up the drive experience, but the transmission dozes off and tends to lag when you ask it the question, as it drops down a gear or two.

This was especially obvious when it came to overtaking.

Punch the accelerator and the car fails to respond immediately and it becomes necessary to pull back in again.

A switch to manual mode and using the shift paddles to change gears rectifies this situation.

Although the suspension has been lowered, it's still a bit soft and bouncy to be called really sporty and bottoms out easily.

The steering is nicely weighted but the brakes are over sensitive.

Just a dab is required.

Applying what we consider a normal amount of pressure elicits an abrupt response.

Overall, it is a car better suited to touring than race tracks and that is exactly what it is designed to be.

In terms of fuel consumption, we were getting a long term 12.0L/100km after more than 900km and 8.2L in the short term -- nowhere near the 7.3L promised.

A tyre repair kit is provided in lieu of a spare tyre.

It's good, but all that glitters isn't necessarily gold.

There's no physical volume knob, no-name audio and navigating the infotainment system can be a challenge -- especially underway.

The engine is a bit disappointing too, both in terms of performance and fuel consumption.

For this kind of money, the C 300 needs to tick all the boxes -- and frankly it doesn't.

'Thanks for having us here at the greyhounds'

By David Lewis

THE Mount Gambier Greyhound Racing Club's recent appointment of the personable Fabio Cuervo as part of its kennel house race day and cleaning team has been well received by participants.

Fabio and his partner Sandra Soto had arrived in Melbourne from Colombia four years ago prior to relocating to Mount Gambier only last month. There had been an association with greyhound racing in Victoria as the pair was engaged in contract cleaning at The Meadows track on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

"However, in order to comply with permanent residential requirements in Australia we needed to move to a regional area of South Australia," Fabio said.

As it turned out, the CEO at The Meadows is Scott Wuchatsch, formerly the Strategic Projects Manager at Greyhound Racing SA (GRSA). He suggested to the couple that Mount Gambier could be an ideal place to settle. Because he had enjoyed a long association with the Mount Gambier club through his role at GRSA, he said he would contact the club to see if there were any openings in relation to employment.

Sandra, who works with the elderly, also lent a hand in the canteen at last Thursday's meeting.

"The Mount Gambier people are so nice," she said.

From Fabio: "Many thanks for having us here at the Mount Gambier greyhounds."

THANKS: Fabio Cuervo and Sandra Soto pictured at Tara Raceway last Thursday.

Small school fish abound

By Craig Philp

Wild weather dominated last week, but perfect timing saw favourable fishing conditions over the weekend, with the wind and sea finally settling down.

Charter boats and a couple of small boats did battle through the wind and swell last week chasing tuna out off Port MacDonnell.

The barrels were hard to find, but a combination of a full moon and a huge swell will often slow them down.

One positive though, the smaller school fish around the 12 to 15kg range have turned up in big numbers.

I would almost suggest the majority of fish-ers prefer catching these smaller fish because there is less chance of breaking your back.

As the sea began to settle down from Friday, the bigger fish started to fire up.

I am not sure of exact numbers, but know of half a dozen or so up around the 100kg mark boated.

The kelp beds down to the East are still fishing well for school shark and gummys.

The seven gill shark can be a bit of a nuisance at times though.

Some guys are only using burley as a last resort so as not to attract them – a bit of a Catch 22 situation.

The South East Amateur Surf Fishing Club kicked off its winter season Saturday night and what a competition it turned out to be.

Nathan Thomas took out first prize with a ripper school shark that went 15.83kg.

Second place went to Aung Mo with a lovely 6.305kg gummy.

A good number of salmon to 2kg were also weighed in.

Our winter run of salmon over the last few years has been ordinary to say the least.

This season thankfully has been exceptional, with all the usual hot spots fishing well.

The Beachport Salmon Hole, Canunda, Cape Banks and Nene Valley are all producing the goods.

The water was still fairly stirred up over the weekend after the coast was slammed by the big swell mid-week but we still saw good numbers of big garfish caught.

Livingstons fished well as did Hut Bay.

I think the boaties proved more successful than those wading because they could get out that little bit further and find clearer water.

Young Mitch Millard fished Hut Bay for a couple of hours on Sunday and bagged an impressive catch of big fat winter gar.

Winter is our prime time for big garfish in the Southeast when you fish the right conditions.

The Glenelg River saw good numbers of estuary perch caught right throughout the river all last week, but a crashing barometer shut them right down on Sunday.

These fish are very barometer sensitive, but the switched-on angler uses that to their advantage.

Look out for a rising or steady high and the fish should be more cooperative.

Shane Murrell had a good session of the mulloway Saturday night, boating three lovely fish on squid to just over a metre.

Dry Creek through to Sandy still seems to be the most consistent area.

Kent shoots to the top

Nearly 100 Sporting Clay Shooters travelled to Burrungule Park to compete in the 20th Sporting Clays Australia English Sporting Nationals over the last weekend of May, the first National event at the range in more than three decades.

Competitors from South Australia, Western Australia, Queensland, New South Wales, Victoria and Tasmania nominated for the 200-target event hosted by South East Field and Game Association. Sponsors for the event were La-Porte Australia, Bronzewing Australia, Nobel Sport Italia Australia and Torresan Estate.

Ken Atkin and his hard working crew of volunteers set two grounds, each comprising of 50 targets, all shot single barrel in pairs to test the shooter's skills and concentration.

Day 1 saw competitors shooting in calm, mostly dry weather conditions and the scoreboard at the halfway point had Jeremy Kent tied with the experienced John Younger, both having shot 97/100.

Heavy rain dampened the spirits of the early squads on Sunday morning of Day 2, but once the skies cleared the sun came out to create near perfect conditions.

Jeremy Kent hit the accelerator early on to grab a lead which he never gave up.

Kent finished up on 193/200, a personal best score and claimed the overall High Gun to win the Australian English Sporting Clays Championship.

Three Victorian shooters, Xavier Russell, Robert Hall and Chris Brown all finished on 186/200.

Seven targets behind Kent and needing a shoot off to determine the podium positions in the Open category, the highly talented Russell prevailed over his more experienced fellow Australian team sporting clay shooters.

John Younger claimed the Senior's title with 187/200, six targets behind Kent and second highest score of the weekend.

Runner-up in Seniors was John Leach and local Bruce Oakley from Dartmoor finished in third position.

South East Member Ron Rhook shot 178/200 to take out the Veterans category from Rob Shawyer and Eddy Magee.

The Masters Category was won by the experienced John Torresan with 156/200, with runners-up Pros Van Der Zalm and Daryl Mawson.

Ben Hastings is a third generation shooter from South East Field and Game and used his pedigree to score 159/200 and claim the Junior championship from promising young Adelaide shooter Jimmy Papaioannou, with Tyler Brown in third.

Renae Birgan, the 2018 Ladies FITASC world champion, shot 172/200 to claim the Ladies title over Bianca Norris and Janette Densley.

"The event at Burrungule Park was as close you can get to shooting English Sporting in England," Birgan commented after the event.

"It was a flawlessly run event from the office, target presentations and canteen, by a group of dedicated volunteers.

"You Guys nailed it and should be really proud of the event you created."

A Grade was claimed by Max Colenso scoring 159/200 from Daniel Torresan and South East local Tim Lloyd.

Malcolm Price took out the B Grade with 162/200 from Rohann Stebbings from Tasmania and Jody Wallace in third.

Veterans - Sponsor Anna Shedrina with Rob Shawyer, Veterans champion Ron Rhook and Eddy Magee.

Sponsors Len DiCandia and Anna Shedrina, with B Grade champion Malcolm Price and Rohan Stebbings.

Open - Robert Hall, Xavier Russell and Chris Brown.

Saints march in to victory

By Trevor Jackson

NANGWARRY 14.14 (98) d KONGORONG 10.12 (72)

A CONSISTENT four quarters of football, plus a strong final term, provided the first win of the 2023 Mid South East football season for Nangwarry.

In the end it was a comfortable 26-point victory over Kongorong, but there was little in the contest throughout the four quarters.

The Saints led by just three points at the first break, then inaccuracy in front of goals by the Hawks allowed Nangwarry to remain in touch at the long break, with scores tied up.

Kongorong eased its way to the lead in the third term, with a solitary point separating the two sides.

This time the Saints were inaccurate, with five goals and six behinds, while the Hawks added six goals and one behind.

It set up a scintillating final stanza and the Saints were soon to take advantage of the home ground advantage.

The first major score of the final quarter came from Nangwarry's Dylan Podobnik to put the Saints in front and they never let up from there.

Archer Virtanen was soon in on the act to kick his only major for the day and when Andrew Hyland added yet another to his bag, the Saints were on top, with a handy 14-point lead.

Josh Weedon joined in on the fun and banged home his only major, and when Luke Thomson found Hyland in the pocket and he goaled, it was all over bar the shouting.

Hyland added his sixth for the game and the Saints were victorious.

While Hyland's six goals were timely for the Saints, Podobnik and Joel Virtanen added two each as well.

For Kongorong, Michael Waters kicked three goals, while Jett Attard and Cameron Sanderoock kicked two each.

Logan Gibbs, Thomson, Brodie Parsons, Jacob Hutchesson, Joel Virtanen and Ty Dinnison were named best for Nangwarry, while no names were put forward for the Hawks.

While the celebrations would have been somewhat subdued compared to the Saints' drought-breaking victory last year, the win helps Nangwarry remain in with a chance of moving up off the bottom rung of the ladder.

The Saints currently sit bottom, with only percentage separating them and Kongorong.

Roosters stand tall against Mount Burr

ROBE 59 d MOUNT BURR 36

IT was an even even start to the Mid South East netball Round 8 clash for Robe and Mount Burr, with both teams driving the ball strongly in their attack line. Mount Burr wing attack Ella Easterby drove strong to the circle and fed the goalies with strength.

Mount Burr's Laura Schultz and Robe's Annie Hunter had a strong contesting game though the centre. Robe goalies Demi Carter and Tori Gluyas worked the circle well, making space and creating opportunities for wing attack Lucy Perkins to feed with accuracy.

The defensive pressure from both sides forced errors which were capitalised on by the goalies. Mount Burr goal attack Lauren Wheeler moved well to create space in the circle and finished accurately. The scores were even at quarter time with 12 goals apiece.

Defensive pressure from Robe's goal defence Emma Grant made the first few goals difficult for Mount Burr, with deflections meaning Clark and Wheeler had to present front to have scoring opportunities.

Easterby continued to be a driving force onto the ring, working patiently with Schultz to feed the goalies. Gluyas continued to be a strong presence in the goal circle for Robe, making space and holding strongly to receive the ball. Megan Thiele worked well defensively at Goal Keeper, but Mount Burr made passing errors meaning they were unable to convert from turnovers.

TOP GAME: Lucy Perkins was named in Robe's best players on Saturday. Picture: FILE

Hunter continued to combine well with Perkins, using angles around the circle to position effectively when feeding goalies.

Robe's defensive structure forced errors and safely delivered the ball into goalies to create a handy 11-goal lead at the half time break.

Robe made changes, bringing Georgia Perkins into goal keeper to add more height to the defensive circle. It paid off, with Robe rebounding any missed shots, with transition down court through Hunter and Perkins ensuring shots were scored.

Gluyas and Carter continued to combine well in Robe's goal circle, presenting strongly to the ball and finishing off with accuracy.

Caitlyn Payne moved to wing attack for Mount Burr and combined well with Schultz to feed goalies. The Mozzies settled with passes, having patience to limit unforced errors, while Robe made the most of any turnovers to extend the lead by a further three goals.

Mount Burr made more changes, bringing youngster Ashlee Dean on for her second game of A Grade for the club.

Schultz moved into goals and Easterby to the centre. Gluyas went to the bench, with Halle Carter coming on at goal attack, with her drive and movement creating space in the circle. Easterby and Hunter had a close contest in the centre, with both creating space and drive for their respective teams.

Any turnovers Mount Burr took in defence were closely contested by Robe, with pressure over passes causing errors. The Carter sisters continued to score with accuracy, making it difficult for Mount Burr to limit the damage.

Schultz drove hard into the circle, creating space and a presence for Easterby and Payne to feed, but Robe continued to make the most of turnovers which ended up making a difference on the score board.

Hunter continued to feed the goalies with precision passes and Robe's accuracy in goals helped them to a solid win. Best players for the victors were Perkins and Ellen Ramke, with Ella Easterby and Caitlyn Payne best for the Mozzies.

Golfers windy day at seaside

A small field of 38 SE Veterans golfers attacked the Kingston course on a windy day last week.

The Division 2 was blitzed by the trio all playing together led by Bob O'Connor with 36 points, 29 to Arthur Niejalke and Alex Joukoff with 27.

Division 1 went to Wally Altschwager with 34 points, from Peter Emetlis 32 and Viv Bennison 31.

Low scoring was not expected, but it meant the ball rundown was back down to 24 points.

The nearest to pins went to Kenny McIntyre, Alex Juokoff, Brian Prosser and Colin Rex.

Terry Chant got the Scotch and the prized Ross Orchard trophy was won by Baz Turnbull and Brenton Speck.

The next outing for the SE Veterans is at Bordertown on June 19, then on to Lucindale on July 3.

CLASS: Jack Casey takes a tough contested mark during Kalangadoo's win over Hatherleigh on Saturday.

MOVING FORWARD: Kalangadoo's Sam McManus moves the ball forward during the Magpies win on Saturday.

Magpies hold firm

By Trevor Jackson

KALANGADOO 16.12 (108) D
HATHERLEIGH 15.10 (100)

A late charge from Hatherleigh was not enough to claim the win in the Mid South East football grand final re-match on Saturday.

Kalangadoo was too strong in the first three terms in the Round 8 clash and set up its victory with a third-quarter burst.

The opening term saw the Magpies pepper the goals, with five goals and four behinds to hold a 13-point advantage at the first break.

The second quarter favoured the Eagles by a few behinds, with just nine points separating the two sides at the main break.

The third quarter belonged to the Magpies, as they came out refreshed after the break and caught the Eagles napping.

They banged on six major scores to Hatherleigh's four and extended the lead to 25 points.

That made for an exciting final quarter of football, with the Eagles chasing hard to close the deficit.

Despite adding three extra goals than the Magpies, it was not enough to reel in the margin and the Magpies celebrated.

Ben Gregory was in good touch up forward, finishing the game with four major scores for the victors.

Dylan Bromley, Jack Casey and Alex Lyon all kicked three goals.

Liam Hay, Lachy Jones, Bromley, Bradley Auld, Gregory and Sam McManus were named best for the victors.

For Hatherleigh, Jed Telfer, Jase Bateman, Thom Hutchesson, Michael Telford and Jake Wight were best.

Smokin'! No standing on ceremony here

KALANGADOO 71 D HATHERLEIGH 49

Kalangadoo celebrated Australian Indigenous Round for Round 8 of Mid South East netball, with both clubs joining the football teams to participate in a pre-game smoking ceremony performed by Tim Brennan.

The match started at a quick pace, with both goal circles finding space with ease and converting accurately.

Hatherleigh's Maddie Pulmer and Demi Vanderhorst worked overtime to unsettle the Kalangadoo defence of Lara Munro and Reanna Wetherall.

Erin Watson and Rosie Nettle worked hard to find the space in the mid-court, with Kalangadoo forcing them to work hard for every ball.

Kalangadoo was the first team to settle and take a slight advantage, going to the first break 19 to 15.

Both teams remained unchanged going into the second quarter, which was again an even contest. Hatherleigh tightened up its full-court defence and caused mid-court turnovers to give their goalies plenty of scoring opportunities.

Hatherleigh finished the quarter strong and able to reduce the margin to three goals at the main break.

Kalangadoo made just one change at the main break, bringing Georgia Duncan into goal defence and Lara Munro moving back to goal keeper.

Hatherleigh remained unchanged.

The new defensive combination had an immediate impact on the momentum of the game, with Georgia Duncan settling quickly to combine with Munro to turn the ball over for Kalangadoo and add scoreboard pressure to allow the Magpies to go to the final break 55 to 42 up.

Hatherleigh maintained its work rate for the final quarter, but was unable to reduce the margin.

Lara MacGregor and Elly Redden contested every possession and got their hands to some rebounds to give their side some more scoring opportunities, but the Magpies forged ahead with the final margin of 22 goals.

The Indigenous Round Medal Winner was Kalangadoo's Abbey Duncan.

Best players for the victors were Ebony McDiarmid and Jane Auld, while Palmer and Vanderhorst were best for Hatherleigh.

IN FRONT: Demi Vanderhorst takes a pass.

FOCUSED: Kalangadoo's Chloe Peacock looks to take possession.

IMPRESSIVE GAME: Ebony McDiarmid was named Kalangadoo's best player after the Magpies defeated Hatherleigh.

Hawks to strong for Nangwarry

KONGORONG 51 D NANGWARRY 19

Nangwarry and Kongorong hit the court running in Round 8 of Mid South East netball on Saturday.

The Kongorong defence applied lots of pressure to force Nangwarry into numerous passing errors.

Kongorong's Emily Lightbody made it difficult to get ball to goalers with her tight defensive pressure.

Evie Sealey moved and shot well for the Hawks and they led by nine goals at quarter time.

Kongorong continued to apply plenty of pressure after the break, with some floating through the middle making it hard for Nangwarry to bring the ball down the court to their goalers.

Rachel Perry ran well through the middle, providing plenty of options and feeding well.

Kongorong goalers started to move ball around well even with some great defence from Nangwarry's Kayla Gray, who took numerous intercepts.

At the main break Kongorong led Nangwarry 27-8.

Nangwarry made changes at the break, with Cassie Dinnison to wing attack, Tahlia Wilson to goal attack and Hayley Vanderhorst to goal shooter, which seemed to have a positive impact for the Saints.

Through Dinnison, Nangwarry was able to drive hard onto the ring with some patient feeding.

Wilson also stepped up to provide plenty of options for the Nangwarry feeders and finishing off well.

Carly Ploenges and Gray continued to work hard, with Gray still intercepting numerous balls even though Tilah Buckingham moved and positioned well for the Hawks.

Kongorong had a 26-goal lead going into the final quarter.

Kongorong again picked up in defence to force the Nangwarry goalers to work hard.

Nangwarry started to make poor choices, with Lightbody and Riley Buckingham picking off numerous balls.

Nangwarry's Alice Circelli lifted, running well for her team, picking off numerous balls and having a good tussle with Perry.

Tilah Buckingham came off with an injury with five minutes to go, meaning Riley Buckingham went into goals and Jasmin McKinnon into defence.

It did not slow Kongorong down, as Nangwarry rushed too much in attack with their passing, giving it straight to Kongorong.

Kongorong ran away with the game with a 51-19 victory.

Best players for the victors were Lightbody and Perry, with Wilson and Gray best for Nangwarry.

IN CONTROL: Emily Lightbody played a strong game in Kongorong's victory on Saturday.

Tigers set win up in big third term

By Trevor Jackson

TANTANOOLA 12.16 (88) d
GLENCOE 7.12 54

IN what was possibly one of the upsets of the Mid South East football Round 8 games, Tantanoola claimed a strong victory over Glencoe to throw further interest in the 2023 season.

It was a strong display from the Tigers, who won every quarter bar the last.

After leading by a tentative six points at the first break, the Tigers then banged on four major scores and six behinds, while holding the Murphies to just four behinds.

That opened the margin to 32 points at the long break and put the Tigers in the ideal position to claim a much-needed victory.

An even bigger third term all-but put the game to bed, with the Tigers up by a healthy 50-point margin at the final break.

Glencoe then ran the game out well, with three major scores while holding the Tigers goal-less, but it was too little, too late, as Tantanoola celebrated with a comfortable 34-point victory.

Goals were shared around for the victors, with Jack Dawe, Troy Hatt, Chris McCallum and Matthew Sorella all kicking two goals.

For Glencoe, only Alex Hentschke kicked multiple goals, with three to his name.

For the victors, Troy Hatt, Dawe, Braydn Reilly, Cade Kelly and McCallum were named best, while for Glencoe, the honours went to Sam Giersch, Trent Hawke, Dylan Childs, Tom Edwards, Jack Edmonds and Hentschke.

Glencoe sits down in sixth spot on the ladder, just one rung ahead of Tantanoola and eight points behind the fifth-placed Hatherleigh.

Roosters prove too strong for Mozzies

By Trevor Jackson

ROBE 10.16 (76) d MOUNT BURR 9.6 (60)

ROBE continued its unbeaten run in the 2023 Mid South East football season, with a 16-point victory over Mount Burr on Saturday.

The Roosters had to fight back after a fast first-quarter run from the Mozzies, with the latter leading by six points at the first break.

That was turned around in the second term, where the Roosters put on two major scores and plenty of behinds to take an eight-point lead to the long break.

From there the Mozzies struggled to keep pace, as the Roosters continued to push forward, while limiting time in possession for Mount Burr's forward pack.

Robe extended its lead further in the third term, taking a 14-point advantage to the last quarter and leaving plenty for the Mozzies to do.

Once again there was little in the contest, but the Roosters did enough to hold off a determined Mozzies roster and claim the win.

Nathan Brown and Joel Bryant kicked three goals each for the victors, with the remainder shared around in singles.

Dylan Ridley topped the list for the Mozzies, also with three majors, while Jack Gregory and Josh Wallis added two each.

Thomas Miller, Henry Lawrie, Bailey Walker, Kaden Woodward, Benjamin Dinning and Jordan Pettit were named best for Robe, while Sam Wallis, Jackson Dean, Jack Muhovics, Peter Guyett, Josh Fiebig and Cory Gamble were best for Mount Burr.

IN CHARGE: Robe coach Nathan Brown had his players in good form again on Saturday as they claimed a win over Mount Burr to remain unbeaten at the top of the ladder. Picture: FILE

Murphies apply the pressure

GLENCOE 56 d TANTANOOLA 47

GLENCOE claimed a hard-fought victory over Tantanoola in Round 8 of Mid South East netball on Saturday.

The Murphies were without Chantelle Cocks, but had the inclusion of last year premierships player Malinda Markiewicz (Foster) at goal shooter.

Tantanoola recorded the first goal through Keryl Ousey, with Glencoe missing the first, but was rebounded by Jenna Paproth to score.

Glencoe got off to a small lead with Tantanoola pegging it back as Emma Gould and Ousey's height became a problem for the Glencoe defenders.

Only two goals separated the sides at the first break.

Tantanoola moved Kate Bromley to goal keeper and Tayla Rowe to goal defence at the start of the second quarter.

The Tigers showed some good transition, with Ousey shooting a long bomb to close the gap.

However, Glencoe stepped up the mid-court pressure causing wayward passes by Tantanoola to go to the break three goals up.

Tantanoola changed Casey Walker to wing attack and Jami Walker to wing defence at half time, while Glencoe remained unchanged for the game.

Glencoe started strongly with patient feeding from Donna Jaeschke and Alice Tentye.

Tantanoola pushed back with a number of intercepts from Tayla Rowe, but Glencoe continued to have answers and took care of their possessions.

Passing turnovers from Tantanoola were punished by Foster and Paproth who slotted back into a familiar combination from the 2022 season.

Chelsea Owen and Sarah Edwards created opportunities for their side with tight checking defence.

Going into the last quarter Glencoe held a 40-34 lead, with Tantanoola scoring the first goal.

Casey Walker's tight checking provided an early intercept, along with another from Rowe as the Tigers tried to push back the score line, but Glencoe had all the answers.

The Murphies' transition down court under the direction of Jaeschke was finished off with the experience, screens and accuracy from Foster and Paproth.

Foster finished with 40 of the 56 of Glencoe's goals and was a focal point, finishing with a long shot with just a second to go.

Best players for the victors were Owen and Jaeschke, with Rowe and Casey Walker best for Tantanoola.

Tough losses for Penola

SENIOR COLTS - PAD/LUC 4.13 (37) d PENOLA 1.5 (11)

It was a tough day at the office for Penola's Senior Colts footballers, who suffered a defeat to a visiting Padthaway/Lucindale on Saturday.

Despite some strong efforts it took until the final quarter for the Eagles to find the big sticks, bringing their final score to 11 points.

Meanwhile the combined team kicked a goal in every term but struggled with accuracy to finish up with a return of 4.13.

Alexander Pitt was the main damage dealer for Padthaway/Lucindale and he scored two goals in a best-on-ground performance.

Penola looked to Ned Skeer on the day and his efforts coming off the half-back line earned him the best player honours.

Tom Currie was also solid and he kicked the solitary goal for the Eagles, while Finn Skeer, Jace Minge, Joseph McCarthy and Toby Zerk also impressed.

JUNIOR COLTS - PAD/LUC 3.6 (24) d PENOLA 2.5 (17)

The Eagles' Junior Colts played Lucindale/Padthaway on Saturday, with the guests the favourites coming into the game.

The PaddyRoos came out firing in the first quarter putting a lot of pressure on the Penola defensive line.

Joe Barnes worked hard in defence to minimize the scoreboard pressure, conceding just one goal for the term.

Penola started to find its feet in the second quarter and matched the opposition with strong intensity.

Charlie Pearce led the way with imposing physicality which seemed to ignite his team.

Penola went into the half time break down by 11 points.

The third quarter was dominated by the home side led by George Berkin who kicked two goals on his way to a best-on-ground performance.

One of his goals was a good solo effort with a run from halfway and a beautiful kick to finish.

The Eagles started to play some good team football with strong linking position from the backline between Luc Baverstock, Will Harris and Joel Crawford.

As such Penola went into the final change down by just three points.

The final quarter was an evenly-matched affair with neither side able to take the game away. Mawson Kidman worked hard in the ruck to give the Eagles first use but they were unable to capitalize.

The PaddyRoos kicked the only goal of the fourth with three minutes to go which ensured a narrow victory to the away side.

Despite the loss it was one of the best games this year for Penola and gives the team promise for the remainder of the season.

The club sends goof luck to Ben Copping, Finn Skeer and George Berkin in the Junior Colts and Ned Skeer, Lochy Neale and Thomas Currie (emergency) in the Senior Colts Interleague squads playing at Bordertown this weekend.

Near-perfect round for intense Penola netballers

The Eagles found themselves down at half time, with some changes swung to try and turn things around.

They found more space in the third quarter and the transition down court improved, which put Penola in front at the final break.

The last quarter was not as strong from the hosts but they held on for another win.

Kim Wilson and Tara Millard were named best on the day.

B GRADE - PENOLA 61 d LUCINDALE 31

The 24-goal margin did not reflect the strong standard Lucindale brought to the B Grade court against Penola on Saturday.

The game was fast paced and the defensive pressure from Lucindale down court made the Eagles work hard for every goal scored.

The game slowed down in the final quarter which only then allowed Penola to push out the scoreline and settle back into its own playing capabilities.

Monique Maney and Lauren Moore stood up as the best on court for the victors, in what was a good challenge to prepare the Eagles for the coming weeks.

With both Mundulla and Penola undefeated so far this campaign, their next game will be one to watch after this week's bye for the long weekend.

C GRADE - PENOLA 40 d LUCINDALE 15

Penola's C Grade played its first game with a full side, despite a few niggling injuries.

The result was a powerful win over Lucindale, with a 25-goal margin at the final whistle.

Lucy Catlin worked overtime in the defensive circle and put plenty of pressure over the ball.

Alice Auld and Eva Manarangi converted turnovers and were pushing not to give away goal attempts, with the former shooting 27 goals for the match.

A little congestion in the middle made some passes hard to get down but it was a solid effort from the Eagles.

Leticia Gosse and Catlin excelled and they received the best-on-court honours.

DIVISION 2 - PENOLA 30 d LUCINDALE 21

The Division 2 girls played a strong game to win 30-21.

The enjoyment was clear to see and the young Eagles strung together some good passages of play.

The Toffee and Treats best player awards went to Macey O'Brien and Grace McCarthy.

DIVISION 3 - PENOLA 15 lt LUCINDALE 46

It was a tough outing for Penola's Division 3 side against Lucindale.

However, the Eagles continue to improve each week and had some good passages where they linked the play and moved the ball well.

It was positive to see them driving to meet the ball and having options.

Best players for the day were Maddie Ellery and Ellie Healy.

Penola now has a few games off in the grade and will look to come back fresh and ready for the second half of the season.

13A - PENOLA 43 d LUCINDALE 18

Despite the convincing end score, Penola engaged in a scrappy first half against Lucindale in the 13A's.

There were plenty of turnovers at both end, but after half time the hosts settled into the game and had some nice passages of play down the court.

Makenna Williams worked tirelessly in defence all game and earned the Kaboom Entertainment award, while Poppy Flint provided good options and drive down the court to also earn the best player award.

13C

Kirsty's 13C's played a good game on the weekend, with some good passages of play finished off nicely by goalies.

At the other end the defensive pressure caused a lot of turnovers that the girls used to their advantage.

The Kaboom Entertainment award went to Ruby Hackwill who played well in defence and attack.

Meanwhile Kim's 13C team swapped it up each quarter this week to trial different combinations.

The girls took each change in their stride and worked hard to put training plays into action on game day.

This resulted in some good passages of play, with Henna Malone best on court for the game.

KNTFL aims to impress on home deck in title defence

By James Murphy

The Kowree Naracoorte Tatiara Football League will aim to defend its Interleague title this Saturday against its Western Border rivals.

Last year the KNTFL defeated Mid South East on foreign soil, but this time they will have the home-ground advantage playing at Bordertown.

As per the format of recent years, the three South East football leagues rotate the chance to play a single full-length match against one of their counterparts, opposed to the several shortened games of yesteryear.

Mundulla coach Nick Davis takes the reins of the Interleague side for the second year and he is eager to see what his team can produce this time around.

The roster differs from last year, with player unavailability often a factor with such games.

"We are going to be a fairly young side," Davis said.

"We will probably have eight Under 21's I reckon and there will be a fair few (first timers)."

Davis thought around half of the team may be taking their first plunge into senior Interleague football.

However, he said the three training sessions went well and everyone was coming together as a team.

Amongst the fresh talent there remains plenty of experience and the side is expected to remain competitive.

"I am looking forward to seeing Tom Whittlesea play again," Davis said.

"He kicked six or seven (goals) in last year's game.

"He is combining with another Bordertown boy in Jacob Eats playing forward this year.

UP FORWARD: Bordertown's Jacob Eats slots into the KNTFL Interleague side again this year, with his presence to be felt in the forward line. Pictures: FILE

"He is also tall and really athletic."

On top of that there will be some talented youth on field, along with some exciting new faces.

"Zac Peake from Naracoorte is new to the league and he has put his hand up which is great," Davis said.

"He is a full forward so hopefully he can kick some goals as well."

When asked of his opponent, Davis said his knowledge of the Western Border league was limited, but he had some idea on what to expect.

"I know a few of them through my involvement in the zone side last year," he said.

"I coach Mundulla and we played them in the Covid year as well, so I know a little bit about a few of them.

"We hope we will match up okay and give it a red-hot crack."

Davis also looked forward to playing at Bordertown, which he hoped would give KNTFL an edge.

"We are on one of our home decks and all of the boys have played there a fair bit," he said.

"Opposed to last year when we headed to Kongorong and no one had every played there before.

"We have a pretty basic game plan - just go out there and win the footy and keep the pressure high."

Penola coach Brad Maney will aid Davis this year as assistant coach, while Whittlesea

Saint coaches inter-league

By James Murphy

Regular football and netball takes its annual pause this week but the June long weekend brings rep football under the spotlight with the 2023 Interleague Carnival pencilled in at Bordertown.

This year the Western Border Football League gears up for the senior match against Kowree Naracoorte Tatiara, with Mid South East rotated out.

Three-time Millicent premiership coach Clint Gallio has taken on the coaching duties of the WBFL side this year.

It will be his first time coaching the Interleague squad, which is a challenge he said brings both excitement and nerves.

However, he will be well supported throughout the process, while his own accolades speak volumes to his coaching ability.

"Frazer Scanlon and Brett O'Neil are going to help me out on the bench - hopefully I'll be playing," Gallio said.

"They have been really good and I have had some good conversations with them.

"I am really looking forward to the challenge."

Gallio said the first training session went well last week, while they hit the track again on Tuesday with the third and final session held tonight prior to Saturday's game.

He is excited to see what the group is capable of, with a good pool to choose from.

"The blokes who have put their hands up in these sorts of things want to challenge themselves and try the next level," Gallio said.

"I have been a big supporter of Interleague for many years and I love putting my hand up.

"Rep footy is pretty cool and good to be a part of."

There is plenty of talent in the side and everyone has been gelling well and enjoying the process.

"We are really keen and having some fun with it," Gallio said.

"We have a really good group and there are a couple of other coaches there in Kainy (Brayden Kain) and Roo (Daron McElroy), they have both put their hands up which has been really handy.

"Sam Stafford has put his hand up this year - I am really looking forward to seeing him at this level.

"He is obviously a great player and Nick McInerney is always good at these games too.

"They are a couple to look forward to already."

There is no shortage of experience in the mix, but on the flip side there will also be some who take to the senior Interleague stage for the first time.

"I think we have a good solid mix - we are pretty solid back and forward," Gallio said.

"I am really looking forward to seeing how everyone goes at this level."

As per carnival requirements there will be a minimum of five Under 21's in the side, of which Gallio said most will be playing their first senior rep game.

The final team will be announced tonight along with jumper presentations following the final training session.

'Execution' is word of day

By Trevor Jackson

An even start to the Kowree Naracoorte Tatiara Round 7 fixture saw Penola in with a chance against reigning premiers Lucindale on Saturday.

The home-ground advantage provided familiar turf, but after trailing by just seven points at the first break, it all began to go pear-shaped.

Penola could only find two behinds in the second term, while Lucindale stretched its lead to 20 points.

The third term saw the Eagles again keep pace, losing the quarter by just three points, but still trailing by 23 points heading into the final stanza.

The game finished as it began, with an even quarter of football, but with Lucindale claiming the honours by 27 points.

There were no big goal kickers for Penola, with Josh Currie, Brodie Foster and coach Brad Maney contributing two each.

Bradley Bryant, Jordan Galpin, Jayden Eldridge, Tom Williams, Jacob Robbie and Foster were named best for the Eagles.

For Maney there was plenty to take from the game.

"We had effort ... it was our execution with ball in hand which let us down," he said. "We lost two players in the first quarter which didn't help, but we had enough of the ball to have a different result. We let ourselves down."

The strong start to the game is something Maney said was not uncommon lately, but holding on for the full four quarters did not happen.

"The last two games we have started well and managed to win the contest, but they beat us on the spread, which was disappointing on our bigger oval at home," he said. "We pride ourselves on our running game, but unfortunately they were able to get ahead of the ball, especially Hamish Gordon. He was dominant early."

Gordon kicked three goals for Lucindale, but it was Josh Trembath who caused as many issues for the Penola defenders with his four majors.

"Trembath probably should have kicked a few more," Maney said.

"He missed a few he would normally kick, but we lost Brad Merrett in the first quarter and he is probably the best centre-half-back in the league.

"That threw our structures out and we were scratching a bit from there.

"We did regroup and get to within a few points in the third quarter, but they were able to kick away again."

At the main break Maney said there was a focus on ball movement.

Garrett Ha looks for an option.

He said his players needed to settle down more with the ball in hand, but mistakes began to creep in.

"We were going far too frantic and making horrible mistakes," Maney said.

"It was probably some of our better players making mistakes as well which is a bit unheard of.

"We did tidy that up and managed to get on top, but they are a classy side, with premier-ship success and know how to settle a game down when they need to."

While Lucindale had more possession in the final quarter, the Eagles managed to arrest their forward forays and apply enough pressure to cause wayward shots.

That in itself was a positive for Maney.

"The 2022 Penola side would have lost by 100 points on Saturday," he said.

"They would have let Lucindale run all over us.

"We do have a lot of growth and we are fit, so hopefully we can start to get some wins on the board."

Unfortunately Brad Merrett will be out for four to five weeks with a broken hand, which will make life difficult for the coach.

"That is massive for us," Maney said.

"We will welcome back Drew Clayfield next game which will help our height, but you don't replace a player like Brad, so we will just have to find ways to go around it."

For now Penola has a week off to regroup while the Interleague competition goes ahead.

It is a break welcomed by Maney.

"It has come at the right time for us," he said.

"It is time to stop and rest and then hopefully turn the tables on these side that have beaten us in the first half of the year."

Near-perfect round for intense Penola netballers

A GRADE - PENOLA 63 d LUCINDALE 42

Penola's A Grade netball team claimed a strong 21-goal win over a visiting Lucindale in Round 7 of Kowree Naracoorte Tatiara netball.

The Eagles came out with intensity and led by as much as seven goals in the first quarter, off the back of some solid defensive work.

Lucindale coach Trudy Lane caused some havoc in goal keeper but April Possingham was tough to beat with some sleek movement and fantastic shooting.

Lucindale's Nikki Smart was also tight in goal defence with reliable hands and she drove well out of defence to help her team back within three goals at quarter time.

A change up in the defensive circle with Chelsea Galpin to wing defence and Jordy Adams to goal defence proved beneficial for Penola.

Some big high hands pressure from Galpin and Siobhan Adams allowed for Jordy Adams and Brooke Klemm to get their hands onto lobs into the circle.

There was no easy feed and Lucindale's goalies had to work hard to find space.

In the second term the Eagles managed to convert more turnovers as Possingham and Tegan Lythgo demonstrated good movement.

Siobhan Adams was again in good form and gained many turnovers through the mid-court.

She drove beautifully and fed her goalies with pin-point accuracy to earn herself best-on-court for the day.

Although Lucindale's press was difficult to get through at times, Jordy Adams showed good vision and was often able to skip the mess, which in turn allowed for some strong drives onto the circle's edge.

Penola managed to push its lead out to 10 at the half-time break.

The third quarter for Lucindale was its strongest moving Lane to goal attack while Chloe Cane entered the game at wing attack.

Sophie Hurst moved to goal defence and both Lane and Jess Bitsner converted well, winning the quarter 18-17.

However, in the last quarter the Eagles proved too strong and continued to push out their lead.

They finished well to win the quarter 20-8 and push the margin out to 21.

Siobhan Adams and Possingham were best for Penola.

A RESERVE - PENOLA 52 d LUCINDALE 45 Penola's A Reserves faced a strong Lucindale outfit on Saturday for a seven-goal win.

The first two quarters were hard fought and both teams struggled to gain the upper hand.
